

Authority Renews Battle for Trees

The Credit Valley Conservation Authority has fired another salvo in its fight to halt "the needless slaughter" of trees along roadsides and in new subdivisions. At its regular meeting at the Terra Cotta headquarters, last Thursday night (June 4), the Authority resolved to again request the Department of Planning and Development to initiate preventive legislation.

Its earlier resolution (inspired by a Peel newspaper editorial) calling for preventive legislation has received the endorsement of the Metro Conservation Authority. But, the department of Planning and Development had, in reply to the resolution of April 30, suggested that the matter be referred to some other (and supposedly more appropriate) government department for action. At last week's meeting, the Authority, on motion of members Everett Biggs of Brampton and Alex MacLaren of Georgetown, chairman of the Land Use and Farm Planning Advisory Board, tossed the subject back into the laps of the Planning and Development Department.

R. K. Harrison, of Clarkson, a Toronto Township representative, pointed out that in his opinion "the Department of Highways is one of the prime violators in the careless cutting down of roadside trees."

Ev. Biggs, speaking in support of his resolution, said the time had come for legislation to halt needless cutting.

A. S. Mendell of Streetsville read a Metro Conservation news release supporting the Credit Authority's stand on trees.

Field Officer Ted Sutter said that while there was legislation respecting forest and woodlot trees, there was no legislation to his knowledge in regard to trees on small holdings, boulevards and subdivisions.

The Credit Authority seeks statutory control of trees, which they feel have been neglected in subdivision development and in road-widening and hydro programs.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR
"SICK" HEADACHES

Migraine, frequently known as "sick headaches," is one of those diseases much misunderstood and usually mistreated. But migraine is no product of black magic, shrouded in mystery and incapable of cure. Migraine can be defined, symptoms recognized and can be made to respond to proper treatment by your chiropractor.

In one form of migraine the patient has eye troubles, seeing different colors or dark spots with bright flashes of light. Another form may be accompanied by temporary blindness, affecting the entire field of vision, or only a part of it. Eye nerves and muscles may be paralyzed. Chiropractors have been remarkably successful in treating migraine. Your chiropractor approaches migraine as he does any other disease which brings pain and discomfort to the body. He knows that a nerve disturbance of some kind is causing the pain. His knowledge of anatomy and physiology tells him that the root of the trouble lies in the spine — which controls the circulation of the blood flowing to the brain. By adjustment of your spine your chiropractor can correct reflex contraction and remove irritation of important nerve channels.

Leslie Clan Descendants Of 1819 Irish Emigrants

Edgewood Park, Eden Mills, was the meeting place of the seventeenth reunion of the descendants of John Leslie and Letty Ann Boker, who came to Canada in 1819 from County Tyrone, Ireland, and settled in Esquesing and Chingachousy townships. A small attendance of 140 was probably due to the inclement weather.

President, Mr. Howard Shook, of Mimico, welcomed the guests and presided at a short business meeting. A moment's silence and prayer by Mrs. Walter McAlpine of Brampton was observed for those of the family deceased.

It is 33 years since the first reunion in 1926 when the late Mr. Ben Leslie of Lakeland, Florida, was convener, the late T. L. Leslie of Georgetown the secretary treasurer. Mr. Ed Pearen and Mr. Richard Johnston of Acton were hosts for many committee meetings.

A special tribute and corsage was given to Mrs. T. L. Leslie and Mrs. Ed. and Miss Elva Pearen and Mrs. Richard Johnston for their untiring efforts all through the years.

Special prizes were given to the following: oldest lady, Mrs. Annie Capstick of Ingersoll, 91. Oldest man, Mr. Jas. Reid, Acton, 92 years. Youngest child, Katharine Nadon of Clarkson, 9 weeks. Most recent married, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Leslie, Toronto, and coming the greatest distance, Mrs. Goody and son Robert, Cobourg.

An interesting and enjoyable sports programme was convened by Mrs. George G. Leslie of Guelph. Officers elected were — president, Mr. Howard Shook, Mimico, 1st vice, Mr. F. L. Thompson, Georgetown; 2nd vice Mr. Walter Torrance, Burlington; secretary treasurer, George S. Leslie, Guelph; assistants, Miss Elva Pearen, Acton; Mrs. Wm. Gibson, Guelph; Mrs. Peter Dick, Brampton.

Guests were present from Cobourg, Kingsmill, Guelph, Hespeler, Toronto, Mimico, Ingersoll, Burlington and surrounding districts. The next reunion will be in 1961.

Summer Programs Planned For 4-H and Junior Farmers' Clubs

Several events are being planned for Junior Farmer and 4-H members in Halton county during the summer months. The programs are being sponsored by the Halton Junior Farmers' Association, the Halton 4-H Club Leaders' council, in cooperation with the Halton office of the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture.

Three events are planned for July. An event that was started last year for the Junior program is the Halton Land Judging Competition. This competition stresses the value of land use and provides contestants an opportunity to view various soil structures. Prize money for this competition is provided by the Credit, Sixteen Mile Creek, and Twelve Mile Creek Conservation Authorities.

The Halton Livestock judging competition is being planned for late July, and always has considerable interest with the Junior Farmer and 4-H members. This year's competition will be held at the Ontario Agricultural College, in Guelph. In addition to the judging program, through the cooperation of the Animal Husbandry Department, there will be demonstrations on livestock work.

The county executive of the Halton Junior Farmers' Association are completing arrangements for their annual mid-summer dance. This event is held annually, and this year arrangements are being made to hold the dance on Friday, July 31st, at the Huttonville Park. Highlighting this year's program will be the visit of Miss Dorothy Clough, of Yorkshire, England, one of the delegates representing the English Young Farmers' Association. Miss Clough will be visiting Halton County, and the mid-summer dance will provide an opportunity for Junior Farmers in Halton to meet with the delegates.
