

NEW MASTER OF CREDIT LODGE

Armstrong-Haugen Wedding Vows in Port Perry Church

Saturday afternoon, January 16th, at four o'clock, the Church of the Ascension, Port Perry, was beautifully decorated with white mums and candleabras for the wedding of Sharon Arnold-Haugen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Haugen of Port Perry, to Michael Thomas Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Armstrong of Georgetown. Rev. Edward Fuller performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Kenneth Richardson of Georgetown.

The groom's twin brother, Paul, was his best man, and the ushers were Martin Armstrong, brother of the groom and Gordon Greig. Master Peter Armstrong brother of the groom was ring bearer. During the signing of the register Mr. Kenneth Hallet sang 'The Wedding Prayer' and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Kenneth E. Harrison of Georgetown who presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a full length gown of white delustered tulle and imported tulle lace with side paniers and clusters of bell roses. A tulle of white sequins and pearls held her hair in place, and she wore dainty earrings, a tulle and hairloom worn by her late great-grandmother in Norway. She carried a white lily from which fell streamers of white satin ribbon, pink carnations and stephanotis.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Robert Wakelin, and bridesmaids, Miriam Harris and Alice Williams, were gowned alike in crimson velvet, cocktail length crinolines, crimson satin shoes, and white satin hats. They carried white satin muffs with red carnations and stephanotis.

Wigo TV Opens New Branch in Acton

A branch store of Wigo TV and Appliances opened in Acton last Friday. The store, which has a floor space of approximately half the local store is located in a new apartment block at the corner of Mill and Main Sts. Owners Ed Winer and Morris Goude, letting have operated the local business for some time, beginning in a store opposite their present location, now occupied by Jay's Photo Studio, and after a successful year moving to larger quarters.

DEPT. OF TRANSPORT
WARNS MOTORISTS HURRY

Grave concern is being shown by motor licensing authorities in the extremely slow sale of 1959 cars. This is in the face of what appeared to be a rush by drivers to secure their plates on the opening day. It is estimated that sales are running far behind last year's average, and long lineups are predicted again this year unless motorists and truckers begin to obtain them soon.

Close Department At Ontario Steel Plant

The Plating Department of Ontario Steel Products Company Limited will close on January 29th. Ian Flemming, manager of the Milton Division of Ontario Steel announced last week. An estimated 100 employees will be affected by the close. Many Acton residents are also employed in that department. Ontario Steel Products Co. Ltd., president E. S. Byers, in a letter to employees explains the plant closing would be for an indefinite period. He pointed out that for some time it had not been economically sound to continue the operation, and there was nothing in the immediate future that might change that situation.

Anglican Clergyman
Meet at Aldershot

The white frame structure of St. Matthew's Church, Aldershot was the host parish for the January Quiet Day and Spiritual Exercise for the clergy of Halton Deaneery on Tuesday, January 19th. The Holy Communion was celebrated at 8:30 a.m. by the rector the Rev. C. S. Wright, which was followed by a Fellowship breakfast served by the Ladies Guild in the parish hall.

Bishop C. R. Heber Wilkinson D.D., former Bishop of Amritsar, India, and now assistant Bishop of Niagara conducted the Quiet Time of Meditation and Prayers. He dealt with the life and work of the Holy Spirit and the task of the Parish Priest as a Spiritual Director. Following the noonday prayers, the brethren were served a delicious luncheon by the Women's Church Year. A brief business session was conducted by the Rural Dean and matters regarding Lenten Program and Church School Deaneery sessions were discussed. The Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen of the Deaneery will meet at St. Hilda's, Oakville, in April. The Bishop gave the blessing and the clergy returned to their parochial work, thankful for the wisdom and guidance and experience of being with Bishop Wilkinson.
