Harold C. McClure Funeral Home Invited by Selected Morticians

The Harold C. McClure Funeral Home, 34 Edith Street, recently accepted an invitation to membership in the National Selected Morticians, Inc., an international association of leading funeral homes and mortuaries.

Membership in the association is by invitation only. W. M. Krieger, managing director of NSM, says. Affiliation with this organization is considered an honour because of the high standards that are required. Invitation to membership is extended only after a thorough investigation of facilities, standards of service, and reputation has been made.

The essential purposes of the National Selected Morticians are explained by H. C. McClure, president of Harold C. McClure Funeral Home. As a fact-finding and research organization, continuous efforts are made by the association to raise the standards of funeral service and develop improved techniques for serving the public.

Headquarters for the group are in Evanston, Illinois, and member mortuaries are located in key cities of all 48 states. Organized in 1917, the group also has elected members in the Hawaiian Islands, Canada, New Zealand, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Panama, France, China, Mexico, Australia, and Ceylon.

Among other services the association provides architectural, tax and management counsel. It has an extensive library service, Mr. McClure says, and conducts continuous surveys of an educational nature among its members.

Mr. McClure also explains that a member may be expelled from the organization at any time if its standards drop below the rigid requirements.

Requirements for membership in NSM stipulate that each affiliate must have a completely equipped, modern establishment, and an excellent credit rating. The characters and reputations of the management of every member firm must be outstanding, and a high standard of professional ability is mandatory.

The Harold C. McClure Funeral Home organization was congratulated by Mr. Leo R. McAloon, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, president of the National Selected Morticians, who said "I am privileged to welcome the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home into NSM, with every assurance that this reliable firm will continue to serve the people of Georgetown in complete accord with the Code of Ethics of our association."
