LEGION NOTES
by
Les Clark

The full executive meeting of the Legion is to be held in the King Edward Hotel on this Sunday. This will be the last meeting of the committee before the provincial convention to be held in Kitchener the first week in August, and should prove to be an interesting one.

At the last meeting we were surprised to see Gord Martin, who is now zone commander in his zone Orangeville way. He is a former member of Branch 120, and has been secretary of Orangeville branch for many years. As we mentioned, we were surprised because we knew it was not election time for the office, but evidently the zone commander had retired and Gord took over in mid-term.

The provincial public relations meeting was held two weeks ago, and was a most interesting one. A great many matters came up, and a great many decisions were made. Len Taylor, the provincial chairman has done a conscientious job and deserves credit for his tremendous effort, especially as he has combined the job of correspondent to the Legionary, a job that in itself is a terrific one. This year, the writer is judging the "Best Bulletin" contest, and all entries have to be in by May 31st.

A few years ago we entered a bulletin, and received honorable mention for it, although it was pointed out to us that it was a special effort, and therefore not eligible for the prize. These bulletins have become quite a big thing, and some branches are producing real professional jobs. Joe Myverac, the district commander from up in the north county, showed us a special newspaper put out by the Kirkland Lake newspaper, which was a really wonderful tribute to the Legion, and boosted the Legion activities in no end.

We were amused to have the subject of kid hockey come up, and also the terrific emphasis that has been put on it by some branches as a public relations medium. When we say we were amused, we mean that insofar as the idea developed and promoted by a number of branches that they have discovered something "new" in promoting hockey for youngsters. (That reminds us of the time about eight years ago when the broadcast was made by Russ McLeod, sports officer at that time and a former president from Orangeville, Col. Fitzgerald about minor sports.) We always recall the outraged shouts from our hockey committee. Incidentally, in a very fine spirit, Col. Fitzgerald came over to our next branch meeting to set the "record straight".

The zone meeting will be held in April, and quite a number have signified their intentions of running for zone commander. Nominations were held at the last meeting held in Port Credit. We hope that quite a number from Branch 120 will attend and show interest in the workings of the zone. The district meeting will be held in Brantford on Sunday, April 25th, and an election will be held for district commander as well.

We regret to hear that an executive member, Merle Reid, met with a painful accident a number of weeks ago, and is still not getting around too well. We hope you have a speedy recovery, old boy, and do be careful from now on. After all, when you reach 45, it's time to take things easy when it comes to athletics.

Monthly meeting will be held Thursday evening, March 26th at 8 p.m.

Revolver Club Awards Marksmanship Trophies

Trophies for marksmanship in four divisions were awarded at a meeting of the Georgetown Revolver Club at their cabin near Limehouse last week.

Winners of the competition and trophy holders for the next three months are Tyro, Jack Heslop; Marksman, Norm Maher; Sharpshooter, Ron Warnock; and Expert, Alf Long. The awards were donated by the Alliance Mill and may be kept if won three times in a row.

The club was bolstered recently when veteran shooter Max English, formerly of Brampton, moved to town and joined the revolver ranks here.

Labour Relations Report is Presented in Legislature

Stan Hall, M.P.P.

At the opening of the Assembly on Monday, March 2nd, the Hon. A. Kelso Roberts, Q.C., attorney general, spoke of the disaster that happened at Listowel when the director of athletics for the town and seven boys lost their lives. He extended the sympathy of the Assembly to the bereaved.

Hon. John Yaremko, chairman of the Select Committee on Labour Relations, presented the report of the committee. It contains many recommendations which we all hope will make for better public relations between employer and employee. Hon. Charles Dalry, minister of labour, indicated he has reservations about some of the recommendations offered by the Select Committee on Labour Relations.

Premier Leslie M. Frost said that the Ontario government is pressing the federal government at Ottawa for extension of the Federal-Provincial winter employment program. Mr. J. J. Wintermeyer, leader of Her Majesty's Opposition in the Assembly, in his address in reply to the budget presented by the Provincial Treasurer, moved an amendment to the budget.

1. That the budget should not be presented in two parts, one for ordinary and one for capital expenditure.
2. No provision for winter employment.
3. No plan for debt retirement.
4. No Dominion-Provincial conference called.
5. No plan for reallocation of revenues.
6. Does not provide enough for scholarships, and development of the north.
7. Does not provide enough for agriculture.
8. Does not make provision for the extension of services in the field of Hospital and Health Insurance.

