Marilyn Wigglesworth, Bill Robinson Are United Nations Tour Winners

J. E. W. One hundred and eleven Junior Farmers (53 from Halton and 58 from Peel) participated in the annual Junior Farmers' Livestock judging competition on Saturday, May 31st. Travelling by buses, the young people judged ten classes of livestock, and in so doing visited the following livestock farms:

J. M. Fraser for Holsteins; Sanford Farm, for Dual Purpose Short-horns and Sheep; Chas. McKee, for Aberdeen Angus; Harold Parkinson for Yorkshires; B. H. Bull and Son, for Jerseys.

Oral reasons on five of the classes were taken in the afternoon, at the Junior Farmer Building in the Brampton Fair Grounds.

In the evening, the young people and their friends met at the Agricultural Hall, in the Milton Fair Grounds, for the announcement of the awards and presentation of prizes.

4-H Homemakers President Roy Ford of the Halton Juniors, was in charge of the evening's programme. Among the awards to the 4-H Homemakers was the presentation to Miss Marilyn Wigglesworth of Hornby, of the Halton district W.I. special. This presentation was made by Mrs. Velma Norris, president of the Halton District W.I., and will entitle Miss Wigglesworth to be a member of the United Nations tour sometime during the late summer.

The Toronto-Dominion bank specials were presented by Mr. Kerr, manager of the Oakville branch, to the Misses Evelyn Bird, Margaret Bird and Marilyn Wigglesworth, of the Ashgrove Club, whose leaders are Mrs. Clayton Wilson and Mrs. Wilfred Bird.

Fifteen 4-H Homemakers who each had completed successfully a total of six different projects, were the recipients of county honour pins, which were also presented to them by Mrs. Velma Norris. The young ladies receiving these awards were: Marie Mitchell, Joan Moffat, Patricia McKay, Meryl Flock, Shirley Hunt, Beverley Roe, Joyce Robertson, Verna Pickett, Gail Dobbie, Margaret Nightingale, June Rennick, Marilyn Rognvaldson, Helen Auckland, Margaret Whewell, Nancy McKemie.

Four of the Halton Junior Homemakers who had completed twelve different projects or more, were announced as provincial honour winners and were the recipients of a provincial honour pin each. These also were presented to the young ladies, by Mrs. Velma Norris.

Another pleasing feature of this part of the evening's programme was the announcement that Mrs. S. Kirkpatrick, of Limehouse, had completed five years service as a leader in 4-H Homemaking Club work, and would be presented with the Leader's Certificate by the Canadian Council on 4-H clubs.

Pawtress Top Judge Bruce Pawtress of Milton was the top Halton livestock judge of the day, and Don Johnston of Milton, won the Norval Juniors' Challenge Trophy emblematic of the high aggregate score on the combined competitions of March (seed judging) and May 31st (livestock judging).

The Hamilton Spectator award, based on judging ability over a two-year period; 4-H club activity, Junior Farmer activity, plus Leadership and executive ability—was won by Wm. C. Robinson of Oakville. The presentation was made by Don Kofage, district editor of the Hamilton Spectator.

The high novice of the day was Tom Hays Jr., who thereby won the CNE challenge shield. Robinson Top Coach The Palerno Junior Farmers' challenge trophy for the coach of the winning team, was won by Bill Robinson of Oakville, the members of his team being Tom Hays, Tom Hunter, and Don Taylor. Don Taylor was also the runner up for the United Nations tour, and therefore won the Kingsway Kiwanis short course scholarship special.

The Bank of Nova Scotia special for the high township team of three in livestock judging, was won by the Trafalgar township trio of Bruce Pawtress, Tom Hays, and Don Johnston.

The Dr. R. K. Anderson trophy emblematic of the high Junior Farmer club in the March and May competitions was won for the second year in succession by the Milton Juniors; with Palermo in second position.

Carolyn Gardhouse High Girl Carolyn Gardhouse of Milton repeated her triumph of a year ago, when she tied for first position in the girls' section by placing first on May 31st. Carolyn along with Mary Lou Taylor, and Barbara Pickard, comprised the winning girls' team, which was coached by Ed Segsworth, and thereby received the Lloyd Pickard special.

