CLUB MIDTOWN

Club Midtown's street dance at the Delrex Market Centre Saturday night was a success until the weather man crashed the party around 9.30 p.m. and sent the dancers scurrying for the cover of their cars. Had the rains held off the attendance probably would have ballooned beyond all expectation and the proceeds for the Georgetown Hospital Fund would have approached the $600 mark.

As it was some $200 was realized in the hour of dancing that preceded the downpour and a crowd of about 250, most of them adults, were taking advantage of the music when it came. Midtown columnist Dar Tost doubled as disc jockey and spun the records from the roof of the plaza.

The assistance of the market centre management and the yellow jacketed motorcycle club who directed traffic were instrumental in making the dance a success while it lasted and refreshments were made available by the Delrex Smoke Shop. Midtown plans to make another attempt at reviving the vanishing outdoor hop sometime late next month.

PHONY ADDRESS FOR FALSE ALARM CALL

The Georgetown fire department was sent on another wild goose chase last Wednesday when a crank caller summoned them to a phony address and a non-existent fire.

The call was turned in to the department at about 3.45 p.m. and requested the brigade douse a blaze at the corner of two mythical streets, Ridgeway and Barton. The caller also added behind "Schenks" but a quick check by the firemen proved the alert false.
