

Police Are Speakers At Safety Clinic

Fifteen Norval Boy Scouts were the guests of the Georgetown Volunteer Ambulance Service on Thursday, Apr. 24th when the brigade held their regular meeting at Wrigglesworth School in the form of a Safety Clinic with Police Chief Roy Haley and Cst. Ted Scott the speakers.

Following a talk on highway safety by the Chief and Cst. Scott, two films "Chain Reaction in Courtesy" and "The Three Major Causes of Accidents" were shown and a question and answer period held.

GVAS Chief Ed Hall chaired the business portion of the evening when it was planned to have St. John Ambulance members demonstrate stretcher loading and unloading at a future meeting. John Elliott gave a report on the 1st Aid Course just completed at the Oddfellows Hall. Fifty-eight people took the examination Mr. Elliott reported that there were very few failures. The examination was held Wednesday, April 23rd. Dr. Ormond Brewster, Dr. Alistair Macintosh and the instructor Jack Hunter were the examiners.

ARTS AND CRAFTS TOUR TORONTO STUDIOS

On April 16th, a number of members of the Arts and Crafts of Georgetown had a most instructive tour of the Toronto Studios of Andrew Fussell, Metalsmith; Armfield & Passano, Hand Blocked Fabrics; Mumart Studio, Leathercraft; and the Five Potters Studio, Ceramics.

At Mr. Fussell's Metalcraft studio the party were greeted by one of their own members, Mrs. Wes. Beatty of Acton, who was working on some attractive silver candlesticks.

After an interesting morning at these various studios, the party had luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hans Lundberg, where her lovely weaving was of special interest to the weavers of the group. Mrs. George Steel had on display at Mrs. Lundberg's her well-known collection of semi-precious stones, some in natural quartz form, but most of them beautifully cut and polished by herself, ready for setting, and many of which were of Canadian origin.

Later in the afternoon there was a specially-conducted tour of Beth Tzedec Synagogue to see the Robb tiles and the Karen Bulow tapestries. This was a most interesting experience. The synagogue is a modern and beautiful building, and the tiles and tapestries in the sanctuary were very lovely, and thrilled the craftworkers. An excellent guide made the tour of the synagogue most illuminating.

CARDS, DANCING LIVEN HOME, SCHOOL FUN NIGHT

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by fifty couples who attended the Harrison Home and School Fun Night Saturday evening, April 19th. Court whist, euchre, bridge and dancing took place in the various rooms throughout Harrison School. The card players played until 10:30 and then they joined the dancers for an hour's dancing. The square dancers brought a note of hilarity as they dipped and dived. Mrs. Harry Moss provided the records for square dancing and all the records were spun by Mr. D. Unsworth who also awarded the prizes as follows: -

-bridge - high gentleman, Dick Miller, a Parker ball point pen; high lady - Mrs. Harold Seckington, coloured mixing bowls; low score - Mrs. Bob Murray, furniture polish and steel wool.

Euchre - high gentleman, Gerry Lameront, auto floor rug; high lady - Mrs. Gerry Lameront; low score - Mrs. Fran Turner, brush and picture hanger.
Court Whist - high man, Walter Pacholok, car wash and grease job; high lady - Mrs. Victor Cloke, yellow pyrex dish; low score - Mrs. Robert Hamilton, wave set; Door prizes - Mrs. Brian Williams, a ham; Mrs. Ray McBroom, groceries; Mrs. Lea Norris, salad servers. Special prizes - Mrs. Alistair Macintosh, Blue Grass Cologne; Harold Henry, china figurine.

Spot Dances - Mrs. Gordon Hal-

jitt, Five dollar gift certificate; Mrs. Bernard Cassell and Frank Wallace, matches and cigarettes; Ray McBroom, Speedy car-wash brush; Mrs. Gerry Lameront, a relish set; Mrs. R. Whitham, lingerie; Mrs. A. Summers, terry cloth tea towels.
