

Provincial Paper Plans Fifth Machine in Thorold

A fifth fine paper machine will be installed at Thorold, Provincial Paper, Ltd. announced this week. Capacity of the Thorold mill, already the largest fine paper mill in Canada, will be increased by 50 per cent from 165 tons daily to some 240 tons a day.

In addition, the new production facilities will enable the company to further expand its present lines and introduce new products.

Provincial Paper, Limited, has expanded rapidly since the end of World War II. D. W. Ambidge, president Abitibi Paper and Paper Company, Limited (of which Provincial is a wholly-owned subsidiary) in the annual report of 1959 stated that the need for extensive expenditures on the mills of Provincial Paper, Ltd. is urgent and a comprehensive program of rehabilitation has been drawn up and is being put into effect.

Production began in 1903 with one machine.

A second paper machine was in production by 1913 when the mill came under the ownership of Provincial Paper Mills Co. Ltd. This Company became Provincial Paper Ltd. in 1927 and in 1930 control of its stock passed to Abitibi. By 1946, Provincial Paper was a wholly owned Abitibi subsidiary.

The Thorold mill produces a wide range of book, offset, litho, envelope, bond, tabular, label and writing papers, as well as many specialty grades. The company's Port Arthur mill is the only machine coated paper mill in Canada, and many of Canada's 750 periodicals are published on paper from this mill. The Georgetown mill is a modern conventional conversion coating mill.

Movies, Band Concert Highlight Week at Manor

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Hobby Class was held on Wednesday afternoon, January 27th, with twenty members in attendance. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Locke and Mrs. S. Allen. The crib quilt that had been quilted by Mrs. M. Forbes, Mrs. Rose Witter and Clara Sutton, was on display and the three ladies were praised and congratulated for this excellent piece of work.

A donation of materials very suitable for Hobby Class projects, that had been received from St. David's Presbyterian Church in Campbellville, was opened and displayed. The members of the class expressed their appreciation of this generous and practical gift.

Thirteen knitted dish cloths, two pairs of child's socks and a quantity of knitting for cushion tops were delivered. Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Forbes for a donation of two pairs of knitted child's socks. Arrangements were made to hold a Valentine party in two weeks' time. The need for discarded nylon hose is continuing and more donations would be appreciated.

A genuine treat in the field of motion pictures was enjoyed by the residents on Wednesday evening, January 27th, when the full length motion picture, "Don't Go Near The Water" was shown for their benefit. This very amusing film, a story of U.S. Navy personnel on shore duty on a South Pacific Island, starred the talented actor, Glenn Ford, and a number of other competent actors and actresses. The very humorous situations depicted in the film caused much amusement among the residents present. The residents owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. E. Gawronski for taking over in Mr. Allen's absence and running the projector. Mrs. Gawronski was also a welcome guest.

On Thursday, January 28th, the residents had the honour of hearing a fine band concert played for them by fifty boys and girls belonging to the Burlington Boys' and Girls' Band in a manner of speaking, this concert was a dress rehearsal of the annual winter concert to be given by the Junior Band in the Burlington Arena on Saturday night, Jan. 30th. The concert was conducted by Bandmaster Elgin G. Corlett, who once again proved his fine talent in the training of hand personnel. The fifty boys and girls looked very smart in their scarlet and black uniforms. The program ranged all the way from stirring marches such as Steel King and Hospitality to the overture Mystic Gardens, and from an Irish Salute to a Novelty number, Little Sports Car. In the number called Original Dixieland Concert, five musicians played the melody to the accompaniment of the remainder of the band, and in the number Tropical Trumpets the same idea was carried out by three trumpeters. At the close of the concert by the Junior Band, a dance band of twelve young handmen took over and played four dance numbers which included Dark Drums and Embraceable You. Light refreshments of cold drinks and cookies brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

At supper time on Saturday, January 29th, each resident found at his or her place in the dining room, a cellophane bag filled with several different kinds of candy. This candy had been the gift of lo-

Mother Still the Big Favourite for Valentine

Mom is still a big favourite when it comes to receiving St. Valentine's Day cards.

Three times as many Valentines sent by men this year will go to mothers as to sweethearts, is the prediction made by William E. Coutts, chairman of the County Hallmark Cards.

"It seems that a man might forget to send a card to his girl friend, but he makes sure that he somehow expresses his love and thanks to his mother," he said.

But this state of affairs won't hinder the girls — especially this February 14th, said Mr. Coutts. He predicted that thousands of young ladies will take full advantage of the fact that this is Leap Year to let the man of their choice know they are out to get him.

One of the cards they'll be sending to carry the "message" shows a smug looking male fox being told:

"You may think you're pretty foxy, but you've met your match, I betcha."

So I'm going to tell you here and now.

This year I'm gonna getcha to see why he doesn't stand a chance. Inside a sly lady fox is ready for him with a huge steel trap that snaps open and shut with the movement of the card.

Another whose a prun he specified lady perched daintily on a satin upholstered chair.

