Quiet Hallowe'en, Police Report Only Minor Pranks

Despite blaring trumpets on Main Street, cackling chickens loosed in a Queen Street apartment building and the crash of a flight of steps torn from a bank near the CNR tracks, Georgetown Police described Hallowe'en night as "quiet." They were of course comparing it to the hectic time last year when local youths leaned to the trick side of the trick or treat slogan for a night of mass mischief.

This year Hallowe'en belonged to the knee high spooks totting shopping bags as local residents reported an unusually large turnout for the one night giveaway. However "tricking" was not limited to the afore mentioned instances. Calls from all over town flooded the police office. Motorists reported roadblocks in the park district, garbage cans became the new decorations for the bare trees and signs on buildings and vacant lots throughout the town changed their meaning with a change of location.

Bright lights and a heavy guard at the high school, the perennial target for mild vandalism, didn't scare off all the would be avengers, as a large "sold" sign was posted on the front of the building. Only in a couple of cases locally did the "fun" cross the border between the practical joke and wilful damage. At the Lower Paper Mill bridge a snow fence went up in flames and a window was broken in a house on Main Street North.

Hallowe'en 1957 saw little change in the tactics of pranksters as youth stuck with the conventional roadblocks, sign removals and the soaping of Main St. windows. Next year don't be too surprised if somebody writes "Kilroy was Here" all over Sputnik No. 10.

Weston Man Long-Time Canada Cycle Employee

Mrs. Clare Francis, 35 Shelley St. suffered a family bereavement last week when her father died in Humber Memorial Hospital.

A United States native who had lived most of his life in Weston district, Henry Sylvester Shephard, 69 had been an employee of Canada Cycle & Motor Co. for 55 years. His home was at 55 Renfield Ave., Weston. His death occurred on October 29th, after a few weeks' illness.

He leaves his wife and five children, Mrs. Tom Cobb, Los Angeles, California; Bertha (Mrs. Clare Francis) of town; Henry of Humber Summit; Mrs. William Dick and John of Weston. There are 17 grandchildren and one great-grandson; and one sister, Mrs. Simon Dew, Ferndale, Michigan.

The funeral service on Thursday, took place in St. Matthias Anglican Church, Weston, with interment in Sanctuary Park Cemetery.

Social & Personal

Ross Dillon, who has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. S. Robin, 71 Guelph St., for several years, is convalescing in St. Joseph's Hospital after an operation. He is progressing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Syd Orr, 4 Market St. have returned from a month's trip which took them to Winnipeg, Banff, Vancouver, Victoria and back through California, Las Vegas and Chicago. While in California they were speaking to Mrs. Wesley Carnahan, who lived in town for a year while her husband was head of the Varian Associates firm here, and she wished to be remembered to her friends in Georgetown. In Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Orr visited with Dr. J. H. Chamberlain's father, who is frequently a visitor in town.

Lieut. and Mrs. Douglas V. Latimer, Georgetown and Lieut. (E) Robert Addy and Mrs. Addy, Toronto attended the Trafalgar Ball, held aboard the HMCS York last Friday evening. It was a gala affair with Mart Kenney's Orchestra in attendance. The decorations for the dance were carried out in the theme of the "Old and the New." When we say they were carried out it is an understatement, for on the Monday prior to the dance all the decorations were burned, but in a house on Main Street North, John Morgan, and his decorating committee made a terrific effort and redid the whole design again.

Painting Demonstration Feature of Crafts Show

Against the soft green of the painted walls of Knox Church Hall the autumn decorations and displays of pottery, weaving, jewelry, leather craft and paintings made a beautiful and gala setting for the Arts & Crafts of Georgetown annual exhibition and sale of work.

Mrs. D. W. Baxter, president, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Nielsen received the guests. Mrs. H. M. Moyer was sales convener, Mrs. Ted Darlington was in charge of publicity, Miss Margery Mackenzie co-convener of the tea room took charge for Mrs. Keith Barber the convener, who was ill. Mrs. Earl Trow was the convener of the pantry shelf and treasure trove. Miss Dorothy Stone demonstrated the painting of a landscape and Mrs. Dick Shearly demonstrated the painting of a portrait.

Ammunition is Subject For Rotarian Speaker

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Georgetown was held on Monday evening of this week. There was no meeting last week as the club cancelled their meeting and met in Acton at the tri town meet, a week ago Tuesday.

There was a good attendance with a number of visitors. The meeting was opened with singing "The Queen" and Grace. Following dinner a number of guests at the dinner were introduced, including, Bill Raycroft, of the automobile firm of Herkes and Raycroft, and Tom Beer, local high school teacher, who spoke on the needs of a gymnasium, not only for students but for the public as a whole.

A number of business items were dealt with by the president, and delegates were appointed to act on the Blood Donors Clinic committee. The proposed turkey shoot came in for discussion, and the committee in charge met afterwards to discuss details of it.

The speaker of the evening was a representative of the ammunition division of C.I.L., who spoke on that subject, giving an informative and interesting address. He was kept busy answering questions of interest to all the members. The ammunition that caused the most interest was shot gun shells and the different types and loads.

The directors of the club held a meeting immediately following the dinner.

Seventy Couples Attend Church Group Party

Seventy couples attended Party Night when members of the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen and their wives had their second annual party Saturday at North Hutton Golf Club.

It was a variety evening of dancing, games and novelties, with an entertainment interlude provided by some pupils of the Vickie Lay School of Dancing. Guests were welcomed by club president, Ken Robertson and Rev. Kenneth Richardson and their wives. A buffet luncheon concluded the evening.

Dance pupils who took part were Karen Babey, Jane Bouskill, Janet Cloke, Diane Golden, Barbara Hills, Diane Greenwood, Ann Gudgeon, Christine Earl, Maureen Hepburn, Jean Ann Inglis, Valerie Kiloburn, Jackie Leggett, Julie McMillan, Christine Peterson, and Gail Young. Joy Haines was prevented by illness from performing. Piano accompaniment was played by Mrs. Campbell, Orangeville.
