IS THE HUMANE SOCIETY
GOING TO THE DOGS?

If information received is correct, all the "humane" aspect of the Toronto Humane Society is for the dogs, cats and other species in which they are interested.

Certainly none of it is for the dog-catcher they employ.

Here is an instance of a man whose job is very important and can be dangerous. He works six days a week, covers a vast area of countryside without help in all kinds of weather. He is not covered by unemployment insurance, gets no meals paid for while away from home, and while allowed a week's-holiday he is paid for none, not even statutory, holidays.

Due to eight years of war service it is necessary for him to do outside work. His left leg, which was blasted with shrapnel, becomes in damp weather very uncomfortable to live with. He was honorably discharged without pension.

Along with catching dogs, he is in danger of catching bites which could be contaminated with rabies. He is on call 24 hours of the day and at any hour may be expected to rescue some pet from a dangerous position.

His pay? Hold your breath! $35 a week!

Shame, you say? Well, there it is.

In this case the animals get the best of the deal. Is this the best a prosperous Canada can do for our returned men whose jobs are rated as important?

Let's ask for an honest answer. Signed:

LET'S BE FAIR.

DAMAGE $1500 WHEN LOAD
SHIFTS IN DUMP TRUCK

Extensive damage of $1500 was caused to a dump truck yesterday when the truck mechanism acted up.

A truck driven by George Burgers, Snelgrove, was about to dump a load of gravel on the 9th Line near the highway corner. The load shifted and the dumping portion was torn from the chassis, smashing the truck cab.

Gus Ryder (left), world famous swimming coach is seen chatting with Douglas Peck, a young victim of muscular dystrophy, and Dr. David Green, Toronto physician, who is first vice president of The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada, at the time of the organization's annual meeting. Mr. Ryder has just announced that he will again act as honorary chairman of the Association's 1937 campaign for funds.

During the past two years, with Mr. Ryder at the helm, and the assistance of hundreds of Canadian fire departments and other service organizations, nearly $200,000 has been raised by voluntary donations to begin an intensive research effort to try to find the cause, and it is hoped, a cure for this presently fatal disease. Already there are sixteen projects underway at various universities and medical institutions across Canada, and additional projects are scheduled to begin soon. Stepping up the program could save thousands of lives.

Gus Ryder's work with handicapped children and adults is well known and since The Muscular Dystrophy Association was formed three years ago, he has given freely of his time and effort to further its object. The bulk of the money raised is devoted to research at present, since there is no known cause or cure. However, three clinics are now operating to find the victims of muscular dystrophy and help them as much as possible.

Finalize Plans For
Sept. Interlude

Last Monday, (Labour Day) their was no regular meeting of the Rotary Club. It was felt that with the long week-end many members of the group would be away.

A week ago the club had their usual dinner meeting at Fairview Inn, with a good turnout, and two visitors, one from the Acton club and the other from Milton.

After dinner a sing-song was held before the general business session.

A directors' meeting was held after this meeting at the home of Bob Burns, and final plans were made for the 'September Interlude' and afternoon tea, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beaumont, Glen Williams, on Sunday, September 8th at 2:00 p.m. This musical treat is being promoted by the club to create greater interest in our local musical organization, the Georgetown Brass and Reed Band.

A group of the Rotary club are in charge of having everything ready for the day, with Bill Hamilton, the club's vice-president supervising building of a platform that the band may be seen to advantage. A large crowd is expected for this affair.

Several other business matters were dealt with before the meeting adjourned.
