Will Add Second Guard for Dangerous School Crossing

The large number of children attending Chapel Street School from the George Street, Churchill Crescent and Cloverdale area has necessitated a change of location for the school crossing lane. The safety lane was originally placed across the highway at Cross St. to accommodate children attending the Chapel Street school from the downtown and park districts. However, the majority of these now attend either Wigglesworth or Harrison public schools. With the new system the children will be taken from the south side of Georgetown across Main to the Monument by a new crossing guard; from there the present guard Art Herbert will take them across the highway. To date present pupils from that area have had to navigate Main St. during the rush hour on their own.

The subject of schools letting the pupils out early on days when rain prevents an outdoor recess was dealt with by the board following a flood of complaints from annoyed parents who have driven to school at four to find that the children were let out early. The parents contend that they would like to know just

MRS. PEARCE IS FLOWER JUDGE AT COLLINGWOOD

Mrs. Ernie Pearce, who with her husband operates Rosedale Floral in town, was flower judge this year at the Great Northern Exhibition at Collingwood.

It was the second year that Mrs. Pearce had served in this capacity and she made the trip last Friday to do the judging.

THREE LADIES COMBINE OPERATIONS AT K'S GRILL

K's Grill, a main Street restaurant which has been closed for some time, has reopened under the management of three local ladies.

Mrs. Frank Penson, her daughter Mrs. Kay Rundle, and Mrs. Bob McPherson have opened the restaurant. It is a return to Main St. for Mrs. Penson, who several years ago operated a restaurant business in the same building, and later across the street where Wigo Television now has a store.
