The reading of a prayer suitable for Ash Wednesday by Mrs. Lockie opened the bi-weekly meeting of the Halton Manor hobby class on Wednesday afternoon, February 11th with 22 members including Mrs. Lockie and Mrs. Allen present. A gratifying number of finished articles were displayed. These included a crib quilt, two knitted bath mats and a number of aprons in different styles. A number of very attractive remnants obtained by Miss E. Hannant from the T. Eaton Co., and a sample apron from the same firm were displayed. It was decided to use the smaller remnants for aprons and the larger ones for girls' skirts. Miss Hannant donated both the remnants and the apron to the class. Arrangements were made to hold a meeting in observance of the World Day of Prayer on Friday afternoon, February 13th. After a great many matters had been discussed and decided upon, attractive and tasty refreshments consisting of sandwiches donated by Mrs. Lockie and Mrs. Allen, special Valentine cookies made by Mrs. Hazel Smith, the chef, and ginger ale were served.

Peals of light-hearted laughter could have been heard in the dining room of the Manor on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 12th, when 21 ladies belonging to the Scotch Block Women's Institute came to the Manor to entertain the residents by presenting an extremely humorous and enjoyable program. Before the program started, Valentines were distributed in pairs to the residents and visitors with the result that the residents and visitors sat in pairs during the afternoon and thus had a better opportunity of getting acquainted. After the members of the Institute had been welcomed by Mrs. Allen, Miss Charlotte Turner, the president, extended greetings from the Institute to the residents. Miss Turner then presided over a brief business period, in which she was assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Bob Irving. One of the items of his business meeting was the roll call which was answered with a gift from the hobby class. At the close of the business period the program was turned over to Mrs. Jean Wills, under whose guidance a most amusing and light-hearted program was presented. Mrs. Wills herself opened the program with a humorous reading which described how a shy young boy tries to present a Valentine to a not-so-shy young girl. This was followed by a very fine vocal solo, Galway Bay, sung beautifully by Mrs. R. McCuaig, accompanied by Mrs. G. Newell at the piano. Two humorous readings by Miss Turner were also greatly enjoyed. An hilarious part of the program followed. Fifteen of the Institute ladies modelled the latest fashions in Spring hats, all of which were trimmed with articles that could be used or eaten and were a sight to behold.
