Specialty Bandits Take Only Radios

Thieves who broke into two local service stations over the December 21st week-end are being sought by the OPP and Georgetown police, the local investigation being conducted by Chief Roy Haley. Somewhat surprising is the fact that in both cases the thieves completely ignored the valuable equipment and supplies in the service stations and took only two small mantel radios, one from each garage. Both thefts occurred late Friday night or early Saturday morning.
 Police were notified of the first break-in at 8:15 Saturday morning by Charles Tyler, the proprietor of the new B.A. Station, on Guelph Street near the Delrex subdivision. The other garage hit by the thieves was the New Esso station on the eastern outskirts of town, which is in Provincial Police territory. Cst. Hazlett of the Milton Detachment is handling the investigation.
