Fine Entertainment for Georgetown

Lovers of good music in this area will not have to go out of town to hear "live" performances by favourite concert artists. This is the word from the executive of the Canadian Concert Association of Georgetown which is planning its second season, with not less than three concerts being booked.

The association presented three worthwhile concerts last year in the auditorium of Knox Church, and met a fine response by the Georgetown public. The concerts have a two-fold purpose. Besides bringing talent to towns which ordinarily might not have the opportunity to hear young Canadians in person, it encourages budding artists, giving them a chance to acquire professional aplomb on the concert stage, and to earn their living in their chosen vocation.

Fall Tourism in Ontario

Ontario residents are giving increasing recognition to the attractions of the autumn season in areas of the province once visited by tourists mainly in summer, says an editorial in the Toronto Telegram. The Tely color tours have given people the idea of wider explorations at this lovely time of year, in Muskoka and Haliburton, the editorial continues.

This new tourism is facilitated by a hitherto unequalled range of accommodation. Some large resorts are open all year, and these include the Sherwood Inn near Port Carling; Hotel Britannia, on Lake-of-Bays; Limerlost Lodge, east of Huntsville; Delawana Inn at Honey Harbor, and various places at Gravenhurst and elsewhere in Muskoka. Many good motels do a year-round

Police Warn About Rifles

The police department has asked that a seasonal warning be passed on to parents of young people who have been using air rifles, particularly in the Sunbeam Heights area.

There has been damage to public property lately, street lights and windows in the water pumping station, to mention some, and the police

An investment in Georgetown is a good one these days, and one should have no hesitation in purchasing the town 6% debentures which will shortly go on the market. It is the first time that town debentures have been sold individually, rather than in large blocks to private buyers, and there should be a brisk demand locally. Writing headlines for wedding reports is a chore which taxes an editor's ingenuity. A city couple, whose announcement appeared in the Tely recently solved all problems for a headline writer, however, when William Love and Jessie Story became man and wife. What better caption than LOVE-STORY. A city paper would have a new Member of Parliament in Halton. Reporting on a debate in the House of Commons, Peel M.P. John Pallett was referred to as the member for Halton. "Small world" department. When Mrs. Margaret Mat-

Results of a membership campaign being presently conducted will decide what artists and how many concerts it will be possible to have this year. The $5.00 fee for adults and $2.50 for students is set low enough that it will suit anyone's budget. Compared with three trips to the city, with the attendant travelling expense, it is most reasonable.

Besides Georgetown, the concert groups play such towns as Oshawa, Weston, Markham, Stouffville, Orillia and Whitby. Artists appearing here last year included the Solway String Quartette, violinist Carolyn Gunby, The Songmen and baritone Fred Hartley. Other artists who might be performing this year might include Mary Syme, Maureen Forrester, Betty-Jean Hagen, James Whicher and James Milligan.

business, and there are first-class town hotels throughout the area.

Extension of the holiday season in tourist areas will be a decided benefit to the whole Canadian tourist industry, which each year faces over-capacity bookings for a few short weeks, and often near-starvation during other parts of the summer. Perhaps a change is coming, when staggered vacations will become the custom, if not in individual plants, at least by industrial groups. There are increasing numbers of people who, when vacation comes in the Civic Holiday period, hesitate to fight their way in a traffic sea to a crowded resort where they pay prices higher than at less popular times.

The future may see a definite trend to fall and winter vacations in Ontario.

are keeping a watchful eye and intend to stop any further damage.

Parents are warned that air rifles are classified as firearms and that it is against the law to use them in town limits. Any juvenile found in possession of an air rifle will have it confiscated, it is warned, and if juveniles are discovered using them, it will lead to court action.

hers and Mrs. William Emslie arrived at Malton from Scotland, where the latter had been visiting, they stopped at the airport restaurant for a bite to eat. It was Mrs. Mathers' first visit to Canada, and she was astonished when the waitress called her by name. Turned out to be a lady who had worked in a restaurant in Mrs. Mathers' home town and had emigrated to Canada some time ago. Hard to beat the old masters when it comes to comedy, and Sunday's Jack Benny program was a classic. We aren't a regular Benny viewer but from now on we will be. His take-off on the $64,000 question was one of those treats that will always bring a chuckle to our mind. Flu, Asian or just plain Canadian, has Georgetown in its grip. School and industry have been hard hit, but it seems to be on the wane, and things should be back to normal soon. It is a particularly nasty bug and the only treatment seems to be aspirins and plenty of liquids.
