We regret the untimely passing of a good friend and Legionnaire, Fred McCartney. Fred served the Branch for many years faithfully and well. Our very sincere sympathy goes out to his family.

The annual meeting and election of officers takes place on Sunday, January, 26th with the financial report and regular meeting held Thursday January 2nd. Be sure to attend both these meetings!

Congratulations to Frank Connelly on his election to zone sports officer. Frank will do an excellent job in this position, with his great many years experience in sports work in our branch. More of this next week.

The New Year's party was an excellent one, with a fine floor show and excellent orchestra. As usual there were all kinds of favors, and lunch was supplied by the Woman's Auxiliary, under direction of president Dol Day. This is a job the girls do every year, and one that is highly appreciated.

Executive of the Little NHL remind everyone that trophies are still needed for this season's hockey. A number of people have vol-

The Little NHL draw was as follows: 1st, Mrs. L. Webster, Brockwood, 2480; 2nd, Doug Riddell, 49 James St. 796; 3 consolation, J. Longrain, 28 Prince Charles Drive, 36; Bobby Bonfield, Georgetown, 1410; F. Hodder, 14 Queen St. N., 2312; Brian James, 8 Murdoch N., 2312; F. O'Flaherty, 171 Main St. Georgetown, 783.

Thanks to all those who helped sell tickets. It was deeply appreciated.

At present the zone is having most of their installations and a few elections. As we preside at most of them, the secretary and I will be going, and if any member wishes to visit neighbouring branches, we'd be happy to have them along.

We guess we'll have to eat our words made a couple of columns ago about this year, there not being the usual spate of rumours about the coming election. We find that we were wrong as there was at least one, and it's a beauty!

As it involves us, and as zone commander we don't intend to get involved—we guess we had better squelch it right now. First, as zone commander, and head of the nine (soon to be ten) Legions in this district we can not hold office, even if we wished, which we don't! And then, secondly, as recently elected head of the public relations for Legion branches from Niagara Falls through to Woodstock, (some almost 100 branches) we have very little time for local internal Legion affairs, and will have even less in the future, except for this column, and thirdly, our own lack of inclination after having been Branch president for four years. So as far as we are concerned that's that. And certainly to sponsor any one member of the executive against the other. This is something entirely foreign to our nature, as we feel everyone should get elected the same way as we did ourselves, get out and work and run for office. So all we can say is that we don't believe that type of rumour helps anyone's election, and that the party that started it, whether he may be, does branch affairs of himself no good, by manufacturing such irresponsible and completely untrue stories.

We must this will arise at least that the "product of the rumour factory" effectively and for good!

The New Year's party, as anticipated, was a big success, with a large crowd. We were quite surprised at the large number of new members present with their wives, quite pleasantly surprised, we might add. It's nice to see so many new members taking an active interest in our branch. It would be nice if we could find every member taking such an interest that would see them all down around the rooms every so often. There is no reason why a man should not come around just because he has the great good sense not to drink. There are plenty of other recreational facilities to be taken advantage of, television, bridge, euchre, crib, etc., and of course there are always papers and magazines. And we can't off hand think of any place nicer to "just set" than our TV room. It's quiet, you can bring a friend and have a chat, or a snooze, as you wish.

For our newer members' information luncheons are held regularly each week, Wednesdays and Saturdays, and there is a regular dance each Friday night, to which you may bring guests. These are nice dances, with a good orchestra and it will be well worth any member's while to visit them.

And of course, to our mind, the most important thing is the sense of comradeship you get when you visit among "your own kind" and swap old stories, lie a little bit about your particular war and escapades, and generally relieve the days when you worked for one of the armed services. To us, it's always a kick to see some of the boys we haven't seen for a bit, and reminisce about our various meetings.

Talking to Bill Collier recently and we recalled a meeting with him in London, one of those strange happenings that had four Georgetowners meet us inside of half an hour. We had just arrived back from the east, and had been diverted to Northolt on account of weather conditions and as our own air base was out of operation, we were staying there overnight. So we jumped a tube to downtown, to see what was what, and who do we run into but Roy, co Lorusso, heading for the railroad station on leave. Five minutes later after Rocky had caught his train, we met Bill Collier in Trafalgar Square. And it wasn't ten minutes later that we met another Georgetown, the late Carl Hyde. We spent the evening "doing" the town (our introduction to that Canadian institution the "Lord High Admiral" was made that evening, courtesy Sgt. Collier.) Bill was on leave, and next day, as most of southern England was in fog, we couldn't return to base, so we got in touch, and decided to visit Aldershot. Sometime, if we get really hard up, we intend to write a book about that trip, which developed into an "old home" day for us. We can also think of another comparable trip out to see the Lorne Scots, near Reigate, in Surrey, where we had the misfortune to accept a ride on the back of a motorcycle of a Canadian D.R., whose main job seemed to try and prove that the motorcycle had wings. Either that or he just naturally didn't care for the air force.

If someone could only recall the various spots that the local boys had spent considerable time together during the war, we think the various incidents that happened to them as a group would be well worth writing about.

