WHAT COUNCIL DID

Discuss $52,000 Paving Job for Business Section

A $52,000 face lifting job for Georgetown's downtown business section will come up for discussion again at next week's council meeting.

A motion to implement a road committee recommendation that Main Street to Church Street, with new sidewalks and larger storm sewers was withdrawn before Monday when several councillors expressed different reasons for not being prepared to vote on it that night.

Reeve Sargent said he would like to see the work done, but he is afraid the Municipal Board would turn it down.

"It's badly needed, but I'd like to think it over for a week," said Cr. Ern Hyde.

"I'd like a more frugal plan which would give us some of the most necessary improvements," he said.

Mayor Armstrong said he thought council should first have some assurance that a government subsidy will be available before ordering a construction by-law, and also that temporary funds will be available from the bank pending sale of debentures.

"I can see this costing a lot more than the estimate," said Cr. McGilvray, "and I don't think we can afford it. Let's resurface and let it go at that."

Deputy Reeve Gray explained that resurfacing would not be satisfactory without new storm sewers to correct flooding conditions in downtown basements.

Questioned by a councillor about the cost of a complete Main St. project to Maple Ave., engineer G. R. Bligh said an extra $42,000 would be needed to take the work that far.

Sale of triangle of property behind Georgetown Dairy, Ltd., was okayed by a by-law passed at the meeting. The dairy owners will pay $400 for the land.

Warning of danger to children who must use narrow Ontario St. on their way to school from the Ann St. subdivision, Mrs. T. Gadd urged consideration and the problem was turned over to the road department.

Road chairman Gray said widening is a major problem and requires a lot of study.

"Every time we discuss it, it ends in us saying it will cost a lot of money," said Cr. Harrison. "We will have to build a new bridge first, then raise part of the road because of spring floods. There's no use handing it to a committee unless we're prepared to do something when they make a recommendation."

At Cr. Elliott's suggestion, council decided to erect caution signs along the road in the meantime.

Southern Honeymoon Trip for Sue Crabtree And Kenneth Frid

Standards of white gladioli, white mums and pink carnations decorated St. John's United Church on Saturday, May 30th when Rev. Morgan McFarlane united in marriage Susan Helen Crabtree, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Crabtree of 7 Parkview Blvd., and Kenneth Douglas Frid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Frid, Guelph. The double ring ceremony was at three thirty. Kenneth Harrison, ARCT, RMT, played the organ and Mrs. George Grady was the soloist. During the service she sang the Wedding Prayer and For You Alone during the signing of the register.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father chose a floor length gown of white silk pleated organza over taffeta, the neckline was fashioned with a "v" back and front and bodice insertion of lace panel with long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from crown headdress of pearls. The wedding bouquet was of lily of the valley, red sweetheart roses and white shasta mums.

Mrs. Shasta Allan was matron of honour for her sister in-law, patterned white silk organza over white taffeta, it was of waltz length with white cummerbund and sash. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and white shasta mums, her accessories were of white. The flower girl had little Lee-Ann Allan, niece of the bride in white silk organza over pink taffeta with white cummerbund and sash with matching pink head bow, her accessories were white and she carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and white shasta mums.

Norman Sonnenberg, Guelph, was the groomsmen, Charles Allan, Burlington and Harvey Knighton of Guelph were the ushers. Mrs. Crabtree received for her daughter at the reception held in St. John's Hall following the ceremony. Her gown was of rose faille with blue and pink accessories, with a corsage of white and blue tinted shasta mums. The mother of the groom assisted in a silver blue faille gown with a corsage of white and pink tinted shasta mums, her accessories were pink and blue.

The bride and groom left on a honeymoon motor trip through the southern U.S., on their return they will live at 25 Liverpool Street, Guelph.

The bride, a graduate of the 1958 class of Guelph General hospital has been nursing at the Mount Sinai Hospital, Toronto. The groom is manager of Frid Cleaners, Guelph.

Pottersmen Victors as Glen Ball Team Fades

Smith & Stone greased the skids for the sliding Glen Ball Club last night when they handed the early season wonders a 2-1 setback, their third in a row after winning four straight. Both Smith and Stone runs were scored on round-trippers off the bats of Bob Freestone and Jim (Pro) Timleck.

Scotty Patterson and Hurst were a charmed combination for the Stoners while Kemshead and Webster were the losing battery. The win was the 3rd one of the season for Smith and Stone.

