

Education Courses Raise Life Insurance Standards

"Education courses are raising the standard of life insurance," said Mr. Mort L. Levy, CLU, 1959 president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, during an address to the Brampton Life Underwriters Association. The luncheon meeting was held in the banquet room of the Junction Hotel, Brampton, September 17th. Mr. Levy, accompanied by his wife on this occasion, was introduced by J. R. Racine, CLU, Brampton, and thanked by O. L. Dickson, Brampton, vice president, assistant general manager of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, who travelled to Brampton with Mr. and Mrs. Levy. This Canadian delegation from Toronto left directly after the meeting for the U.S. National Convention in Philadelphia.

Council Will Meet Pal'et, Discuss Dock

PORT CREDIT Village council will discuss future arrangements for the $1,200,000 federal government dock at Port Credit in a meeting with John Pallett, MP for Peel County.

The dock has been unused since the original leaseholder, a local coal company, gave up its claim on the 12 acres due to a village protest against using the wharf for local storage. A Rexdale industry has expressed desire to lease the site, but only if the present water depth is deepened from its present 21 feet to the Seaway depth of 23 feet.

After a council request to the federal government to provide the wharf area, the Department of Public Works reported to report on the request.

It is thought that Mr. Pallett will present the report at a meeting open to the public. Councilor J. Pharis has asked that these dock proceedings be not the meeting, which may well be kept secret, and Mr. Pallett has said he would welcome a public meeting.

LEGION NOTES

by Les Clark

Last Thursday night's meeting was a good one, with a fair number in attendance. As usual, the president, secretary and treasurer were in their respective chairs.

After the opening ceremonies, various committee reports were given, including bingo, entertainment, and sick. All reports were excellent, and in particular Alex Taylor's bingo report, was outstanding.

The treasurer's report was given and was very good. Under general business the president reported that the lease for the Legion store in the Legion building had been renewed for a five year period with a further option, effective at the termination of the old lease, in January of this year.

Various items of interest to the membership were brought up and discussed. The entry of a float was discussed for the annual Santa parade, and this is to be arranged again this year.

Bob Collier gave a talk on the forthcoming Christmas tree, urging all members to get the names of their children on the list as soon as possible and he asked for help with tickets, etc. Bob has been doing a great job on the Christmas tree and deserves a lot of help. He is expected to have a list on the bulletin board for additional names in the near future.

After a number of other items of routine business were disposed of, the meeting adjourned with the closing ceremonies and the Queen.

The president asked Fred Harrison to speak on the moving of the cemetery and Fred explained the move and told a bit about the new site for it. a place he hopes to make into one of the beauty spots of the district.

Entertainment chairman Jim Murphy and his assistants served corned beef and cabbage. We think that the report given by Alex Taylor, deserves more than passing comment. It was not only the longest but the finest we have ever heard, and he certainly deserves great credit along with his helpers for a grand job.

And just as a little "light reading" to end the column, we recommend that our readers get in touch with that group of intrepid sportsmen who ventured into the northland a few weeks ago for details on how to run a fishing trip? We will repeat some of the less lurid details, as given us by an eyewitness.

"Picture if you can, the fond farewells as the 'fearsome four' take leave of their co-workers at S&S, then visualize that in the English car, weighed down with four large 'buds', plus a variety of gear, camping paraphernalia and groceries, plus four mysterious large cases, referred to as the 'medicine chests'. Then the final stop at Huntsville for further supplies of medicine, and then into the trackless northland."

We understand that they had quite a time getting in, with seaweed in the props, etc. but finally managed to navigate into the 'beaver dam' country. At this juncture, the only casualty of the trip occurred, when the self appointed guide of the group known as "Little Beaver" Arty, got so excited in seeing his homeland again, that he fell overboard, and got caught in the rough edges of one of the dam. After a fifteen minute rescue operation they rest of the party got him untangled with the dam and back into the boat. What did he look like? You guessed it, a drowned beaver!

Anyway, later, once a back to work for Monday, and we hear they are planning another excursion in the near future. We'll keep you posted!

Flower Arrangement is Shown Churchwomen

A delightful guest of St. John's United Church group 3 W.A. was Mrs. Bernice Pearce of Rosedale florists. At the September meeting she delivered a very interesting and informative talk on the arts of flower arrangements, and then demonstrated several types of floral decoration.

A vote of thanks to Mrs. Pearce was moved by Miss Hazel Harrison, and to all who contributed to the meeting. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. W. Brownridge and she read the thirteenth chapter of 1st Corinthians — "Love is God's geiger-counter", she stated, "which tests our devotion and loyalty, and love is the distinguishing mark of a Christian. The roll call was answered by telling of one of Jesus' miracles. Delights were the refreshments served by Mrs. E. Peters and Mrs. Urquhart. A social period was very much enjoyed by those attending.
