RAY SALTER CONTINUES SCHOOL BOARD CHAIRMAN

Ray Salter, 32 Maple Ave. West was appointed chairman of the Georgetown Public School Board last Wednesday evening when the board met at Harrison Public School to name their officers for 1958. This is the fifth straight year that Mr. Salter has held the office.

James F. Evans, 2 Guelph St., is again secretary treasurer and Fred Masterman, 63 Charles St., is the board's appointee to the high school board for 1958. Principal of Harrison Public School Harold Henry, 15 Market St., received a three year appointment for the years 1958-60 and 60 to the library board.

Other members of the public school board include W. E. Wilson, Valleyview Road, S. A. Finlay, 17 Durham St.; Harry Shortt, 45 Maple Ave. West; C. J. McNamara, 9 Young St.; and Roy Hansen, 70 King St.

CHI RHO CLUBBERS HAVE TOUR OF CHURCH

A feature of the meeting of the Chi Rho Club of St. George's Anglican at their meeting Thursday was a tour of the church conducted by Rev. Kenneth Richardson.

The rector explained the meaning of different articles and symbols used in the church ritual and club members had many questions to ask and received much useful information during the tour.

It was the annual meeting of the group, and two husbands and wife combinations were elected to office. Roy Cook, 162 Guelph St. is president and his wife is treasurer. Doug Meades, 72 Rexway Drive, is vice president and Mrs. Meades is secretary. Clare Francis, 35 Shelley St. is past president.

RAY SALTER

At Wednesday's meeting the board accepted the application of William G. Marshall, 42 Queen St. as the new public school attendance officer, his duties to begin on February 1st. Mr. Marshall succeeds Harold Moyer, Norval, who resigned when he moved outside the town limits.

William Burgoyne of John B. Parkin Associates, architects for the proposed addition to Harrison Public School, was present at the meeting and presented plans of the four room wing to the board. Tenders are expected to be called for later this month or in early February.

Exemplifying the board's reason for the addition was Mr. Henry's report stating that on January 6th, 27 new pupils turned up for enrolment in Harrison public school. Prior to this an average of 15 new pupils per month had enrolled at the school.

PRESENT ATTENDANCE PINS AND PROFICIENCY PRIZES

On a recent Sunday morning at St. George's Anglican, a children's carol service was held at which films were shown and proficiency prizes and attendance awards presented.

Harvey Dewhurst, on behalf of the Bible Class, presented Mr. Jesse Bradford its leader for seven years, with a book entitled "The Crisis of Christ." In his thanks to the class, Mr. Bradford gave all the credit to God and said he had only missed three Sundays in this time.

Mr. Dewhurst, assisted by the church school superintendent Doug Meades, presented the following attendance awards:

1st year, Bob Bradley, Gerald Nash, Janette Collier, Jo-Ann Collier, David Long, Ellen Johnson, Janice Gummerson, Lynn Wylie, George Stigger, Jeffrey Eason, Linda Green, Mary Carr, Catherine Meades, Janette Duncan, David Hall, Roger Street, Gregory Street, Susan Graham, Pat Bowman, Lynn Bradley, Judy Nash, Carol Ann Barber, Pamela Turnbull, Judy Bonathan, Glen Finbow, Janette Cloke, Eleanor Chaplin, May Kynnersley.

Panelists Agree That Home Corp'l Punishment Necessary

A film from the Ages & Stages Series "10 to 12" was followed by a panel discussion Monday evening at a meeting of Harrison Home & School association, attended by 150 members.
Panelists were Constable Nelson Trafford, Lloyd Marks of the Canadian Tire Store, who is a former Toronto school teacher, Rev. Morgan McFarlane of St. John's United Church and John D. Ord of the law firm of Hewson, Ord and Helson.
A spirited discussion followed concerning behaviour problems of this age group regarding corporal punishment and most agreed there should be some in the home, though Mr. McFarlane felt it should be used as a last resort.
It was thought the type of dress worn has an effect on personality and work habits of the child in school and panelists suggested jeans be left at home and possibly a school uniform be adopted, or that the child dress a little more formally than at play.
The increase in numbers of fully employed mothers is found to have an adverse effect on children from such families, it was stated. Cst. Trafford said there is over $1,000 in sports equipment lying idle at Georgetown Athletic Club and if anyone is interested in boys' club work, he can be contacted.
Inauguration into the Federation of the Home and School Association was presided over by Mrs. F. H. Keeler, district organizer of Area F of the federation, who was introduced by D. E. Llewellyn. Mrs. Keeler presented the gavel and treasurer's book.
Pamphlets on child care were shown, and will be available for loan to members. The aims of the Home and School were presented on a large placard.
A leadership training camp at Lake Couchiching is held for four days each June and Mrs. Keeler suggested sending a member to observe the varied activities. Mrs. P. Vrozi of Burlington, Halton council president, was also a guest at the meeting.

Principal Harold Henry informed the meeting that another 4-room addition will be started in approximately three months. Attendance at the school has risen sharply since September. The kindergarten - primary now numbers 79, an average increase of 4% students a month since school opening.
Shifts may be started in two weeks, Mr. Henry said, beginning with Grade 2 upward, each grade going on shift for one month. Notices will be sent to parents if this is decided upon, he said.
Lunch, prepared by the Grade 6 mothers, was served afterwards with Mrs. John Easdale and Mrs. L. Brown in charge. Those present were reminded that a meeting is held the first Monday of each month and everyone is welcome to attend.

FARM FORUM OPINION
Although a majority of Halton farm forums are opposed to production restrictions in this area, they feel it should be on a compulsory basis if adopted.
This was opinion submitted after the January 6th farm forum which is devoted to modern marketing in this series.
Some groups said the supply and demand law works, providing marketing organization have adequate facilities to take care of production.

Airman Escapes Injury In Western Plane Crash

Flying Officer John P. Wilson Lancaster, Alberta, was one of 14 men who escaped serious injury in a plane crash at Namao Airport on January 6th.
A heavily laden RCAF Flying Box Car transport crashed at the airport while attempting to land after an engine failure. The aircraft had just taken off for a 750 mile flight to Fort Churchill, Manitoba, when one of its engines failed. F. O. J. H. Moore of North Bay, its captain, managed to keep the big plane aloft, and circled to attempt an emergency landing with one wheel jammed.
The plane touched down on the runway, ground-looped as its wing tip dipped, then skidded off the runway. Gas spilled from broken tanks, but there was no fire. The RCAF said the plane was a "total write-off."
Most of the 14 aboard suffered cuts and bruises, but only two were admitted to hospital. The plane carried six crew members, including F. O. Wilson, who is radio officer, and eight passengers.
A second war RCAF veteran, F. O. Wilson was a prisoner-of-war when war ended. He re-enlisted after the war and has been in the west for three years. His mother, Mrs. Arthur Wilson, lives at 39 Victoria Street.