Other awards were as follows: Girls' section—Carolyn Gardhouse, Mary Lawrence, Margaret Lawson, Evelyn McKay, Pat McKay, Lorna Woodley, Eleanor Taylor, Diane Sanderson, Barbara Pickard, Mary Lou Taylor.

Junior Boys—Bruce Pawtress, Tom Hays, Jr., Bob Merry, 4th (tie) Ernest Alexander and Jeffrey Agnew, Courtney Agnew, Harold Patterson, Neil Moffat, Delmar Ford, Keith Ella.

Intermediates—Sandy Hepburn, Tom Hunter, Don Moffat, Ed Segsworth, Don Taylor, Allen Brownridge, Ian Norris, Bill Kerr, Terry Hendershot, Brian Scammell.

Debating Champs Honoured Another feature of the evening's programme was the presentation by Roy Ford, of gifts to the members of Halton's champion debating team of 1958, namely, Jean Bird, Barbara Cunningham, Jean Peterson, and Mildred Watson.

Their coaches, George E. Elliott, Q.C., and J. E. Whitelock were also recipients of gifts from the members of the debating team.

Leadership Training Important Development In 4-H Program

Speaking at the twenty-seventh annual meeting and conference of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs in Winnipeg, council secretary-manager James D. Moore, said the attention given to leadership training in recent years has been one of the most encouraging developments in the 4-H field. He told the group that effective leadership coupled with parent interest, go hand in hand with good club work.

Mr. Moore pointed out that club work for rural youth is universal in scope and has been organized to suit varying needs and conditions in 53 countries of the world. One indication of the growing importance of club work at the international level is the number of visitors to Canada from other countries in search of information concerning the Canadian program. In 1957, representatives of rural youth programs from France, England, Scotland, India, Ceylon, Pakistan, Italy and the Philippines, called at the national office for information and literature.

Enrolment in Canada is rapidly approaching the 75,000 mark, Mr. Moore said, and for the first time in the history of the movement, girls enrolled in clubs last year outnumbered boys.

"Even more significant than the growth in 4-H membership has been its constructive influence on agriculture and on our Canadian way of life," Mr. Moore stated. Successful men and women in all fields of endeavour, he said, frequently refer to the value of the training they received as former club members.

While leadership training is basically a provincial matter, Mr. Moore pointed out that the Council is pleased to assist in every way possible. He said, an estimated 10,000 persons at the local level, are today assisting the Provincial Departments of Agriculture in organizing and carrying out the club program. On behalf of the 4-H council, Mr. Moore paid tribute to the extension departments and local leaders for their capable

Lift Locks, Niagara Falls Visited by School Pupils

Grades seven and eight of Chapel Street school made their annual tour of the Niagara Peninsula on Tuesday, June 3rd. Mrs. Sam MacKenzie, Mrs. Vern McCumber, Hazen Allen and principal Val Stein accompanied the group of seventy school children which travelled in two buses.

The Royal Botanical Garden was the first stop for the group, many of them visiting Hamilton for the first time. They were later taken to the top of the mountain for a better view of the city. One of the most interesting features of the trip was the vintage museum at Jordan where the party also visited the "Old Jordan School House."

From there it was on to the lift locks at Thorold and then dinner in Niagara Falls. Tours of the Adam Beck No. 2 power plant and Old Fort George concluded the day.

JOHN D. FIELDS FIRST WAR VETERAN

A World War I "amp" and resident of town for thirty years, John D. Fields died in Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto on May 25th.

A native of western Canada, Mr. Fields once was caretaker at the public library. His wife, Jessie McEachern is his only survivor. They had made their home in town, latterly on Main St. N. for the past thirty years, with the exception of a few years when they lived at Woodbine Heights.

Branch 120, Canadian Legion, conducted a service at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home on the evening preceding burial in Greenwood Cemetery. The funeral service on May 28th was conducted by Rev. Alex Calder.

direction and fine example of good leadership. He also acknowledged the interest and valued assistance of the various publicity outlets across Canada.

On the subject of publicity, Mr. Moore said the Council has a mailing list of close to 3,000 including all weekly and farm press, many dailies, 44 television and 181 radio stations.
