Humberglen Campsite Chosen by Girl Guides

A large group of Georgetown girl guides were joined by others from Norval, Stewartown and from Limehouse, who belong to north and south Georgetown districts, in attending camp at Humberglen Bolton, the first week in July.

Camp theme was the Union Jack and on Sunday the Guides Own address was given by Mrs. E. C. Reed, Norval division commissioner. Next day was St. George's day, with the story of St. George told at flag break. English accents were the vogue that day and afternoon tea was served at four.

Tuesday, St. Andrew's day, his story was told at flag break and plaids and tartans were in evidence. This was the day for the visit of area commissioner Mrs. W. A. H. Filer and it was discovered she can render a beautiful bag-pipe selection, even without an instrument.

As Wednesday was Dominion Day, the story of Canada's origin was told. A birthday party was held, with Mr. William Kinrade supplying ice cream. Thursday's theme was St. Patrick, and the girls wore green and heard his story.

Friday was used as a general test day and girls wishing to try any of their guide tests had the opportunity. This was also turnabout day, with the program completely reversed, beginning with flag lowering in the morning, bedtime snack, campfire and continuing backwards till sundown when flag raising was held. Leaders were demoted to campers and the campers were elected as staff.

Mrs. Robert Wyatt was camp commandant and Mrs. B. J. Cannell assistant. Mrs. Gene Green was quartermaster, Mrs. Ed Findlay, Limehouse, assistant and junior leaders were Barbara Kinrade, Brenda Dawson, and Lois Howe of Winnipeg, the latter a niece of Mrs. Cannell.

Campers were:

Norval: Margaret Miller, Betty Anne Eyre, Janice Carter, Dianne Fendley, Sharon Burk, Rose Hayes, Sharon Fishburn, Evelyn Stamp, Limehouse — Jean Findlay, Stewartown — Gail McDonald, Pat Harris.

Georgetown — Lynn Wyatt, Gail Walsh, Lynne Murray, Ellen Blehn, Gillian Swan, Carroll Farnell, Mary McNamara, Jane Tecuwiss, Pat Bowman, Sandra Hayes, Roberta Hawes, Lynda Kentner, Jo-Anne Mitchell, Catherine Laird, Judy Meades, Frances Linton, Diane Schenk, Annela Bouwman, Jane Ruston, Sharon Swales, Margaret Higham, Mary Rawson, Carol Reed, Karen Shortill, Betty McManus, Nancy Jamieson, Madeline Burish, Gay Clarridge, Barbara Blackburn, Laura Bairstow, Christine Sargent, Yolanda Wiener, Jacqueline Lince.
