Port Arthur Resident Buried in Greenwood

Mrs. Rosa Curtis, 64, who was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, on Monday, was the wife of a former town resident, Duncan Basil Curtis. A native of Pembroke, she died at Port Arthur General Hospital on August 29th.

Mr. Curtis received his schooling in town and older residents will remember his father, James Curtis, top salesman of sewing machines and organs who had a store on Main Street which was demolished when the radial station (now the Christian Reformed Church) was built. The family later moved to Barrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Curtis lived in Timmins where he was an optometrist and drug store operator and in Hamilton, and moved to Port Arthur a few years ago. Her husband survives, with two children, James of Toronto and Ruth, Mrs. T. P. Callon of Port Arthur.

The funeral service took place in Toronto, where requiem mass was held on Monday morning in St. Monica's R.C. Church. Father Thomas Van Laer of Holy Cross Church officiated at the committal service here later in the morning.
