Builders Discuss Forming Stock Company for Town Developing

Membership Drive on for Canadian Concert Series

A membership campaign for the Canadian Concert Association of Georgetown is being carried on this week.
 Heading the local organization is a board of directors comprising Bruce M. Harding, president; Kenneth R. Harrison, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Townsend, secretary, and Donald Wingrove, treasurer.

The association, which brought three outstanding concerts to town in its first year, of organization last year, is planning a similar booking this year, with talent dependent on the number of subscribers to the series.

Formed last year, the association believes that leading artists deserve the support of the Canadian public and should be heard in this area. The association is affiliated with Concert Associations of Canada which was formed in 1951 by Wallace Young, well-known in education circles and for his work in school music.

As often as possible the most brilliant young artists are presented along with a featured artist, as it is the policy of the association to provide the most promising young people with engagements, experience and, of course, remuneration with which to help them continue their studies.

Says William J. Stapleton, Toronto executive and president of the North Yonge association: "We were a bit hesitant about the whole idea at first, but the more we thought about it, the better we liked the idea of hearing our leading artists in person. The artists will have the well-deserved benefit of our monetary support, and we will have the pleasure of welcoming them to our community in three or four grand evenings of music each year."

Unanimous approval was given by those attending the regular monthly meeting of North Halton Builders Association last Thursday, to a proposal to incorporate a new public stock company for the purpose of constructing commercial and industrial buildings in Georgetown.

The meeting was attended by over 60 builders, sub-contractors and suppliers. Members pledged themselves to invest a percentage of their future earnings in stock of the company which would be capitalized for at least $1,000. It was also agreed that the general public would have an opportunity at a later date to subscribe for stock in the company if they so desired.

A committee was appointed to pursue the plan in more detail and report back at the next meeting which will be held on November 7th. Committee members are: D. Satok, G. F. Winger, Harold Baird, J. Macky, Harold Fobert, Rex Heslop and Wm. B. Hamilton.

JOB PRINTING - OUR SPECIALTY!

Thanks for the memories . . .

... the memories of days when I was haunted by a shovel, and hauling ashes was a weekly chore . . . the memories of days when filmy greasy walls and furniture caused so many cleaning bills . . . and the memories of delivery noises (at any hour of the day or night) . . . what happened?
 What brought about these memories?
 Well, I've done away with old fashioned fuels and installed automatic gas heat.
 I'm relaxed — and why not? I don't have a worry in the world as far as heating goes. On these variable fall days and nights, my automatic gas furnace keeps the house at an even comfortable temperature. No over-heating; no opening windows to cool the place off during the day.

Just plain comfort . . . that's what gas heat gives you. Why not call TR. 7-3921 as I did and discover how easy it is to convert to gas heat . . . and relax with me.
