WHAT COUNCIL DID

PLANNER DENIES OPINION SHIFT ON HOUSING RATIO

"I don't want to start a discussion, but I want to put the facts straight about something I said at a recent council meeting," said Cr. Ern Hyde as 1957 council business moved to a close on December 16th.

Cr. Hyde read a letter he had received from planning consultant Dr. E. G. Faludi which quoted a statement by Mr. Hyde at the December 4th council meeting, reported in the Herald as follows: "But we can't pass by the fact that four years ago we were told by an expert that a 40-60 ratio was all-important and now the same man is saying it is not important, even though the ratio is 19-81 at present."

Dr. Faludi in his letter said that a statement by him might have been misinterpreted and that he would appreciate an opportunity to clarify it.

"I called Dr. Faludi today," said Cr. Hyde, "and he says that at no time has he suggested to the town, Mr. Heslop or anyone else that the 40-60 ratio be dropped, nor has he been asked to submit any other opinion."

Cr. Hyde said that at the May 27th council meeting, Mr. Heslop had led council to believe that Dr. Faludi had made this remark.

"Dr. Faludi hasn't changed his mind and he objects to people putting words in his mouth," said Cr. Hyde.

"I remember when Delrex requested opening more land for housing and Cr. Hyde suggested the ratio would be thrown out even more if this happened, Delrex representatives said things have changed and the 40-60 ratio is not of prime importance anymore," said Cr. Fred Harrison.

"I don't recall Faludi being involved in any change of plan," said Mayor Armstrong. "If you had that opinion it wasn't necessarily the opinion of the whole council."

"I apologize to Dr. Faludi for quoting him on something he didn't say," said Cr. Hyde, as the discussion ended "but I would also defend myself by saying I was led to believe that he had said it."

When Sid Hardie, president of East Georgetown Ratepayers Association expressed disappointment that by the time new candidates for council had an opportunity to speak at the nomination meeting, many of those attending the meeting had gone home, Reeve Stan Allen injected a humorous note into the meeting.

Mr. Hardie asked if it would be possible another year to have candidates speak earlier and leave some of the council and board reports till later. If people are really interested in municipal affairs, they know what is in the reports anyway, through attending meetings and reading the paper, Mr. Hardie said.

"Don't spoil council's chance to get even with ratepayers who come to council meetings, talk until ten o'clock and then go out for a coffee while we have to continue on till midnight with our business," said the Reeve. "This is one night a year when council can talk early and then leave for coffee."

JUNIOR INSTITUTE MAKES TOYS FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

The meeting of the Norval Juniors for December was held at the home of Barbara and Ralph Cunningham on Wednesday evening, December 11th.

The Junior Farmers' guest speaker was Jack Fraser of Streetsville, who gave an interesting talk on feeding, improving the herd and cropping.

The Junior Institute girls made rapid progress on their project, making toys for needy children. These toys will be sent to a Children's Aid fund for Christmas.

At the joint meeting slides were shown which had been taken on a trip out west by three of the boys this summer.

CHILDREN, MOTHERS GET GIFTS AT FIREMEN'S PARTY

Santa Claus was a very busy fellow on Sunday. One of his many calls was at the Fire Hall where he attended the Firemen's annual Christmas party for their children and wives.

The children had a wonderful time playing games prior to Santa's visit. When he arrived he presented each of the forty-four children, as well as each mother, with a gift. The wives of the firemen asked Santa to make a presentation for them to the firemen who were completely taken by surprise when they were presented with a large candy cane.

BROADCAST MUSIC FROM CHRISTMAS CHURCH SERVICE

Miss Lydia Snow and two other friends left this week on a motor trip to Florida for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marshall have returned home after a holiday with friends in Detroit.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Neelon were Mrs. Doris Stratton and Mrs. J. W. Neelon from Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Higgs and Douglas from Fergus.

Guests at the home of Miss Young and Mrs. Moran on Sunday for their Christmas festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Moran, Howard and Ronnie from Collingwood and Mr. and Mrs. David Moran, Jimmy, Stephen and Lyle from Meadowvale. Mrs. Moran's son Jim returned home last week from the 55th parallel where he has been a superintendent on the radar work there and after the Christmas holiday will be sent to another place near Kirkland Lake.

