... EDITORIAL COMMENT ...

Fine Home for Senior Citizens

Recently the Herald has been featuring news letters from Halton Centennial Manor, the county's residence in Milton for senior citizens.

We are indebted to two former Georgetowners for this welcome addition to the news pages — Ex-Reeve Stan Allen, who is now superintendent at the Manor and Miss Muriel Thompson, a former Queen Street resident who has been a member of the office staff for several years.

More important than the favour they do us and the county press, however, is the effect which these stories have on people who are sometimes inclined to think of the Manor in terms of what this sort of residence was half a century ago. There was a time when a home for elderly people was a drab and dingy place, never properly maintained, and a source of shame for residents and their families.

What a change has been wrought by forward-thinking county politicians who, a few years ago, erected the present beautiful structure on Milton's outskirts. And in keeping with the fine surroundings, residents have a full social life, which includes hobby clubs, and card parties, as well as entertaining visits by church groups, clubs and bands.

Halton Manor can stand as a model for other parts of Ontario to emulate, and Haltonites can be proud to have it as one of our most impressive public buildings.

Sub Post Office Would Help

Increasing pressure by residents of the Del-rex part of town for mail delivery is apparently meeting with little success. And we are not particularly convinced that, at the present time, a town this size is in particular need of house delivery.

We do need, however, an extension of the present one-post office system, and would suggest that the authorities give further consideration to establishing a sub-office in the eastern section of town, from which mail for that area could be disseminated.

Disaster Touches the Heart

Death of over 70 men in a mining disaster at Springhill, N.S., has touched the hearts of the nation. And most specifically it has been a heartache for those Georgetown residents who come from the Maritimes and have relatives and friends among the disaster victims.

One of these is Fred Hue, an Ontario Street resident, whose home area is only a few miles away from the stricken community. As soon as he heard the news, Mr. Hue converted his sympathy into action and organized a local campaign for funds to assist the town which, with its large industry idle, will have some tough times ahead.

He has already met with some success in a tour of the papermill where he is employed and on Monday the town council voted $100 to the fund. Mr. Hue is acting as a sub-agent for a Toronto fund which is being administered by the Chartered Trust Co. He will be pleased to hear from any district resident who might wish to add their bit of assistance to people who are facing a bleak Christmas until some decision is made on reopening of the mine.

HORNBY

TV SHOW, BUILDING TOUR HIGHLIGHT CITY VISIT

Twenty nine ladies went on a bus tour sponsored by the Hornby Women's Institute on Wednesday, October 22nd. They went to Toronto and went through the Crippled Civilian Building on Jarvis Street and then on to the town and Country Club for lunch.

In the afternoon they went thru the Christie Brown factory and then to Studio One where they sat in on Gordie Tapp's p.m. party on television. Mrs. Walter Coulton took part in a contest and received a bouquet of roses. The bus arrived back in Hornby at 6 p.m. All the ladies had a very enjoyable day.

The St. Stephen's Anglican Church Guild and W.A. held their annual bazaar in the church basement hall on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25th. The bazaar was well attended. Mrs. Haley of Georgetown was the holder of the lucky tea ticket. She won a three and one half pound decorated Christmas cake.

The Hornby ball clubs catered for a Masonic supper on Wednesday evening, October 22nd. They served nearly 200 turkey dinners. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bradley visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lerch of Guelph on Sunday.

Keith Ella returned home from the Hamilton General Hospital last Tuesday where he had a knee operation.

The Halton Presbytery WMS fall rally was held on Wednesday, October 22nd at the Hornby United Church. The meeting started with the ladies registering at 9.30 a.m. Eighty one ladies enjoyed the dinner at noon prepared by the Hornby United Church ladies. The meeting closed at 4 p.m.

Scotch Bakery Operators Come Here From Fergus

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, formerly of Fergus, are justifiably excited over the reception they have been given since moving to town. The reason? Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the proprietors of the new Scotch Bakery on Mill Street which for the past four weeks has been one of the buzziest shops in the business section.

Neither half of the partnership is by any means a newcomer to the baking trade. Mr. Smith has been a baker all his life and Mrs. Smith can boast of almost twenty years in the business since their marriage in 1929, two years after Mr. Smith came to Canada from Glasgow, Scotland. She is also a native of Scotland coming here from Paisley.

In the pre-war years Mr. Smith did all his baking in shops on the Danforth and includes Brooks' Bakery, McDonald's Bakery and Henderson's Bakery among his former employers there, before going into the army in 1940, where he was made QMS bakery instructor for the 1st Canadian Division.

When he came out of the army the Smiths moved to Galt and Co-machie's Baker in 1947, later to Worton's Bakery in Guelph and then to Fergus where they operated their own shop, the Fergus Scotch Bakery, for five years before coming here. They will in the near future be offering a complete line of Scottish baking including soda scones, butter scones and potato scones, and seasonal cakes in addition to their present line of conventional pastries.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have three daughters, Mrs. Cecil Reid of Guelph, Mrs. Harold Despond of Galt and Mrs. Howard Little of Detroit, and a son William who is an IBM apprentice with Bucyrus Erie Co., of Canada Ltd., Guelph. Their local staff includes Mrs. Ivan Leslie, Dawn Fiebig and Gloria McQuarrie.

ASHGROVE

COUNTY PRESIDENT IS SPEAKER TO INSTITUTE

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, at eight thirty the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Cecil Wilson with president Mrs. Cliff Hunter opening with the ode and creed. Assistant secretary Mrs. Len Cox called the roll which was answered by "A new product I have tried and it tells it well and it will sell" was well given by Mrs. Horace Barnes. Thank you notes from sick ones were read and reports from the fair and cemetery were given. Mrs. Bob Alexander had charge of the program and called on Mrs. Charles Austin for current events. As this was Canadian industries meeting several members read papers from a book published by the Government. Mrs. Thos. Giffen gave interesting facts about Mining. Mrs. Robert Cunningham on Fishing. Mrs. Milton Bird on Agriculture. Mrs. Fred Nurse on Manufacturing and Mrs. John Bellibody on Lumbering. Two contests were conducted on apples and trees. Mrs. Ernie Tindale presented an Institute cup and saucer to Mrs. John H. Hunter who is moving away, after which Mrs. Alexander introduced the guest speaker, the county president, Mrs. Velma Norris, of Milton, who left some grand thoughts as she spoke on "Are we hitchhikers or workers". We are judged by the seeds we sow, she said, and we do profit by our mistakes. We are a link in a big organization. What kind of a link are we? She stressed the many, many things we should be thankful for in this wonderful country, and she closed by saying there are two kinds of people, plus and minus. What are we? Mrs. Frank Wilson reported on the Wednesday of the area convocation held in Guelph in September, and Mrs. Hector Bird reported on the Thursday highlights which gives an insight of the happenings at these gatherings. Mrs. Jas. Carney thanked the speaker and everyone who had taken part and the meeting closed with the Queen and a social hour.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bird on the birth of their daughter in a Guelph Hospital last Friday the 26th. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dick attended the anniversary service in Knox Presbyterian Church, Milton on Sunday morning. The Young People held their meeting on Sunday evening at the home of Allan Brownridge with Barbara Cunningham and Bob Ruddell in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Marilyn were visiting Mrs. Ellen Rendhead in Milton on Sunday.

HOW'S YOUR I.Q. ?

TODAY'S INSURANCE PROBLEMS ANSWERED

QUESTION: What happens if the casualty insurance company I am insured in goes bankrupt and I am being sued for an automobile accident?

ANSWER: You are basically liable for any judgment rendered against you, and this is just as if you had no insurance unless something can be collected from the bankruptcy.
