Coneybear Speaks at B & P Women's Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club held their regular dinner meeting at the Jack O'Lantern on Monday evening. The large number of members and guests present were delighted with the talk given them by the guest speaker R. Coneybear. Playwrite, actor and script writer of radio and TV. Mr. Coneybear told how a play is written and then took them thru the numerous and varied channels of having the play read and sold — or rejected. His talk was based on fact but given in a light and humorous vein, nevertheless leaving his listeners aware of the fact that play-writing is a difficult and competitive field but most rewarding. A question period followed, and Mr. Coneybear was able to satisfy the curiosity of many of the members about that mysterious field of TV and radio. Marion Robinson introduced the speaker and Janet McDougall expressed the appreciation of the club.

Reports were heard from several committees showing work well underway. Jean Mackenzie gave a report on the program for March which will be International night at the club and it sounded most interesting. A donation was voted to help the fund to send a member from Japan to the International Conference in Paris this summer. Invitations were received from the Hamilton Club to attend their International Night in March at the Royal Connaught Hotel, from the Toronto Club to their International Dinner in the Royal York, from the Metropolitan Toronto Clubs to their Green and Gold Bridge and Fashion Show in the new Canadian Room this Saturday, from the Stouffville Club to their Chinese Dinner in Richmond Hill and from the Brampton Club to attend their Fashion Show on Mar. 10th and 11th.

Mrs. James Rundle was appointed chairman for Business Women's Week and Mrs. Win Wallace will look after the Authoritative list of Women. Plans were reported to be well underway for the Regional Meeting to be held on April 13th in Georgetown. The motion on the books re having an annual games nite was rescinded in view of the fact so many organizations had taken up the idea it was felt its value was past. The meeting closed with the club prayer and benediction.

Bantams Lose in OMHA But Plan Tourney Entry

The Georgetown bantam hockey team was bumped from the OMHA playdowns Monday night but in losing drew praise from the vice-president of the OMHA, Ted Elmes.

"You played the best game of bantam hockey I have seen all year and are certainly a credit to Georgetown," was Mr. Elmes' comment to the young Georgetown club as they sat dejected in their dressing room in Hespeler after dropping a 4-3 decision and their last chance to stay in the playdowns.

A Hespeler tally from a scramble in front of the Georgetown net with 30 seconds to go in the overtime made the difference after the local youngsters had played the home team to a 3-3 all tie at the end of regulation time in the 3rd game of what was to be a two game total goal series.

Georgetown won the opener in Hespeler Saturday night 5-3 but dropped the Sunday return game by the same count to force the extra match.

B. Campbell scored twice and J. Gudgeon once in a losing cause. Campbell sparked the Saturday win with three markers. Scott and Korzak the other snipers. McNiven, Morrow, Marchment (2), Dixon and Gudgeon picked up assists. On Sunday, Dixon, Lane and Mac Korzak tallied with assists from Marchment, Gudgeon and Campbell.

Though now out of the finals, the Bantams will continue their hockey in an upcoming minor league tourney.

ANTIQUE WATCH, FLUTE ARE SHOWN AT MEETING

Miss Hazel Harrison, Charles St., was hostess for the members of Group 3, W.A., of St. John's United Church on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Harrison based the worship period on 1 Cor. 13 Ch.

"Our love for others manifests itself in many ways, sympathy, understanding and kindness, the two most powerful healing forces" in human relations are understanding and love" stated Miss Harrison. "We are surrounded by people who long for them but we often shut the door on their need." The members joined in the reading, Psalm 730.

During the business period the Apron Committee distributed a lovely selection of print to be made up, beginning preparation for the annual bazaar. A generous donation of print remnants from Group 2 W.A. was very much appreciated. An interesting part of the meeting was answering the roll call with displaying an article over fifty years old. Amongst which was a 150 year old pocket watch belonging to Rev. M. McFarlane's great grandfather. It had a chain drive and was put together with small pegs. Mrs. R. H. Wright displayed a reed flute belonging to well over a hundred years old and there were many more lovely and interesting things.