Mr. Neelon shared Christmas music with the people of the village on Sunday morning by the means of a loud speaker on a record player. Carols and special music by the choir were enjoyed by all at the morning service of worship and in the evening the girls of the CGIT group under the leadership of Mrs. Neelon and Mrs. Black, presented the annual Christmas candle light vesper service. Those taking part were Donna Smith, Jean Lawr, Mary Baker, Louise Snow, Marion Bruchooten, June Givens. The scriptures were read by Shirley Spiece, Marie Mitchell and Sharon Allan. Mrs. Neelon read a very lovely meditation on the real meaning of Christmas. Miss Marjorie Gibson was the pianist and also took the obligato solo in the anthem, Silent Night, which the entire group sang.

Through this column, I would like to extend my very best wishes for the holiday season and in the coming year to all our readers, and to Mr. Biehn and the staff at the Herald office. It has been a pleasure to serve you.

Profusion of Penalties Marks Junior Opener with Whitby

Sixty four minutes of penalties, 41 of them served by Georgetown, turned the Junior C opener at the arena here Friday into a farce on skates and had fans walking out half way through the second period. Of the 150 customers who paid to watch the game, only about 75 stayed to see the outcome. Whitby eventually won the contest 6 to 3.

The Jr. Raiders had a slight edge in the first period but blew most of their chances by shooting nowhere near the target. Whitby piled up their lead in the wild middle session, jumping on every Georgetown mistake and making full use of their advantage when they had the odd man. Brown, Rousseau, and Tran sparked most of the Whitby attacks. For Georgetown Doug Richardson was the best up front with Miller and Sinclair drawing praise for their defensive work.

Most of the 26 penalties were minors, the only fight breaking out midway through the second period when Brown collided with Cox. There was one misconduct, that to Hyde for protesting too loudly on a high sticking penalty to Pomeroy at 13:50 of the second period.

Georgetown had two of their best chances to take the lead in the early minutes of the first period. Pomeroy skated right in on the Whitby net and then let the puck roll off his stick and about a minute later on almost the same play Dance shot wide of the right side. It was Jr. Raider offensive lapse that led to the first Whitby goal, when Tran intercepted a weak pass and romped in to score at 16:47.

Whitby had four men to Georgetown's three on their second tally which was scored at the 12 minute mark of the second period. Brown was the marksman on a pass from Maw. Two minutes later Rousseau set Perry up perfectly and it was three nothing before the J.R.s could get back to full strength. They were six a side when Brown banged in the winner at 17:50. Maw and G. Lake picked up the rest.

erratic shooting kept their total below what it could have been. Harrison finally turned the trick, taking Richardson's pass and beating Fielder with a low drive at the 4:50 mark. The same line made it 4-2 just 20 seconds later, this time with Dance on the scoring end. Richardson again set up the play.

Simpson took some of the steam out of the Georgetown attack with his splashshot from the blue line that threaded the upper right hand corner at 9:30. Anderson who played the full three periods in goal for the J.R.s had no chance on the shot since it was screened all the way. Just forty five seconds after Brown picked up a tripping penalty Richardson notched the Jr. Raiders third goal on a picture play in which he carried the puck in all alone from the Whitby blue line and then fooled Fielder with a quick wrist shot. That one came at 14:44. There was just 12 seconds left in the game when E. Luke got a breakaway and extended Whitby's winning margin to three goals.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Water Gallonage Will Be Basis for Sewage Charge

Lions' Children Are Guests At Xmas Party

Santa visited over one hundred Lions Club children at the arena Rose Room on Sunday afternoon as the club presented its second annual Christmas party. The members and their wives were also on hand for fun MC'd by Jack Gunning, Bob Bardsley, of Brampton, brought along his Hammond organ to accompany the children in the singing of Christmas carols and all the old Christmas favourites.

Bozo the clown showed up during the sing song to amuse everyone and pass out apples and oranges to all the kiddies, who later thrilled to the showing of four short movies. Frosty the Snow Man, Abbott and Costello, Scrooge's Christmas and Howdy Doodie. A buffet luncheon was enjoyed by everyone, the children being supplied with chocolate milk, and coffee for the grown-ups.