Hon. James Maloney, Minister of Mines, said in answer to the address of the leader of the opposition, Mr. J. J. Wintermeyer, that in his opinion, Hon. Wintermeyer, could make a much better job of his position as leader of Her Majesty's opposition, if he had more support from the members of his party.

Hon. Dr. Phillips, Provincial Secretary and Registrar General, in giving the report of his department made the statement that in the years 1943-44 there were 600 charters issued for the formation of new companies. In 1957-1958 there were 5,600 charters issued, an increase of almost 100 per cent.

Hon. Leslie M. Frost, prime minister of Ontario, made the statement that in his opinion the relationship between the members of the Legislature and the Executive Body of the Government of Ontario was a smoother working arrangement than in most governments.

Hon. Louis P. Cecile, Minister of Public Welfare, said in his address that it was his opinion that parents must be more responsible for the placing of their children in homes that are not registered, and not conducive to the welfare of the children.

On Thursday, March 5th, Hon. Dr. Phillips, Provincial Secretary, presented on behalf of the Members of the Assembly to the Speaker of the House, Hon. the Rev. A. W. Downer, a scroll on the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Downer's wedding anniversary.

Mr. Donald C. MacDonald, leader of the CCF group in the Assembly said in his address that the Smallwood government in Newfoundland is using the trade union movement in Newfoundland the same way as the Hepburn government did in Ontario.

Premier Frost turned down a challenge by Arthur J. Reaume, Liberal, Essex, to call a Provincial election on the unemployment issue.

Peterborough Ousts Halton From Debating Semi-Finals

J. A. F.
On Monday, March 2nd, at Uxbridge high school, the Halton debating team in the inter-county debating competition completed with Peterborough county for the semi-finals. In this type of debating each county prepared an affirmative and a negative team. The Halton team were defeated on a split decision. Both affirmative teams won, but the Peterborough county team were the winners on total points. The final debate will be between Peterborough and Kent counties, at the Ontario Junior Farmer conference, to be held in Guelph, at the Ontario Agricultural College, on Friday to Sunday, March 13th to 15th.

The debate is scheduled for Friday evening at Memorial Hall on the OAC campus. The topic of the debate will be the current food price spread of Canadian food products in its justified. In gaining the semi-finals, the Halton debating team were awarded decisions over the Peel, Brant, and South Simcoe teams before being defeated by Peterborough. The Halton team members were Evelyn Booth, Palermo Club, and Sandy Hepburn, Milton Club, on the affirmative side — and Joan Wigglesworth and Bill Wilson of the Norval Club upholding the negative.

Those interested in debating should plan to attend the finals next Friday evening at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Explains Program For Training Of Deaconesses

Principal of the Anglican Women's Training College, 217 St. George St., Toronto, Miss Ruth Scott spoke to fifty members of the Daughters of the Church and W.A., when the Daughters held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. William McNally, 22 Market St., on March 2nd.

In her talk, Miss Scott gave a clear and interesting picture of the work accomplished by the Training College. Established sixty years ago, it is the only institution in the Anglican Church of Canada which trains women for full-time service in the church. During those years, 800 women have graduated to serve the church in such fields as Christian education, medical work and teaching overseas, Indian & Eskimo School and Reserve Work, Bishop's Messengers in Western Missions, Supervisors of youth work, leadership training and social work. Using their own specialized talents and skills, to augment the theological training of the College, graduate further the work of the church all over the world.

In order to be accepted at the College, it is preferable for the applicant to have senior matriculation, some vocational training, and to be between the ages of 19 and 35. The three year course provides training for professional work in the Church and a college diploma is granted on graduation. Miss Scott stressed, however, that the young woman wishing to enter the course of training, must, above all, have great spiritual strength and dedication, for the rewards of the work in the Church while richly satisfying to the soul, are not great in a material way.

Mrs. Larry Maughan introduced Miss Scott to the ladies, and Mrs. Alan Thompson expressed the appreciation of everyone present, for such an informative and interesting address.

Mrs. Tom Van Sicker, president of the Daughters, presided at a brief business meeting, when it was decided to have members make the drapes for the meeting room from material chosen by the committee. Catering for a wedding reception was arranged. There will be a Corporate Communion of the Daughters of the Church at 8 next Sunday morning. Mrs. Charles Renwick, Mrs. Sam Penrice, Mrs. Ted Stigger, and Mrs. Van Sicker assisted Mrs. McNally in serving refreshments during the social hour which followed.