While that was going on at the Glen, Cotton Bros. were busy dumping the Alliance by a 9 to 3 count. Charlie Jewell was the winning pitcher with Moore and Boxford sharing the plate duties for Cotton Bros. as Alliance went the route with Gib Telford and Dillon Smith and Stone took both ends of a double header at the park Sunday from Cotton Bros. who succumbed 8-1 in the first game and 6-1 in the second contest, which was rescheduled from May 26th. Mossip with Mills in the 6th and Hurst held Cottons to a single run in the opener while the Cassidy-Boxford battery were giving up a bundle to the winners, and Mills continued his stingy game in the nightcap when Smith and Stone trapped Pomeroy for 6.

In a single game at Norval, Don Aubin hurled the distance for the home club as Norval stopped Alliance 6-4. Langraff was the Norval catcher, Telford and Leslie worked for the costers.

Last Thursday Cotton's handed the Glen their second loss in a 9 to 7 slug fest at the Glen and Smith and Stone carded their first

WHAT COUNCIL DID

Liability Not Accident Town's Insurance Reminder

Discussing the town's comprehensive insurance policy at Monday's council meeting, John R. Barber, accompanied by two representatives of the Western Group firm reminded council that the town does not have an accident policy, but rather a liability type which protects the town against legal liabilities, but does not recompense residents for damage unless gross negligence can be proved.

The insurance men had been asked to attend the meeting to discuss any questions councillors might have about the town policy. Mr. Barber explained that rates for an accident policy would be prohibitive and that claims for broken car springs are rarely paid. His firm, however, checks every claim submitted and requires a report from the insurance adjuster and in future he has requested the adjuster to also supply a copy to the town clerk, he said.

Mr. Terry, of the Western firm said there are certain costs for each claim which his firm pays.

The town is protected for any court costs should there be a suit and will pay any judgment assessed in court. Since the policy took force in 1956, 3 settlements have been made on 14 claims presented, he said.

He explained that the value of insurance is to protect the town treasury against huge claims which might occur should negligence of a town employee cause an accident. The most common type of claims paid are for accidents arising from cracked sidewalks, he said.

The policy, Mr. Barber, explained, covers every town appointed board and service group except the volunteer ambulance organization. Council is at present attempting to find some coverage for these men, who, unlike volunteer firemen, cannot be insured under Workmen's Compensation standards.

Proposed by Ed Hall, ambulance service chief, a $125 inhalator was purchased as equipment for the auxiliary ambulance.

Oddfellows, Rebekahs Hold Church Parade

Orion Lodge No. 109 and Verduin Rebekah Lodge No. 184 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows held their annual grave decoration and church service on Sunday.

The lodges paraded from the IOOF Hall on Wesleyan St. to the cemetery in the afternoon, where they decorated the graves of deceased members and in the evening the Order attended a public worship at Knox Presbyterian Church. Chaplains Mrs. Merv Cook and Mel Tamblin read the lessons and Rev. A. J. Calder preached the sermon entitled "Go Thou and Do Likewise."

In the morning a delegation held brief services at outdoor cemeteries at Hornby, Glen Williams, Norval and Stegartown. The committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. Bob Jenson, Mrs. Herb Hancock, Mrs. Gord King, Harold Crawford, August Spitzer and Jim Collier.

win in four starts by turning back Norval 5 to 2. Tomorrow, (Thursday) night Norval is at the Glen and Alliance and Smith and Stone are scheduled for the park.

St. John's United Holds Children's Day Service

"Getting started right" was the title of the sermon chosen by Rev. M. G. McFarlane for the children's day service of worship in St. John's United Church on Sunday morning.

The junior and intermediate choirs under the music director Kenneth R. Harrison, ARCT, RMT led in the service of praise, the junior choir singing, "I hear children singing" and "Lead us heavenly Father" while the intermediates favoured with "Jesus Loves Me" and "Loving Shepherd."

David Farnell sang the solo "Come Let us All This Day" and duets were sung by Barbara Evans and Robert McCumber "Come Thou Fount" and David Shrubsole and Paul Kidney "Prayer."

For the organ prelude, Mr. Harrison played Mendelssohn's "Andante" and for the offertory organ solo "Air" by Handel. As a postlude he selected Chopin's "Prelude in C Minor."

Paper Mill Tour is Taken by Institute

The meeting of Georgetown's Women's Institute was held in two parts this month. In the afternoon of June 3rd, at two o'clock fourteen of the ladies enjoyed a conducted tour through the Provincial Paper Mill. At eight in the evening the regular meeting was held in Knox Church Sunday School rooms with Mrs. Clare Wilson, the president presiding. Industry was foremost at this meeting for after the name of a Canadian industry located in Halton or Peel counties.

The usual order of business was followed with minutes and correspondence being read and dealt with. In the correspondence an invitation was received from Mount Union W.I. for their 35th anniversary to be held in Milton on June 17. Correspondence was also received regarding souvenir spoons commemorating the visit of the Queen. It was decided that the Georgetown branch would sell these attractive spoons.

