WHAT COUNCIL DID

BOND FIRM INTERESTED IN TOWN ARENA BONDS

A Montreal investment firm is interested in marketing a $111,000 debenture issue which would pay for renovations to Georgetown's memorial arena.

Savard & Hart, which last week exercised its option to purchase a $92,500 issue of 6% bonds, said it would also give a 90 day option on purchase of the arena debentures at the same price of 94 plus accrued interest.

The arena program, approved by voters in the December, 1956 elections, has been delayed because of financing and has not received Municipal Board consideration until the town could prove it had a purchaser. On Monday, council decided to notify the board of the bond firm proposal and seek approval for the program.

Council was informed by L. L. Skuce, chairman of the county consultative committee on education that a meeting is being arranged with municipal and school board officials to discuss the future of North Halton High School district. Council, meanwhile has asked local members of that board to discuss possibility of disbanding the district with council at next Monday's meeting.

Answering a request from council, the Chamber of Commerce suggested Stan Finlay, Harold McClure and Harold Baird as its nominees for a proposed industrial commission, also suggesting that Jack Crichton, C. of C. president, be an ex officio member.

The town boosted a previous offer of $4,500 to $5,000 for a 4.7

acre parcel of land owned by Harold Cleave at the east end of Princess Ann Drive, adjoining the park. It may be used this summer to add to the park's recreation area, according to Gr. Fred Harrison, who said indications are that different sports activities will tax park capacity to the limit.

Cr. Harrison is trying to arrange a meeting between representatives of various sports organizations, to avoid conflicting schedules and allow time to be allotted fairly to all.

A new scale of building permit fees has been adopted. Work estimated up to $200 requires a $2.00 fee; to $1,000, a $10 fee; to $5,000 $15 and over $5,000, $25.

CCF Chooses Jack Henry Ontario Election Candidate

On Monday, April 28th, the CCF candidate in the last federal election, Jack Henry spoke at the CCF nominating convention in the Steelworkers Hall in Milton, when he was chosen to represent the CCF in the upcoming Provincial election.

In his speech he said the party program touched on many fields including automation: "The matter of automation alone if it were used to the benefit of all the people could be an enormous force of good if it was used to reduce unemployment. But instead our governments are allowing the corporations to enjoy its benefits in bigger profits as more and more workers are being replaced by machines. Corporation profits are growing, so is our list of unemployed. The only logical answer is the shorter work day and shorter work week with the same take home pay so that workers may share with management the advantages of automation.

And car insurance "Compulsory car insurance operated as a Crown company at cost, will, it has been said by some people, take away our freedom. The same type of people some years ago said that public school education would take away our freedom. Freedom from what? Freedom to remain ignorant? Compulsory car insurance will take away our freedom to keep irresponsible hazards on Queen's highways."

About free university education he said "Previously only the wealthy could afford a university education. Now even the teachers are complaining that these children of the wealthy are not students, they are just pupils. They are there only because their parents can afford to send them and not because they want to learn. While workers' children regardless of their desire to learn or their mental alertness are unable to attend university because their parents do not have the price. In Russia students are selected on their school record. Here they are selected by the length of their parents' purse."

He told his audience that to prove superior to the Communists as a country or a people or a system of government we would have to show a different type of aggressive and down to earth action than has ever been shown by the Province of Ontario in many of these and other fields. "The CCF is the only party that has a program to fill the need," he said.

Local Anglican Rector Is Named Rural Dean

Rev. Kenneth Richardson, rector of St. George's Anglican was elected rural dean when clergy of the deanery held their spring meeting at Grace Church, Milton, last week. Mr. Richardson, who has been deanery secretary, succeeds Rev. J. E. Maxwell, Norval, who has held the post for three years. Rev. H. N. Mansfield, Burlington, is the new secretary treasurer.

It was learned at the meeting that Georgetown will be honored with a visit from Bishop Paul Kuruse, who is bishop of mid-Japan in September. Tentative dates have been set and he will visit St. Jude's, in Oakville on Sept. 24 and the next day Georgetown will be host parish for the northern part of the deanery Bishop Kuruse took part of his studies at Trinity College and has a daughter now enrolled at the Anglican Women's Training College.

Rev. D. A. Powell, the Milton rector was assisted by Rural Dean Maxwell at the celebration of holy communion. Canon F. C. Jackson gave a report on the rector pan noting that St. Jude's, Oakville and St. Christopher's, Burlington, will be participating this year and that St. George's, now engaged in a sector-type endeavour, might be joining another year. Canon Jackson also reported for the committee on church extension, noting new developments in Trafalgar archdeaconry and asked that positive steps be implemented to facilitate extension where it is required.

After luncheon, served by the church guild ladies, the election was held. Mr. John Robinson, the new incumbent at St. Alban's, Glen Williams, was introduced and welcomed to the deanery. Canon E. Ripby, secretary treasurer of the diocese, led an informative discussion on diocesan matters and accepted a number of suggestions regarding the diocesan appointment. Rev. J. Bothwell extended a vote of thanks to the host parish and its rector and Rural Dean Maxwell, pronounced benediction. The fall meeting is slated for October 7 at Oakville and the annual Niagara convocation on May 27th in Hamilton.

APPROVE CONSERVATION PLAN FOR 12 MILE CREEK

J. E. W.

The 12 Mile Creek Conservation Authority was approved at a special meeting held in Trafalgar Memorial Hall. The meeting was called on the authority of the Minister of Planning and Development, following petitions passed by the councils of at least two municipalities in the proposed Authority. The municipalities having lands in the 12 Mile Creek Conservation Authority include the Town of Burlington; the Village of Ervick; and the Townships of Trafalgar, Nissaugawa, East Flamborough, West Flamborough, and Puskegeton. All seven municipalities were represented at the meeting and the proposed authority was approved with only one dissenting vote.

The next step in the formation of the Authority will be the passing of the necessary Order-in-Council by the lieutenant governor in council following the recommendation of the Minister of Planning and Development. Following this there is a strong likelihood that the necessary survey of the area will be made this summer by the Dept. of Planning and Development.

WATERLOO ARE WINNERS OF DRAMA FESTIVAL

J. E. W.

Seven counties participated in the Junior Farmer Inter County Drama Festival, held in Memorial Hall at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. The Waterloo County presentation of "Storm in a Loving Cup" was awarded 1st place by adjudicator Elva Newton, and Waterloo will therefore hold the E. H. Osburn shield for the current year. The Best Actress award was won by Emma Buehler of the winning cast, and the Best Actor award by Carl Thomson of Bennington Junior Farmers of Oxford County.

In addition to Waterloo and Oxford, other competing counties included Halton, Dufferin, Peel, Huron, and Wellington. Halton Juniors were represented by the Normal Club, which group won the Halton Junior Farmers' Drama Festival a few weeks ago. It was our privilege to see the four plays which were presented on the first evening, and we can assure our readers that the Halton cast while defeated, gave an outstanding performance, and Haltonites in attendance had every reason to be proud of them. In short, we saw what we considered three outstan-
