Postmaster General
Visitor in Georgetown

The local post office staff were surprised and honoured on Thursday by a visit from the postmaster general, the Hon. William Hamilton, of Ottawa.

Mr. Hamilton was passing through town on business but stayed long enough to meet the post office staff and discuss the local expansion problem with postmaster Harold Marshall. He was accompanied by the regional director of postal service, Mr. William Pearson of London.

It was the first time that any postmaster general has paid a visit to the Georgetown post office.

Businesswomen Learn
About Town Industries

It was acquainted with Georgetown Industries Night at the Business and Professional Women's regular dinner meeting held at the Jack O'Lanter last Monday evening. Jean Mackenzie, the program convener planned a meeting that will be remembered for a long time, that coupled with the splendid dinner arranged by the social convener Janet McDougall, made the evening a complete success.

Miss Lena McNally spoke about Provincial Paper Mills, telling how the paper was coated, and right on through the various processes until the product was finished. Miss Isobel Dobson prepared the material on the Alliance Mill which covered the aspects of what went into the various coatings and colors of paper and into the history of the Mill itself. Both girls brought samples of their several papers. Mrs. William Smith, who had worked for a paper company previously in Brampton, gave Miss Dobson's paper for her.

Mrs. Walter Rigg was the representative from Smith and Stone telling of many of the products in porcelain, bakelite, and plastics, etc. which are manufactured there. She also brought many samples to illustrate the various methods and steps in manufacture. Mrs. John Young and Mrs. Jean McArthur jointly spoke on Varian Associates of Canada, the newest industry being discussed, and the one that the members knew least about. They brought a sample klystron and sketches of interesting instruments. Mrs. Andy Crichton spoke of the work involved in handling the Christmas mail, the number of extra persons employed and the various plans made to give fast and efficient service at Christmas and also several hints how people could help them by trying their local mail and sorting other cards into cities and provinces to help with the sorting problem.

The girls all represented their companies well and everyone present learned things about Georgetown industry that they had not known before. Mrs. Elizabeth McCrae expressed the appreciation of the members to the girls for their talks and for all the work that it entailed.

During the business portion of the meeting Mrs. Wallace Thompson presented the budget which was accepted without a change. Motions were passed regarding a scholarship in the amount of $100. to be given a girl student to further her education and also that the 1958-1959 donation to UNICEF be $50. Plans were discussed for the Christmas party, to be held on Monday, December 15th at the home of Mrs. C. Belleghem.

Members were told of the Blood Clinic being held in Knox Church Hall and asked if they would become donors if they were not already. Jean Ruddell spoke on the United Nations Seminar being held in March at the United Nations and also about UNICEF Christmas cards. After several other orders of business the meeting closed with the creed and benediction.

1st GEORGETOWN CUBS
HAVE SUNDAY HIKE

Thirty-one boys, members of 1st Georgetown C Pack Cubs and one visitor traversed the woods in the Speyside area on Sunday in search of markers and buried messages on an unbroken trail which led them some two and a half miles to the cabin of Georgetown Rover Scout Crew.

The boys met at St. John's Church and were transported to their starting point by cars. They followed signs and tree blazings to locate the bottles containing compass directions to the next buried message and finally the cabin, where they were greeted by some of the parents and a welcome lunch and hot chocolate.

Three leaders, Dave Hastings, Frank Bryant and Peter Forgrave accompanied the cubs during their trek and a fourth, Wayne Flebig led the parents to the finishing point. The hike took the cubs approximately an hour and three-quarters to complete.

The Pack is grateful to G. W. Tomlins, H. G. Howard, James MacMillan, Bob McMenemy, O. Paul and F. W. Norton who supplied transportation and to the pack mothers for preparing the lunch. Scheme over the cubs were back home shortly after five.

Win One, Lose One
Week's Junior Record

A third period collapse by Georgetown Jr. Cheviets enabled Brooklyn to cut down the locals with a five goal outburst and sweep to a handy 7-3 win, before a handful of customers at Georgetown arena last night.

The Cheviets matched the big Brooklyn Club 7-2 in two periods. It was 1-1 after the first twenty minutes, and 2-1 at the end of the second but the charm wore off in the late stages, and the locals managed only a single while the visitors counted five times. Fred Harrison, Charlie Davies and Heritage notched the Georgetown goals.

On Friday Leigh Bradbury coached his club to a 6-3 romp over Newmarket Smoke Rings in a hard played contest that went into overtime. Again the attendance was way down from what this type of hockey deserves but a much larger crowd is anticipated for Tuesday night when Richmond Hill plays here.

Here are some of the immediate games coming up:

- Sat., Nov. 29: Chevrolets at Brooklyn
- Tues., Dec. 2 — Richmond Hill at Chevrolets
- Fri., Dec. 5 — Chevrolets vs. Richmond Hill at Nobleton
- Tues., Dec. 9 — Midlands at Chevrolets
- Thurs., Dec. 11 — Chevrolets at Midland
- Richmond Hill plays their home games at Midland

TURKEY SUPPER DRAWS
OVER 200 ON MONDAY

A turkey supper, jointly convened by the Woman's Association and the Daughters of St. George's was served to over 200 people in the church parish hall on Monday. First such event held at the church for many years, it proved to be a popular one which the ladies hope to repeat each year. Organ music was provided in the church while guests waited to be seated at the serving tables.