The children swarmed around Santa and his three helpers when he made his entrance near the close of the festivities and danced to the rollicking tunes played by Bob Bardsley. All children 14 years and under received a gift.

Thanks to Fred Masterman who brought a polaroid camera to the party, many of the parents were able to take home souvenir snap shots of their children with Santa. Co-chairmen for the party were Stan Wade and Bob Hamilton.

Because the province will not approve a flat rate sewer charge on the water bill, council has had to revise its opinion on how to assess the cost of a proposed new sewage disposal plant.

Originally council had decided to raise a portion of the $830,000 cost by a 5 mill slice of the general tax rate, plus a service charge based on the number of water outlets.

Discussing the matter at the December 16th council meeting, Mr. Redfern of the consulting engineering firm of Proctor, Redfern and Laughlin, suggested that the council draft a new by-law, as the various government departments which will deal with the matter will not allow the flat rate charge.

Mayor Armstrong said he disagreed with this, as it will throw a heavier charge on industry if sewer charges are based on water gallonage.

"I'd like as little as possible extra cost placed on industry," said Cr. Fred Harrison. "It will discourage new industry locating here, which we are trying so hard to get."

Reeve Stan Allen said an estimate might be made of how much industrial waste goes into the sewer system, and that charges could be based on this.

Mr. Redfern said that it's difficult to depart from any system other than use of water. Householders too, vary considerably in usage, with some using large quantities for lawn watering.

It might be possible, the mayor suggested, to grade charges up to a certain gallonage of water used, then make a very small charge or no charge at all for excess use.

A new scale of rates was set for election officials — $15 for deputy returning officers, $12 for poll clerks and $14 for the use of polling stations, the rates to be paid to officials this year.

Social & Personal

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Urquhart, Albert Street are spending the Christmas holidays in Ottawa visiting with Mrs. Urquhart's sister and husband Dr. and Mrs. S. Scott.

Richard Sienko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sienko, 14 George St., is home from Saskatoon, where he is promotion manager for CFQC radio station. Mr. Sienko will fly back next Sunday.

Mrs. Mary McKinney entertained her family last Sunday, Ross, William and Jane of Brampton, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lyons, Edith Street.

Lynn Emmerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emmerson of Victoria Crescent, is spending the holidays with her parents and her grandmother, Mrs. William Hayes, Sr., Main Street. Lynn is a student at the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville.

Council agreed to pay surveying and legal costs, and to provide town services to the property line of land owned by Harold Cleave in exchange for title to a portion of the old radial right-of-way, which will be used to create an entrance to the new park school.

Property chairman Ern Hyde, who negotiated this agreement with Mr. Cleave, also suggested that council buy 1.8 acres of land adjoining the park, for which Mr. Cleave is asking $2,000 an acre, and another 4.7 acreage lying in Esqueving Township, asking price of which is $1,000 an acre.

Council decided to complete the 1.8 deal, and to offer $3,000 for the 4.7 acreage.

Cr. Alfred Sykes reiterated his opinion that in 1958 any land offered for sale by the town should be advertised for sale by tender.

Cr. Fred Harrison said that if John Street is an example, he does not favour any more sanitary landfill in residential areas.

While agreeing that at times the John Street fill has not been nice to look at, Cr. Harry Hale, under whose department this falls, explained that there are difficulties hard to overcome. Sometimes the bulldozer is working elsewhere, on instruction of council, he said. At other times, if the bulldozer is there waiting for another load of garbage, there has been criticism that the town men aren't working. It is difficult to arrive at the proper solution to please everyone, he said.

December 26th was proclaimed a boxing day civic holiday as has been the custom for several years.

Ending meetings for the year, Mayor Armstrong spoke of the faithful work which all council members had done this year, congratulated those who had been re-elected and expressed regret at the departure of Reeve Allen and Cr. Hale from next year's council table.

Cr. Garfield McGilvray expressed council's thanks to the mayor for his conduct of the meetings and capable leadership.

Members of the Provincial Paper Mill office staff and laboratory their ladies and gentlemen enjoyed their annual Christmas party at the North Halton Golf and Country Club last Wednesday evening. The party was a dinner dance.
