

JETLINER SERVICE

Frank C. Edwards, transportation manager chief who served aboard two Royal Tour trains in Canada, has been appointed Executive Chief with Trans-Canada Air Lines, supervising the preparation of meals for the airline's new Douglas DC-8 jets. Born in Volkmann, Missouri, Mr. Edwards trained at the Hotel Hotel in Amsterdam and was employed at the Hotel Bellevue, Zurich and the Volkmann Hotel before coming to Canada in 1932. He worked at the Hotel-Carlton Hotel and founded Drury's Restaurant in Montreal and served with the Canadian National Railways private car department on two Royal Tours, prior to his appointment with T.C.A. Planned with Mr. Edwards is Harry Wright, one of the master chefs who will work under his supervision.

Gay Evening as Square Dancers Visit the Manor

By Muriel Thompson

An evening of exhilarating and heart-warming entertainment was provided for the residents on Tuesday evening, February 9th, when twenty-five ladies and gentlemen who are members of the Four Corners Square Dance Club came to the Manor to present a program of square dancing. It was a matter of general regret that Mr. Everett, the regular caller of these dances, on previous occasions had become an influenza victim and was not able to be present. However, he had a fine substitute in the person of Mr. Ron Brogna who performed his duties very capably. Mr. Brogna is also vice-president of the club. Mr. Fred Giles, another capable caller, assisted Mr. Brogna in the duties. The dances presented included such lively square dances as "Duck To The Oyster", "Texas Star" and "The Gay Caballero", hitting waltzes such as the Valceta and facination waltzes and two or three polkas, including the Happy Polka. As a special favour, "The Trail of The Lone Some Pine", a very popular number on previous programs, was danced and sung. Norman Viggers, a Manor resident, accompanied the music of two of the dances on the bones. Everyone was sorry when the sweet strains of the lovely waltz "Now Is The Hour", brought the program to a close. During an interval between dances, a chocolate bar was presented to each resident by the visitors. Light refreshments of cold drinks and cookies were then served, bringing the visit of these staunch old friends from Port Credit to a close.

"The Master Is On" Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 10th, a very pleasant visit was paid to the residents by a small group of gracious ladies belonging to the March group, Women's Church Year of St. Matthew's Church in Aldershot. The four ladies were Mrs. C. Blankstein, Mrs. H. Ridgway, Mrs. S. Whalley and Mrs. R. Shelton. They toured the various wings of the Manor, presenting gifts of flowers and delicious candy and cookies.

On Thursday, Feb. 11th, a merry and informal afternoon was spent by the residents in the company of thirteen ladies belonging to the Scotch-Block Women's Institute, who had come to the Manor to present their annual St. Valentine's party. In the regrettable absence of Mrs. M. Patterson, the president, the duties of chairman were performed by Miss C. Turner, past president. She was assisted by the secretary, Mrs. R. Irving. At the outset of the party, Valentines were presented in pairs to both the residents and the visitors, so that, insofar as was possible, they might sit together in pairs. The program began with the Institute, Ode and Mary Stewart collect, after which a minimum amount of business was transacted. The roll call was answered with the giving of gifts to the Hobby Class. Miss Turner announced that a

Provincial Entomologist Fruit Growers' Speaker

Prof. H. W. Goble, Provincial Entomologist, will review insects damaging fruit and vegetable crops during 1960, and make recommendations for control measures during 1960. Prof. Goble is one of several specialists featured by the Burlington and Vegetable Growers Association in cooperation with the Ontario Department of Agriculture at their annual meeting on Thursday, March 3rd.

The meeting is being held in two sessions. The afternoon programme will be devoted to problems of the fruit grower, with the evening programme devoted to vegetable problems.

The afternoon programme includes Prof. Goble, and Prof. C. E. Kelly of the Botany Dept., OAC. Dr. Kelly will review disease control practices. G. H. Comly, Extension Specialist, will discuss the subject of preventing bruising during Apple harvest.

Dr. J. F. Brown of Milton, secretary of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers' Association, will head the evening meeting, with a discussion on growing methods in trellis tomatoes.

Both sessions will be held in the Lions' Hall, Burlington.

Georgetown Bull Tops U.S. Sale

Canadian Shorthorns were in the limelight at the newly established All Bull Sale at Winchester, Virginia. There were 125 bulls in the sale from eight States and the Province of Ontario. The six top selling bulls ALL came from the Ontario consignors.

S. G. Bennett, Georgetown, had the top seller, with a son of his ONE champion, Scotsdale Lucifer. The price was $1,600. Next in line with a pair of Polled bulls, was Roy Philip, Port Hope; the price being $1,100 and $1,075. Incidentally, both of these bulls have been Performance Tested, with good rates of gain one of them gaining 3.02 lbs per day during the official five month test period.

R. W. Gardhouse, Milton, had the next three tops, with a trio selling at very uniform prices: $1,000, $950, and $915.

Left-Over Wool is In Demand in Korea

What do you do with your left-over knitting wool when you've finished a sweater or a pair of socks? Is it just something else to encourage moth? Well it no longer need be. The Save the Children Fund would like it - and for a very sensible and worthwhile purpose.

There is also a demand for the finished garments and space has been offered, free, for a stall in the local market place. But sweaters that are sold cannot be unravelled again - and the first need is for the wool for teaching - and knitting wool is beyond the budget of the teacher - it costs nine Canadian dollars a pound in Korea.

The Canadian Save the Children Fund, last year, undertook to send a quantity of wool yarn to their headquarters in Korea where it was turned over to a Mrs. Ho who had volunteered to teach a number of homeless, penniless Korean girls to knit professionally. The wool arrived and the teaching began. Unfortunately, the quantity of wool was not great and each night the work done by the students the day before had to be painstakingly unravelled, so that the next day's class would have wool to work with. In spite of this, the C.S.C.F. has now learned that 80 girls have graduated from the school and are now working in knitting factories - and 16 new girls have started the course.

There is also a demand for the finished garments and space has been offered, free, for a stall in the local market place. But sweaters that are sold cannot be unravelled again - and the first need is for the wool for teaching - and knitting wool is beyond the budget of the teacher - it costs nine Canadian dollars a pound in Korea.
