

Interior Design Interests 24 Night School Students

On Tuesday evening, 24 would-be interior decorators gather under the tutelage of James Warren at Georgetown high school. Here, in an informal atmosphere they are learning the pitfalls not to fall into, when planning an apartment or home.

The course is divided into 12 twelve sessions covering active areas versus quiet areas, work areas, and storage for the family treasures and the inevitable junk. They also learn how to make a new house livable, complete with mortgage, and an old house practical.

The art of decorating, including colour on walls, floors and furnishings is covered along with the care and placing of painting and sculpture. It does not mean starting with everything new. The old comfortable furniture, along with the favourite nick-nacks with their memories need not be discarded. Two evenings are devoted entirely to the problems of the class members themselves, which all discuss, so as to get the last ounce of usefulness and enjoyment out of everything they buy.

Members of the class are: Mrs. Jack Crichton, Limehouse; Mrs. Jake Abrahamse, 28 Ewing St.; Mrs. Joe McClintock, 53 Market St.; Mrs. Ross Second, 30 Shelley St.; Neil Benton, Limehouse; Mrs. Ted Scott, 41 Shelley St.; Mrs. D. F. Wright, 57 Edith St.; Mrs.

Red Cross Comes to Springhill Mine Aid

The Canadian Red Cross reported last week that its expenditure for disaster relief at Springhill now totals $20,000.

The Red Cross relief effort started on the evening of October 23. Branch disaster workers were at the pithead within a half hour after news of the bump was announced. Within hours a supply of serum albumin was rushed to Springhill from the Red Cross blood depot in Halifax by Royal Canadian navy helicopter.

Nova Scotia division sent a portable hospital and a mobile canteen to the scene on the following day. A mobile disaster unit and a dozen disaster workers from New Brunswick Division arrived the same day. A group of volunteers from Prince Edward Island joined their Red Cross colleagues later in the day.

Harvey R. Doane, president of Nova Scotia Division of the Red Cross, praised the many volunteers who participated in relief work of all kinds. He reported men, women, young people from all parts of the province as well as from New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island came to the ill-fated town to work beside members of Springhill Branch. Approximately 150 volunteers were on duty at various jobs every day. It is estimated that volunteers contributed over 15,000 hours of their time, in relief work.

A rough estimate of the articles distributed to the miners includes 20,000 cigarettes, 5,000 candy bars, 2,800 bottles of soft drinks and 880 plugs of chewing tobacco.

The value of the socks and towels are not represented in the $20,000 expenditure as these had been produced by volunteers of the Women's Work Committee. An appeal for more socks and towels was answered promptly by Quebec Red Cross. Hundreds of socks and towels were rushed by air transport from Montreal to replenish the dwindling stores at the disaster headquarters.

Large quantities of food have also been distributed by the Red Cross to the families of the men trapped in the mine. This has been donated by people and firms in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. These gifts have included five tons of potatoes, hundreds of pounds of vegetables and butter, cases of eggs and a large quantity of canned goods.

Rev. and Mrs. Powell At W. M. S. Service

Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Powell, were guest speakers at the Norval Presbyterian Family Night Church Service, sponsored by the W.M.S. Mrs. Powell had the rapt attention of the children in the audience as she told of a day in a child's life in Japan, and a little about her work in the Yodagawa Hospital.

Mr. Powell gave a brief history of the Korean churches in Japan and told of the efforts they are making to establish a strong lay ministry within the Korean Presbyterian Church. On his return to Japan, Rev. Powell will be working in the newly established lay centre at Kyoto, Japan.

Rev. G. L. Royal of Norval conducted the service, and Rev. A. J. Calder of Georgetown sang two solos.

At the close of the service, Mrs. Powell presented pins to the members of the Mission Band of Norval Presbyterian Church.

In the congregation were several groups of young people from surrounding churches. Following the service, tea was served in the Sunday School room by the ladies of the church.