"I wouldn't hunt a man or do a single thing I shouldn't! I wouldn't chase you Leap Year style," she insists.

But inside we see her real self as she says "not much I shouldn't" and with shoes off and spectacles flying, she pursues a fleeing male.

Confronted with this kind of determination, a fellow might as well give up. And there's even a card he can send when he's doing that.

For instance, he might dispatch a greeting that states:

"Hey, Valentine!"

"If you're looking I ain't looking!"

Men weren't any safer in the "good old days" either. According to Mr. Coutts, sending a luscious sentimental card 100 years ago was considered equivalent to a marriage proposal.

"There was even greater barbarism — the male viewpoint — in earlier Leap Year customs," he noted. "If you'll check your history you will find that in about 1288 a law was passed in Scotland that levied a fine of up to £100 against any single man who turned down a lady who proposed to him."

A few years later, he said, France passed a similar law. Then in the 15th century, similar ordinances were instituted in Florence and Genoa.

"So, men take heart! Things may look bleak but they have been much, much worse."

Was Former Telephone Serviceman in Town

The death occurred of Howard Zenas Ramsay, 66, of Sarnia, in St. Joseph's Hospital, on January 20, following a short illness. Mr. Ramsay was at one time Bell Telephone serviceman in Georgetown.

Mr. Ramsay was born in Orangeville, a son of James Ramsay and Elizabeth Carney, and was educated locally. He was a member of the United Church of Canada, was employed by Bell Telephone for 22 years and Ontario Hydro for 12 years. He retired three years before his death.

He served in the Army, in World War I, being wounded twice in action in France, and Belgium. Mr. Ramsay was a member of the Sarnia branch, Canadian Legion. He was married to the former Hazel Moffitt of Orangeville.

Mr. Ramsay is survived by his wife, one son, Gordon Zenas of Chatham, five sisters, Marion of Toronto, Margaret (Mrs. Griffith Simpson) of Orangeville, Olive of Timmins, Mrs. Bertha Sprout of California and Mrs. Gertrude Clark of Seattle, Washington, and five grandchildren. Two sisters, Annie and Edna, predeceased him.

Funeral service was held on January 22, from the Turner Funeral Home, Orangeville. Rev. H. G. Davidson officiated. Pallbearers were Harry Glover, Harvey Curry, Arthur Woodland, Frank Jackson, Jay M. Murray and J. J. Campbell. Flower bearers were Harry Lilley, Harry King, Clare Reid, Leah Sargent, A. S. McGowan, and Harold Johnson.

Streetsville Teacher Addresses Farm Club

Mr. Ted Humphreys, teacher at Streetsville High School was the speaker for the February meeting of Terra Cotta Farmers Club at Mr. and Mrs. Owens MacDonald. His topic was one of great interest, the aims of education, and the new Central Peel Composite School; the need for a school of this type in this area.

Miss Iowen MacDonald favoured with a piano solo. The Allis Junior Farmers Quartet directed by Mrs. Gordon Sharpe sang several selections which were very favourably received. Mr. Clarence Anderson expressed thanks to all participants. Lunch was served following the meeting.

CHILDREN'S AID THANKS FOR XMAS GENEROSITY

Generous donations of money, toys, clothing, food, books, games, etc., from many organizations and individuals throughout the county, once again made it possible for The Children's Aid Society of the County of Halton to bring joy at Christmas to children in less fortunate families.

To all who contributed, the Society extends sincere thanks not only on behalf of those who benefitted by your thoughtfulness, but also for the privilege of sharing this spirit of good will with you.

Fathers vs. PeeWees

(contributed)

On Saturday evening, January 30th, the game of all games was played at the arena, the contestants - Georgetown PeeWees and the Georgetown Fathers. A great game ensued and sports of speed by Flash Blair and Lightning Llewellyn really kept the game rolling. One player being scouted who was Dipsy-Double Telford who showed some great stick handling. Another stand out for the "old fellows" was Back Boy Dwyer. His snark attacks from the smitbin around through the crowd to the ice were amazing.

Puck Hog Perkins held the scoring down for the old boys, (the just would not pass) Other players on the old boys team who puffed their way through a rugged sixty minutes were Hutterball Barefoot, Slippery Sheppard, Three-Point Lane, Krazy Kynnerly and late late late.

The referee, Miss Gail Lloyd and Sheila Wallace did a stellar job.

I'm coming to Victoria, Snelgrove & Huttonville THIS FALL!

Modern dial service and direct distance dialing come to Victoria, Snelgrove, and Huttonville on October 2nd, 1960. This means that customers in these three localities will be able to dial all their local calls as well as many of their own long distance calls.

A new building to house the new dial equipment for Snelgrove is under construction. The Victoria building will be started in the early spring. Installers will be visiting customers to install the dial telephones very soon.

When dial service becomes effective in Victoria, Snelgrove and Huttonville next fall, the new dial telephone numbers will consist of seven figures. These new numbers will conform with the new plan known as "All Number Calling" which will gradually come into use in Ontario and Quebec over a period of years.