Mrs. Frank Petch was appointed secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Dan Livingston conducted the installation of officers. Mrs. Ern Thompson and Mrs. Bert Palmer were appointed as a committee to charge the individual exhibits at the fall fair. Mrs. F. R. Robinson and Mrs. Newhouse were appointed as conveners for the Institute display.

Mrs. Clare Wilson presented Mrs. Clifford Burt with a gift thanking her on behalf of the members for her work as secretary-treasurer. It was decided that the short course will be "When food makes the difference." Further particulars and date will be forthcoming later.

Mrs. Norman Snyder gave a report of the Halton County TB dinner held in Oakville recently. Mrs. Matthews, Henry Street, gave a wonderful report of the district annual held in Acton in May.

Details of the W.I. bus trip to Niagara Falls on June 16th were further discussed. All those with tickets are asked to meet at Scott's garage, the monument or the Presbyterian Church corner at 8:45 a.m. A vote of thanks for the tour through the Provincial mill was given and one also to the luncheon committee. The meeting closed with the national anthem. The committee served an enjoyable lunch to bring the day's activities to a close.

Georgetown is having its share of summer weather these days with temperatures in the nineties. It is one of the hottest Junes that people can remember, and those lucky few who take early vacations can crow this year.

SUMMER'S HERE

Georgetown is having its share of summer weather these days with temperatures in the nineties. It is one of the hottest Junes that people can remember, and those lucky few who take early vacations can crow this year.

Two zoning changes recommended by Georgetown Planning Bd. were adopted by council Monday.

The Moore farm at the town's western outskirts, slated for development as a subdivision, will be changed from agricultural to industrial, commercial and residential, with a portion reserved for a public school.

Land contained between the CNR rail line and Emery and King streets will be rezoned from industrial to commercial, as it has been discovered the land is more suited for residences.

Reeve Sargent opposed the Moore farm change, on the grounds he thinks the land should all be allocated to industry. Mayor Armstrong also expressed some opposition on different grounds, saying he thinks there is no need for a commercial area there, as residents can be served by the present downtown area.

Final surfacing of streets in the park district of town, which received an initial-prime and chip application last year was discussed. The engineer was asked to estimate cost of this for further discussion at next week's meeting.

Ted Francis, 5 Keats Avenue, brought four points before council for discussion.

He opined that there should be a street light on Keats, which had been turned down on grounds that the block-long street has a light at either end, and is lighted as well as the majority of town streets. The light committee was asked to review the request.

Mr. Francis complained of untidy ditches and, in view of a rise in taxes, he thought the town should look after this. It was explained that the best the town can do is cut weeds a few times a season and that the town hopes resident will cooperate and keep the road shoulder in grass. Taxes would rise even more, he was told, if the town undertook to do this type of work.

Vacant lots in Sunbeam area are being used to dump refuse, Mr. Francis said, and the clerk was asked to have the weed inspector and police check on this.

He also mentioned discoloured water, which has been a recurring complaint since chlorination was introduced. He was told that council is doing its best to deal with this and intends starting a system of regular flushing of mains to eliminate discoloration.

Criticism of the Bell Telephone Co., leaving cuts on Maple Ave., and other highway intersections after installing a new line was expressed by the mayor and the company will be told that the town expects remedial action.

Dissolution of the present high school district, and replacement with three new districts was approved by a council motion which will be presented to county council at a meeting this week. Georgetown has been active in promoting dissolution of the district.

Items contained in a report from engineer G. R. Bligh included information that storm sewers on John and Henry street have been completed — that Hewson Crescent regrading will be completed this week, and that street signs have been ordered for the Delrex part of town.

MASONIC LODGE ATTENDS CHURCH PARADE AT KNOX

A Masonic church service was held recently at Knox Presbyterian Church, when about 40 visitors and members of Credit Lodge, 219, AF&AM took part.

The guest of honour was District Deputy Grand Master, of Wellington District, Wor. Bro. L. R. Hertel, who read the prayer. The lesson was read by Wor. Bro. James Linton, master of Credit Lodge.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Calder, whose sermon was titled "I am the Way." Two anthems were sung by the High School choir, and Joyce McLean sang a solo.

Tea was served afterwards by members' wives in the church hall.

CORRECTION

In the Social and Personal column of the May 27th edition, it was reported that Mrs. Arnold A. Glenn, Toronto, and Reg. Carcaud, 21 Baird Street flew to Syracuse, N.Y., to attend the wedding of their nephew Jeanne S. Hazleton and Nancy Euson.

Unfortunately there were two typographical errors in the item. Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Carcaud are sisters, and it was the two ladies who made the trip. Their nephew's name is Gene, rather than Jeanne as we reported. Sorry!
