So You're A Teenager Now!

June Lyon
So you're a teenager, now. You go to High School and that really proves it. This means you can start smoking, parking in cars on sidewalks for a bit of necking and a few other minor details that often enter the minds of some "children." Believe me, if you have this idea, you are badly mistaken. As far as some people are concerned, the word 'teenager' is automatically linked with delinquency. All of us, between the age of 13 and 19 are immediately 'branded.' If one fellow gets mixed up with the law we all have 'had the bird.' It's up to us to see that this doesn't happen. If we want a right to have a decent reputation, we are going to work for it.

I am not saying that Rock 'n Roll must be barred or dating stopped. But we must put an end to the drinking and such. We can hardly blame our parents when at 12.30 at night they place out three fellows so drunk they can't see the sidewalk in front of them. Those are the ones — the mighty few who spoil it for all of the others. Some people won't allow their daughters outside after dark, it isn't safe with those 'drunken delinquents' in the streets. And do you blame them? Not one speck. So you see kids, we aren't going to get a break unless we work for it, and personally I think it is worth the effort. Don't you?

DRAMA CLUB IS NEW ACTIVITY AT GHS

On the 15th of October the first drama club was formed at GHS. At this meeting the executive was chosen with Elizabeth Sloan as the president and Peter Forgrave as the vice president. Margaret Eason and Gary Teeter are the joint secretaries. At an executive meeting on October 22nd, the club was divided into five groups with a senior student at the head of each group. The heads of the groups are as follows: Carol Barth, Carolyn Biehn, Margaret Eason, Penny Norton and Elizabeth Sloan. The club is going to put on a series of plays during the year at assemblies and has hopes of putting on a drama night for the public later on in the year.

Chatter in the Halls

by Auntie Sociol
What lady teacher is afraid to walk by the lockers of the 8th form boys these days? What fifth formers spend their noon hours picking apples (on the sixth line)? One of our teachers was playing with a jackknife the other day. Could he be known as Bobby Darin? What about it, Mr. Baxter? What girl has so much school spirit that she keeps some in her locker? Why did those in the know warn us to eat our lunch AFTER seeing Mediscope? Eh Pele? They say the average German woman of today has a figure like a coke bottle — family size, that is. What teacher is putting in an order for an anaesthetic mask? About a size 22 would do it, don't you think so, Carolyn? By the way, did anyone notice that 'Mr. Chase wasn't? Ever faithful to our studies, we practiced counting in French and German at the Red Feather Game. You were right, Miss Luke, people did think we were crazy. What's so interesting about Orchard Grove, Ken? We took a lot of PUNishment Friday and Saturday nights. Barber, Sloan, and Robertson were sitting too near each other for comfort, ours that is. George was on the wagon Saturday night but we had to keep on stopping to pick up June. I thought you could drive a tractor, John? In a Russian toast, Mike, you throw your glasses into the fireplace, not your dixie cups into the fire. GHS may not be the winningest team, but it certainly is the most gentlemanly. Why our boys even ask a man's permission if they want to tackle him? Prouseism of the month — expert (from the Latin root) — drip that's gone out.

Major Walter Dixon C.O. Cadet Corps

Lieutenant Bill Wilson
This year in the cadets, we really have an energetic group. Although the second year cadets have slowly faded out in attendance, the first year group seems to be stabilizing the loss. The instructors this year are mainly centred around Major Walter Dixon, C.O. Lt. Bill Aikou, Wayne Norton, Bob Hyde, Bill Wilson, and Stan Mickus who is in charge of signals. This year we have a newcomer as sergeant major, who Ron Wilson. Altho Ron seems to gripe occasionally, he really is a good cadet. We are hoping to see more people down at cadets, so if you want to come out to see what it is like we will expect you at 7 o'clock at the Georgetown Armouries every Wednesday night.

Students Attend the Red Feather Game

by Roy Cillis
The time of departure was approximately six o'clock Friday evening. The trip to Varsity stadium was well enjoyed by all who went. We sang songs of all different varieties, and listened to the long and complicated jokes of Tom Barber. When we arrived at Varsity Stadium, Ken Beam gave us our tickets and we entered the stadium making more noise than a herd of elephants and enjoying every minute of it. The game, I think I can honestly say was not watched completely by everyone because they were either being shoved up and down the rows, or yelling and howling at some poor soul in front of them. When the game was over, everyone ran for the bus. Some had left earlier and had already obtained their seats on the bus including Joyce Fleming, who was holding hands with some boy from one of those foreign Toronto schools. The trip home was again enjoyed by all who were present with the singing and odd jokes that were told. Along the 401 highway, the bus was quiet except for the odd yell of "huddle" and "Bill, do tell us another one." We made a relaxing stop at the Junction Diner where everyone enjoyed some form of a refreshing drink or a plate of chips. We arrived in Georgetown at approximately twelve thirty that night. I would like to thank Mr. Dobson for coming along with us and I sincerely hope that he enjoyed the trip as much as we did. (I did! A.D.)

