othy Barrass who is employed in juvenile court work. Miss Barrass chose as her subject "Children in Trouble" and noted that when you find children in trouble, you find troubled children. More boys appear in juvenile court than girls but because our society is more protective towards girls the boys are more likely to be reported on their first offence. Discipline that is too harsh is as often a cause of children running away and getting into trouble as too little discipline. Every child needs a certain amount of discipline and a lot of love. Too often we think of juvenile delinquency in terms of other people," Miss Barrass stated, "but the responsibility for the welfare of our young people depends on everyone not only as parents but as members of our communities".

Vocal soloists for the afternoon were Tommy O'Neill of Hornby and Heather Anne Hayward, whose voice is well known around Milton and district. Mrs. Bill Brain was elocutionist and Mrs. Davidson played some very enjoyable organ solos.

A lovely fruit salad was served to everyone in the basement hall and the home made baking was a complete sell out.

Mrs. Ralph Starr, a former member of the Guild drove from Paris to come to the Tulip Tea.
