CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INFORMATION CENTRE

Lack of a central information agency for Georgetown Chamber of Commerce was rectified at a recent board of directors meeting when an offer from the Hunter Real Estate office to use their accommodation on the highway was accepted.

Any literature which is issued by the chamber will be available at the office, and Mr. Hunter has offered the facilities of his office to answer questions and direct enquiries to their proper source.

The directors voted to continue the annual Christmas lighting contest which has spurred interest in decorating among householders and merchants the past two years. A report was given on the 1958 shopping guide which is in process of preparation and will be issued within the next month.

CHURCH MEN ASSIST IN LAYMEN'S SERVICE

Several men of St. George's Anglican took part in the Sunday morning service which was the annual celebration of laymen's Sunday.

Gordon Spence, president of the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen and Eric Wallace read the lessons; Thomas Warnes, Bob Borland and Jack Meades took other parts of the matins service and Rev. Kenneth Richardson slanted his sermon particularly towards a man's place in church life.

At 8 a.m. that morning, the BAC held its regular communion service and breakfast meeting. Main business discussed was the new ceiling installation in the parish hall which the men have volunteered to do, with financial assistance from the Daughters of the Church. It is also planned to panel a section of the hall.

Lions Club Expands as Five New Members Join

The Lions Club of Georgetown enrolment was expanded by five members on Tuesday, October 21 when Harold Bailey, Ross Otto, Bill Hunter, Alex Blackwell and Earl Olsen were inducted into the club at a dinner meeting in the Legion Hall.

Jack Gunning was chairman of the induction, assisted by past presidents Jim Jones, Don Barrager and Clarence Kennedy, president Dick Miller and membership chairman Stan Wade. The new clubs were initiated during the dinner meeting with Ivan Crabtree and Jim Carney in charge. This month is membership development month for Lions International.

The guest speaker at the meeting, introduced by Jim Jones, was International Counsellor Bob Cooper who gave an interesting talk on his motor trip from Chicago to Fairbanks, Alaska immediately after the International Convention this summer in Chicago. He also gave an outline of Lionism in Alaska and told of many interesting points and people met on the trip.

Mr. Cooper included information on the cost of living in Alaska, weather conditions, travel conditions, etc in his talk and told of meeting people from this district who, within the last five years, have taken up residence in Alaska. He congratulated the Georgetown club on their fine work and wished them continued success. He was thanked by Murt Allison.

Tom Reed gave a report on plans on the annual Christmas Tree and poultry draw, and Clarence Heslop reported a brisk sale of tickets on the mink stole draw with just four weeks remaining. Visitors at the meeting included ed Ollie Dyson, Bob Brick and Rotary President Bill Carr who spoke briefly, outlining arrangements for the joint Rotary-Kingsmen-Lions ladies' night next month. A large representation of members have planned to attend the Region 6 Rally next Thursday night in Streetsville.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DANCE, BUFFET SUPPER

Replacing the quarterly business meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the Chamber held a dance and dinner at North Halton Golf and Country Club a week ago Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crichton welcomed the guests and ladies each received an attractive corsage of baby mums. Through the kindness of a member, Bill Carr, the crowd danced to tuneful "taped" music, and a number of lucky spot dances added interest to the evening. The evening concluded with a midnight buffet.