But that's getting a long way from the original theme of this item, isn't it? But to an even greater extent it holds good with any new member coming in, because we don't think that there is any unit that someone hasn't had some connection with, either Canadian or British.

So drop around, fellows, there's always something to do and some new friends to meet!

Last Thursday evening the Imperials of Branch 120, held their annual party and get-together in the Legion auditorium. A good crowd was present for this much looked-for event in the year. This year they had a small orchestra for dancing, which was enjoyed by all. President Alex Taylor and his wife welcomed the guest.

As an extra feature this year, Mr. Fred Helson, of the local law firm of Hewson, Ord and Helson, took a number of pictures of the officers of the Section welcoming a number of the new members to their group. Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Muir, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Day, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tennant, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hedley, Mr. George McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Perkins, Mr. Tom Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bowman, Mr. Bert Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harker, Mrs. John Kemshead, Mr. Percy Clark, Mr. M. McDonough, Mr. Jack Ferguson, Mrs. T. F. Griove, Brian Boyd, Norm Willson, Jim Reese, Mr. and Mrs. J. Coles, Mr. and Mrs. G. Smurthwaite and Harry Bottoms. Also present were Branch president Harvey Garvin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. C. Sargent Sr., Jack Ferguson, Fred Nelson, Tom Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. Yates, R. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clark.

We understand a number of ladies in the Auxiliary received an honour some months ago. We had not heard about it but hope that some one will give us the details so we may make an item about it.

IN TUESDAY OVERTIME GAME

A goal by Marcel Tessier at 1.08 of the overtime was all Gormann's Newmarket Smoke Rings needed to put the Junior Raiders away in the second meeting of the two teams played last Tuesday, Jan. 7th at the Georgetown arena. Newmarket edged Georgetown 5 Newmarket 4 in their first meeting after the J.R.s ran up a 4-0 lead early in the game. Tuesday's result was almost as close, 5 to 3.

Georgetown had a 3 all tie at the end of regulation time and got it mainly through one of their strongest defensive efforts and a tactic that almost had to be used, the shadowing of Tessier. The move, however, was like putting a cork in a volcano; sooner or later it was bound to pop, and it did just that in the overtime.

It was the sixth straight setback for Georgetown who so far haven't lived up to the promising season indicated by their exhibition tilts. Doug Richardson, however, has been no disappointment and at this point has scored over half of the total number of goals chalked up by all the other players put together. He has blinked the red light seven times in six starts. Last year it took him 14 games to collect the same number of tallies.

Glen-Dance who has been teetering on the edge of greatness ever since he came to the J.R.s got the tying goal against Newmarket and assisted on a marker by Cox midway through the second period in turning in his best effort so far. Hyde who comes up with that strong defensive game so often that it's almost taken for granted out did himself in blocking shots, a la Goldham, and leading some real threatening attacks along with Miller who is developing into a fine rusher.

Coxe, Pomeroy, Baxter and Jewell can also be added to the list of those who showed no hint of why Georgetown dwells in the league cellar. Tessier, Barragh, Dupuis, Cain and Maisonneuve, in that order, best represented Gormans.

At no time did Georgetown hold a lead, Dupuis gets the credit for Tessier's first goal faking a shot beautifully before hitting Tess with a perfect pass when he noticed that his linemate had shaken his shadow long enough to get in on the play. That came at 0.55 of the second period exactly 8 minutes before Maisonneuve another member of the Sun-Per Pea Soupers contingent on the club broke through to score all by himself. Harrison was sitting out a hooking penalty at the time.

Campbell of Newmarket was looking on from the sin bin when Coxe slapped Dance's centreing pass into the Newmarket twine before Jelley could set himself for the shot at 9.37. Miller, like Coxe, using this period to get his first goal of the year. Richardson layed the pass for Miller who evened the score at 15.40, while the Jr. Raiders had the odd man. Dupuis joined Tessier in the penalty box at 16.21 and for a matter of about 14 seconds Georgetown were playing six men to Newmarket's four, but the frame ended in a 2-all tie.

Newmarket's go ahead goal got by Jewell from a scramble in front of the net at the 2.00 mark with both clubs at full strength. Millien was last to touch it, Cain and Tessier were also in on the traffic jam and picked up assists. A stick check by Pomeroy ended in the equalizer which came at the 10-minute mark. Pomeroy stole the pill away from Cain, romped in to send Jelley sprawling across the goal mouth and that's the way he was when Dance flipped the puck into the lower right hand corner. The teams were five a side at the time; Jelley was tested from every angle during the next few minutes as Cain ran into a holding penalty which almost cost Newmarket the game. It was the first time the Jr. Raiders had done any real swarming since their last clash with Preston.

The overtime was all Newmarket as Georgetown managed only five shots on Jelley. Tessier, who roamed uncovered for most of his ice time in this period turned Cain's pass into a picture play and the winner at 1.08 and helped Dupuis with the insurance with 20 seconds left in the game. For the final minutes Georgetown went with four forwards, Pomeroy, Richardson, McLean and Dance with Miller the lone defenceman.
