Manor Residents Visit California in Pictures

by Muriel Thompson
 An imaginary trip to Arizona and California via the medium of very pretty coloured slides shown by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clarke of Milton, and the presentation of a birthday gift to Mrs. S. Lockie, the very capable and much loved director of the Halton Manor Hobby Class, were only two portions of a diversified program presented at a St. Patrick's party at the Manor on Wednesday night, March 18th.
 The party was sponsored by the Hobby Class and between forty and fifty outside guests, staff members and residents attended the party. Mrs. Lockie and Mrs. S. Allen were in charge of the party.
 Everyone had been asked to wear a bit of green in honour of St. Patrick and those who came without that bit of green soon found themselves wearing green paper headbands.
 After all those attending had been warmly welcomed by Mrs. Lockie, the first portion of the program was given over to five games of bingo, with Mrs. Allen calling the numbers. The five bingo prizewinners were: Miss H. Marcy, Mrs. V. Cornwell, Miss M. Ford, Mrs. J. Norton and Eddie Dowdle. The portion of the program that came next was a musical one. A number of gay Irish selections and some old-time dance tunes were played by Ron Harris, on the violin, Mr. Tom Wilson the guitar and N. Viggers the bones. The audience joined in the singing of some of these melodies. Mr. and Mrs. Allen danced to the music of Redwing and the Rye waltz. Mrs. Allen danced the Rye waltz. When a previous engagement made it necessary for Mr. Harris and Mr. Wilson to leave early, the residents with Mrs. Lockie at the piano, continued this musical part of the program. A number of old time ballads were sung by Mrs. M. Smythe, Mrs. Lockie, Mr. W. Gilkes and Mr. C. Lockie, with the audience joining in. The coloured slides mentioned earlier came next, with Mr. C. W. Clarke handling the projector and Mrs. Clarke giving the very interesting commentary, the audience travelled in imagination to Tucson, Arizona, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke had taken their trip in March, 1958 and their very striking coloured slides showed a great number of famous places, such as the lovely mountain scenery around Tucson, fabulous Disneyland and the Universal movie lot in Los Angeles. Mrs. Allen thanked Mr. and Mrs. Clarke for their kindness in showing the pictures so much enjoyed by the residents.
 The presentation of special St. Patrick's favours to all present came next. These pretty green favours, fashioned from paper and lollipops, had been intended for St. Patrick's Day but proved very appropriate for this party. They had been sent by the November group of St. Christopher's Church Year in Burlington.
 After such a varied program, everyone was in the best possible mood to enjoy the delicious refreshments that had been prepared by the chef and kitchen staff. Mrs. Lockie was presented with a green birthday cake in honour of her birthday which had occurred on March 16th; and after she had put the knife in it, it was served along with sandwiches, ice cream and cold drinks as a delicious lunch.
 The chief highlight of the evening came next. In a very witty and appropriate speech, Miss Elizabeth Hannant described the very great and inspired contribution that Mrs. Lockie has made and is making to the work of the Hobby Class, of which she has been the director for some years. She then presented a very pretty teapot, cream and sugar and a tray to Mrs. Lockie as a birthday gift from the Hobby Class. The spontaneous singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow" proved how worthy of this gift the audience felt Mrs. Lockie to be. Though taken completely by surprise, Mrs. Lockie expressed her gratitude very graciously and displayed her gift to all present. Mrs. Allen paid tribute to the chef and kitchen staff who had made the cake and prepared the refreshments. The singing of Good Night Ladies and The Queen brought this informal and very enjoyable evening to a close.
 A solemn and impressive church service in observance of Holy Week was held in the chapel on the afternoon of Palm Sunday, March 22nd, with Rev. J. L. Graham, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Milton, in charge. The service was a period of devotion dedicated to the theme of Christ's trial, suffering and death. This theme was developed in the scripture lesson, taken from chapter 27 of St. Matthew's gospel, in the well-known hymns that were sung and in an eloquent and reverent prayer in which Mr. Graham related the Seven Last Words of Christ spoken from the Cross. It was a service completely appropriate to Palm Sunday and the following Holy Week, and an

ORANGEVILLE LADY WAS Mrs. R. S. LESLIE'S KIN

Mrs. Robert Thompson Nesbitt, a sister of Mrs. R. S. Leslie, R. R. 4, Georgetown, died suddenly of a heart attack on March 7th in Orangeville.
 Mrs. Nesbitt was the former Mary McLeod, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alex McLeod, and was born Sept. 17th, 1887, on lot 13, Con. 5 east, Caledon Twp. Her girlhood associations were with the families of this district where she attended the fifth line school and entered into the activities of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, known as the Fourth Line Stone church. On March 15th, 1922, she married Robert Thompson Nesbitt in Caledon East, and came to live on the fine Centre Road farm on the brow of Caledon Mountain. She became interested in the work of Knox United Church, Caledon, and contributed to community activities in many ways.
 Surviving are her husband, a son, John Alexander, and a daughter, Helen Elizabeth (Mrs. Fred D. Fansher), of Florence, Ont.; also a brother and four sisters; Angus D. McLeod of Orangeville, Mrs. H. C. Watson (Margaret) of Brampton, Mrs. Ben Harrison (Kate) of Toronto, Mrs. James Wilson (Elizabeth) of Star City, Sask., and Mrs. R. S. Leslie (Annie) of Georgetown.
 The funeral, on Tuesday, March 10th was from her residence to Knox United Church, Caledon, where Rev. Gordon Weir, assisted by Rev. Gordon Wanless of Stroud, conducted the service. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Pallbearers were friends and neighbours: Messrs. Bill Warnock, Cecil Chamber, Tom Lundy, Donald Limebeer, John Fobert and Fred McDougall. The beautiful flowers that overflowed the home were carried by Stanley Moffatt, Bob Buchanan, Sigrid Deter, Fraser McLeish, Clare McLeish, Fred Johnston, Roy Giles and Clayton Limebeer.
