

"ALL IS NOT GOLD THAT GUITTERS"

(Author's name below)

Throughout recorded history there have always been reports about charlatans who exploited the sick.

We now have laws that protect you by only permitting a physician to practice medicine and a pharmacist to dispense medicines. Unfortunately there is a growing effort to increase the use of patent medicines by permitting their sale anywhere, instead of under the supervision of a pharmacist, who has the necessary training to advise you against wrong use. Any medicine can be harmful if improperly taken.

For your own safety, depend on your physician to advise you what medicine to take and always secure any medicine from a pharmacist.

PRESIDENT OF F.W.I.O. USES COLLECT, BASIS FOR INSPIRING TALK

Cheerful morning greetings were heard as the women attending the F.W.I.O. Holiday at O.A.C. met for the quiet half hour before starting the activities of the day.

Mrs. Haggerty, F.W.I.O. president, used the Mary Stewart Collect as a frame for her morning talk. The Collect is used by the Institutes and the president, taking it line by line, offered it with suggestions for putting into daily practice.

"Keep us O Lord from pettiness, let us be large in thought and word and deed."

Pettiness is concerned with small inconsequential things. It is so easy to pick out the flaws in people, programs and meetings, the kind thought, the gracious words and unselfish acts. We are all guilty of this neglect. Look for the good qualities in others and overlook the things you dislike. Speak kindly of your friends and neighbours or do not speak at all. Seek after kindness and you will find there is no room for pettiness in your life.

"Let us be done with fault finding and leave off self-seeking."

Wouldn't it be wonderful to spend an entire day without finding fault and with no one finding fault with us. People are prone to criticize rather than commend and quite often the women who find fault with the Institute are the ones unwilling to take any responsibility. Sometimes we hear the complaint that it is always the same women who put on programs and go to conventions, that things are managed by cliques and sometimes this appears to be true but too often that group takes on these duties, not from choice but because no one else will.

Self seeking folk rarely make the best members or officers in an organization. If one is working for oneself the welfare of the group will suffer.

"Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm, serene and gentle."

In the world of rush and hurry we need to make this a prayer. It is more important to do one job well than to assume a dozen tasks with haphazard results.

"Grant that we may realize that it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are one."

How true this is. We will argue about placing a cupboard in the corner or on the wall or whether we should hold a social or a bazaar but when a big thing comes along such as an appeal for flood victims or refugees dissection melts and we are as one. Let us strive for unity in the small things.

"May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face without self pity and without prejudice."

Do we pretend that we are something other than we are? Do we do little underhand acts or say little mean words while expressing friendship. Can we always look straight in the eyes with no thought of deceit, dislike or selfishness. If we can we are on the road to happiness.

"May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous." It seems a natural impulse for people to pass judgment without much thought or consideration. Let us take thought that our actions, in their place, might be similar. Circumstances are responsible for different attitudes.

Most people can be generous if the generosity demands no special sacrifice so let us pray to be generous in the graceful yielding to another's wishes, giving up a greatly desired pleasure to another; sharing or even ceding some long sought honour. Be generous with time and talents. Be generous in praise of others and be generous in doing the little everyday tasks that provide no glamour or glory.

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight forward and unafraid."

Whenever we feel that something is worthwhile doing, let us do what we can to help, let us not fail to offer our services.

"And may we strive to touch and know the great human heart common to us all."

The heart of mankind is the same throughout the world, hearts beat with joy and tremble in despair. Let us learn the needs of our fellow men, the needs close to their hearts and let us touch those hearts by our love and sympathy.

"O Lord let us not forget to be kind."

This is the great summing up of the prayer. Kindness creates friendship and love. It is the heaven to make the whole world one community.

Cantelon-Schaus Wedding Vows Exchanged in Hamilton Church

Stables United Church, Hamilton, was the scene, on Saturday, June 28 of the marriage of Doris Isabel Schaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Schaus, to Carman William Cantelon, Milton, in a double ring ceremony. Rev. William Householder, of Hamilton officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta, bouffant-skirted, with a bodice of Guipure lace, having a scoop neckline. A crown headpiece held her finger-tip veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and feathered carnations.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Marjorie Schaus, as maid of honour in a gown of open blue silk organza over taffeta. Bridesmaids were Miss Edna Crompton, Hamilton and Miss Helen Watson, Peterborough, in angel blue organza. Their bouffant dresses had scoop necklines and beading panels in lime green.

Little flower girls were Miss Brenda Krantz and Miss Eileen Krantz, sisters of the groom, who wore yellow.

All carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

The bride was given in marriage, by her brother, Gordon Johnson. Groomsman was Stanley Magee of Acton.

Ushers were Robert Moreau of Acton, and cousins of the bride, Eric and Peter Sherratt of Milton.

Bouquets of pink and white peonies decorated the Anglican parish hall for the reception which followed. The bride's mother, received her guests wearing a powder blue suit with navy and powder blue accessories. Her corsage of deep pink roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom wearing powder blue nylon over taffeta with white accessories. Deep pink roses also formed her corsage.

The couple left on a wedding trip to northern Ontario. The bride left wearing a deep pink broadcated taffeta dress with a matching duster coat, and pale pink accessories. A corsage of white roses completed her ensemble.

They will make their home in Milton, where the bride is an employee of Ontario Steel and the groom is employed at Green Motors.

Guests attended the wedding from Toronto, Milton Heights, Georgetown, Acton, Campbellville, Oakville, Kilbride and Milton. Among them was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Jones of Toronto.

A double ring ceremony in Grace Anglican Church, Milton, united in marriage Olive Margaret Johnson and Gordon Arthur Krantz. White mums formed the setting as Rev. D. A. Powell officiated on Saturday afternoon, on June 28th. Mrs. A. Ledwith played the organ for the service.

in the back. They carried flowers of Tallman shade carnations and corn flowers.

Groomsman for his brother was John Cantelon, Toronto; Charles Brown, Owen Sound, friend of the groom and Paul Schaus, Chesley, cousin of the bride ushered.

Miss Olive Poulton sang The Wedding Prayer and Where'er You Walk, accompanied by Mrs. J. Grady.

At the Wentworth Arms, the bride's mother received her 70 guests, wearing grey lace over taffeta, with matching grey and rose accessories. The groom's mother, assisted in Shelley pink embroidered organza and pale pink accessories. Both wore a corsage of orchids.

The couple left later on a motor trip to Cape Cod and Vermont. The bride travelling in a navy and white silk dress, navy coat and white hat. They will make their home in Oakville.

Guests were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Oakville, Kitchener, Sarnia, Chatham, Peterborough, Owen Sound, Chesley and Milton.

Miss Patricia Smye, Miss Edna Crompton, and Mrs. Neil Dickson were among the hostesses who entertained for the bride. Each held a shower, as did also Mrs. J. Garner and the staff of Peace Memorial School.