Amici Librorum

Carolyn Taylor
This year we began club proceedings by holding a special meeting at the home Mr. and Mrs. Lambert to elect an executive. Don Curry was named president, Frances Bauer vice president, Peter Glynn treasurer and Carolyn Taylor secretary. We have a special message for the students of GHS from the Amici Librorum. The library is a non profit organization solely for the benefit of the members of GHS. At no cost any person in school may borrow interesting books for recreation or study purposes. The only thing we ask is that the books be taken care of and returned promptly. To those unfamiliar with library routine, an attendant will be at the desk Tuesdays and Thursdays at lunch hour and from 3.45 to approximately 4.00. There is no charge and people with books overdue are fined two cents a library day. Come and look around next library day. You'll be glad you did.

Milton Ekes 19-18 Win in Football

Monday, Oct. 19: Milton vs. Georgetown — The game started a little late with GHS kicking off to Milton and Popiel of Georgetown got the first touchdown of the game. Andy Murray missed the convert on two tries after "Milton's" being off-side on the first try. In the second quarter McLean of Georgetown took over a right pitch out from Cowbrough which he made good for six points. Popiel tried the convert but missed. The score at half time was 12-0 for Georgetown. The third quarter saw Milton fighting back. Currie took the ball from McBuffey and bulled his way around right end for a touch down. The conversion was missed when McBuffey tried to pass for the point. Milton scored a touchdown again in the third quarter by Currie. The convert here was good. But Georgetown's Ron McLean winged his way around right end for his second touchdown of the day. The convert was missed. However, Milton got a touchdown by Foster with less than a minute to go, and the game ended with the final score at 19 to 18 in favour of Milton. One accident in the game put Andy Murray out of the rest of the games with a badly sprained finger.

Choose Karen Norton Fellowship President

Carol Kovacs
The new ISCF executive for the year 1959 and 60 has been elected. Karen Norton president; Walter Neutel, vice president; Carol Barth, secretary; Peter Glynn, treasurer; Ilona Kovacs, missionary secretary and pianist; Luke Janssen, devotion convener; Carol Kovacs, High Tales Reporter; Barbara Whitmee, High Magazine representative; Agnes Bakker and Norman Cooley, publicity; and Marilyn McFarlane and Peter Forgrave social. These people, like the executive of last year, are looking forward to fellowship as they plan, with God's grace, the activities of a group that is striving to serve our Creator.

IOA Report

Gloria Trolley
Our class, IOA, is like a hive of bees, very 'buzzy' (in more than one way). Our home room teacher, Mrs. Ray is new to the school. We wish her welcome here. Our two student representatives are Susan Ross and Bodo Jansen. Best of luck, kids! Pam Currie, our athlete, helped win a first in the Relay Race at the CWOSSA field meet at Guelph. Congratulations, Pam!

WMS Notes Education Upswing in Africa

"On a bridge, changing from the old to the new" was the title of the Study Chapter on Africa given by Mrs. R. Jones at the Afternoon Auxiliary of the WMS on Tuesday. African people today are making great strides forward in the field of education. Girls especially are training along with men in the field of Engineering, law, medicine, etc., and all classes are yearning for a better way of life," stated Mrs. Jones. The Church seeks to do more for the poor, the sick, and the suffering and are sending native pastors out to far off villages to bring the saving light of the Gospel to many people. "What in the Old Life should be retained and what in the new is better?" This is the question being asked in Africa today! Referring to Stewardship Mrs. McFarlane asked each one present to practice a little self-denial and bring a special offering to the December meeting. Mrs. C. Urquhart based her worship period on 1st Corinthians Ch. 10, verses 30-33 selecting the theme "Do all things to the Glory of God." This should be the standard of all Christians. It is when we leave God out of all our life that our standards are lowered. He needs all our talents let us put them to use in His service serving where we see the need and stir up the Gift of God that is within us. Mrs. Urquhart closed this period with prayer. Mrs. Val Stein then led in a special prayer for missionaries. Carol McGilvray delighted the meeting with two lovely solos, she was accompanied by Mr. Ken Harrison. Mrs. Brownridge pronounced the Benediction.
