COOKSVILLE HOST FOR SECTIONAL WMS RALLY

East and south sections of the United Church WMS in Hallow held a rally on October 29th in Cooksville United Church.

Mrs. L. Leaver opened the morning session and Mrs. D. Haight called on Port Credit Evening Auxiliary for the worship service. "Discovering Your Neighbourhood" was the discussion subject for the groups.

Mrs. W. B. Fleuty, president of Hamilton Conference W.A. gave highlights of the general council and reviewed the report on women's work in the church. Mrs. W. O. Fennell gave a challenging talk on Christian Stewardship. She asked "How can mission work be integrated into the total work of the church?"

Mrs. C. Tombs presented a film on supply work called "The Long Stride" — the same film shown last Sunday evening in Balinafad United Church. Mrs. A. B. Harris brought greetings from the Presbyterian WMS and Mrs. E. S. Leaker from the Presbyterian W.A.

Mrs. Sheehan, Mrs. Leaver and Mrs. Haight, by means of a panel, introduced the study book "Concerns of a Continent." Mrs. G. W. Cushnie and several associate member secretaries presented a skit entitled "Unthoughtful Treasure." Mrs. Hugh Monaghan gave an interesting talk on the Candidate department.

Mrs. Lorimer of Lorne Park introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Marie-Jean Coleman, who discussed a taped address of the late Dr. Marion Hilliard on women in church work. Mrs. J. D. Mills gave the courtesy report and Mrs. Leaver closed the meeting with prayer.

LEGION NOTES

By
Leslie M. Clark

Last Friday night was the annual Remembrance Dinner of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. Present were some two hundred and fifty guests.

Among those present at the head table were: President, Harvey Garvin, Mayor and Mrs. Mrs. John T. Armstrong, Rev. John McDermid, Rev. Kenneth Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Hall, MPP, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Day, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Best, MPP, and the master of ceremonies, Les Clark, and Mrs. Clark.

The evening was an exceptionally successful one, with a record number that packed the auditorium.

The evening was opened with Grace, followed by the singing of God Save the Queen. After a delicious turkey dinner served by the ladies of the W.A., a number of toasts were proposed, including: a toast to "Our Fallen Comrades" by Rev. Kenneth Richardson, which was responded to by the group present standing in silent remembrance of their fallen comrades.

The next toast was that to the "Canadian Legion" by Mayor John Armstrong, who lauded the group for their work in the community, as well as their service to their country in wartime. He spoke of the many ways they had bettered community life in Georgetown, and said that he did not fear for the future of Georgetown as long as they had the Legion and other groups like it to help develop it. His toast was responded to by the senior Legion official present, the district zone commander. Rev. John McDermid, the guest speaker of the evening was then introduced by the mayor and gave a very interesting talk which was enjoyed by all.

The speaker's theme was the development of mankind, culturally and politically, until the present atomic space age was reached, when for the first time in history, man had the ability to destroy himself and the world. He stressed that the reason underlying this was the lag, in other fields of culture and political science, behind the advance of our scientific minds.

He was thanked by the chairman of the evening, who remarked how very pleasant it was for him to be able to hear him, and also that it must be good for so many old acquaintances to hear him once more.

A twenty five year pin was presented to Mr. William Wylie by the president, Harvey Garvin and to John Kemshead Sr., and to Charles Davis. A picture of this group was taken later by the newspaper photographer, with William Roney, who received the Legion Medal of Merit some time ago, and the president and guest speaker.

Mr. Jim Yates, first vice president, thanked the ladies for their wonderful dinner.

After the dinner a social time was spent, and dancing was enjoyed to the music of the Debonnaires.

We know everyone, like ourselves, were alarmed when that phone call for our friend "Arny" came in the middle of the dinner last Friday . . . was Plastics afire? . . . was his home burning? . . . had there been a serious accident at the factory? . . . nothing so prosaic as that! Someone wanted to buy a pair of skates that he had advertised in the Herald small ads last Wednesday. Such is the power of our classified section! Just to top things off our boy received a ticket after the dinner, too.

Sunday's Remembrance Day was an excellent service, with a good turnout of men on parade. We were all pleased, I think, that took part, to see so many on parade. It was also nice to see such a full turnout of bandsmen, and civic officials in the parade. There was a fair attendance of townspeople present for the service too.

Members are reminded to get busy and sell their Xmas draw tickets. Gob Collier has a big job in this respect, and will need all the help he can get. If you have no books, contact him. This is one thing that needs all our support.

Members are reminded to get Bud Hill and his merry men on the hockey executive seem to be whipping things into shape, and we hope to see a real season for the local kids this winter. More help is urgently needed. How about it, dad? Give the boys a hand. The committee has a terrific job ahead of them, it lies them up for every Saturday morning until the spring, surely the least all of us can do is offer to help by making arrangements to take certain Saturday mornings. Also we might point out that any one is invited to give a hand, it's not necessary to be a Legion member. And new people, particularly in the newer subdivisions, are urged to come down and give a hand.

We understand that the Legion now sports a new song group, called "The Four Cuts." The boys are available at low cost for engagements. Just see the steward and he'll put you in touch with them. Weird and wonderful music at all hours . . . is their motto . . . also we sing any place, any time!

One of the nicest things that we feel has been done is that annual trophy, given to the dart champion, presented in memory of the late Fred Gilmer, by his sons. We can not think of any one thing that could have been a finer remembrance of Fred. He was a keen dart player, and an excellent Legion member, and was and still is sorely missed, by many of his comrades. Every time we hear of that trophy, we think of the man it was named after. And further we think of one his finest qualities, and one which most of us mortals lack to greater or lesser extent, the ability to either say something nice about a person or not to say anything at all. Fred Gilmer came to our mind as we stood in the Legion Hall on Sunday, and watched the members arriving for the Remembrance parade. And particularly were we struck with that thought when we saw that group of first war vets who were such great and constant friends of his.

We have always admired the trait of the first war vets, in the way they have always more or less remained friends down through the years. We have felt that this was something lacking in second war vets, and I suppose is the aftermath of the first world war, that did not have the vast distances to travel but had that horrible type of warfare, that of the trench, when men remained together, possibly, if they survived, for the duration of the war.

And still further on the same subject, each year there becomes a few less of the ones who started and fostered the branch. We can't help thinking, in this week of remembrance of a few who were always particularly close to us, and who spent much of their leisure time in the branch, in the persons of, besides Fred Gilmer, "Dutch" McCartney, "Frisco" Fry, Jim Blair, "Pappy" Allen, besides the many others who have passed away in the past few months. Age, as it inexorably does, takes us all, and the past thirteen years has seen a grim harvest of the founders of our branch.

And in the morning,
We will remember them!"
