Local Couple Attend Wedding in Fergus

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Wyck, 37 John St. E. were among the wedding guests when his nephew was married in Fergus.

Standards of pink and white gladioli and candelabra formed a lovely setting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fergus, on Saturday, September 6th, for the wedding of Marilyn Ida Jill Gear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin Gear, Fergus to Donald Sherdon Van Wyck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Wyck, Fergus.

Reverend Ross Adams officiated and Mrs. Elma Jack, accompanied by Mrs. M. S. McNiven at the organ, sang "O Perfect Love" and "Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of imported chantilly lace and net over matching tulle and ruffled net and featured a sabrina neckline. Her shoulder length seed pearl trimmed net veil fell from a halo of chantilly lace decorated with seed pearls. She carried a gardenia, and pinocchio mum corsage on a white bible.

Mrs. Lois Gear, Clarkson, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honour was in a peacock blue peau de soie ballerina length gown, which featured a bateau neckline and full skirt with criss-cross sash. She wore a matching picture hat, shoes and gloves and carried white mums.

Cathy Van Wyck, Fergus, niece of the bridegroom was flower girl in a short dress with a Peter Pan collar identical to that of the matron of honour in material and color; matching sash and gloves. She wore a matching headband and carried white mums.

Brian van Wyck, Fergus, nephew of the bridegroom was ring bearer.

Best man was Douglas Van Wyck, Fergus, brother of the bridegroom and the ushers were John Gear, Clarkson, brother of the bride and Ron Cargo of Fergus.

For the reception in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church parlor, the bride's mother received wearing a beige and brown wool jersey dress, brown and beige accessories and a corsage of yellow and rust mums. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother in a beige lace dress, brown velvet hat, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

For a honeymoon trip to northern points, the bride donned a navy blue venetian crepe suit, navy and white accessories and a gardenia corsage.

They will reside on Garafraza Street, Fergus.

LEGION NOTES

By Leslie M. Clark

The Zone church parade will be held Sunday, (next) Sept. 21st in Port Credit, with that branch of the Legion playing host. The parade will form at 2.00 p.m. in front of the Legion Hall and will proceed to the Cenotaph for a short service. Last year Georgetown had a very excellent turnout in Oakville, and as we believe that Port Credit has made extensive preparations for this big day, in much the same way as Oakville did last year, it is certainly hoped that there will be a large turnout from Branch 120. All branches in the zone have promised a big representation, so let's hope that Georgetown will do the same.

Two years ago, a new system was started with the annual zone parade, and it was decided to rotate it each year, to a different branch. The first year (1956) it was held in Georgetown, with a tremendous turnout and last year also was a terrific success. This year promises to be as big again, and we have been notified that once again the whole parade will appear on TV. This will establish something of a record, with it appearing on TV two years ago, and last year as part of the Oakville Centennial celebrations. The two TV stations have promised to televise the parade, as well as parts of the service, so this will be quite an interesting event.

Remember the date Sunday, September 21st, in Port Credit, at 2.00 p.m. at the Legion Hall. Be sure and be on hand for a great day! As you know, Port Credit is noted for its hospitality to visitors, and we feel this year will be no exception!

Any one wishing to go or who has room in his car for extra passengers, be at the Legion Hall at 1 o'clock.

It seems hard to realize that Remembrance Day lies just around the corner. And yet, it is only a matter of two months away. And with the thought of this day, which takes us all back so far, it is only right that we should think of the great project, that is carried on each year at that time — the Poppy Campaign. It is not too early to think of this and indeed to offer your services to the person who each year carries this burden so ably and well, Mrs. Grieve. Each year the job becomes more onerous, as the town grows, and gives a corresponding larger territory to cover. Even in the case of the schools, where poppies are distributed each year, one can see genuine increase and this year with another two schools it will be even more noticeable.

So why not volunteer to help on this big job? . . . It will be appreciated.

Plans are now underway for the Remembrance Supper, and it will not be very long until we can give you a report on this. We believe that the president and entertainment chairman will be getting together on this in the near future.

The new bakery store opening next door to the Legion Hall is going to make an attractive addition to the downtown business scene. An attractive show window is being put in, and will add considerably to Mill Street.

The owner, incidentally, is a Fergus man, having ran a bakeshop there until his retirement, and is a member of the Legion branch there.

What we are about to say, will no doubt receive criticism, so we hasten to add the views are only our personal ones, as an individual. They regard the parade on last Sunday, which we regard as a disgrace to a branch of over 400 members. Frankly, had it not been for the number of vets of 1914-16, plus visiting branches it would have been very poor indeed. It was in fact, the poorest turnout the branch has ever had on a parade of that sort. If even those who had someone whose grave was being decorated had all turned out, it might have been a great deal larger parade. To our way of thinking there was no excuse, save carelessness, or that other reason, which we shall not put in print, but along with a good many more who were present, feel was the basic underlying reason. To those who did parade, we think the branch owes a vote of thanks.

We also find it rather a sad commentary on human nature, that those who did most of the complaining about the fact that a parade was not held last year, were most conspicuous by their absence on parade. It is evidently quite a different matter to complain bitterly (in the beverage room) about "how things ought to be run" than to actually practice what they preach.

Once again, Mrs. Grieve made a beautiful job of the wreaths for the graves, and we think that a debt of thanks is owed to her for her wonderful job.

Council deserves a vote of thanks for their excellent turnout, as does the band and the ladies auxiliary and cadets. The colour party was a large one with many out-of-town branches sending colours.

At any rate with the approach of Remembrance Day, we will be only too happy to eat our words about the poor attendance on Decoration Day, if we have a real big turnout. How about it Branch 120?
