Kid Hockey

Well, Saturday morning hockey has reached the end of its regular run and teams are now fighting for position to go on to the finals and group championships.

As predicted, a couple of weeks ago the underdogs are coming from behind to look out from here on.

In the American league which has gone into its semi final series, Bev Moody's and Reg Higgins' along Buffalo team collapsed to Hershey who in the past few weeks have become eager Beaver hunters. The winners will have to pull up their socks and play heads up hockey in their next session.

Providence also coming out of the cellar left poor old Rochester a big ladder to climb in their next meeting. Cleveland and Cincinnati went out front in their respective games but only by one goal margin.

Saturday, March 5th will see all the teams in playoff action. If you enjoy kids and like to see them play hockey come on down to the arena and cheer for them. Their efforts will not be wasted and neither will your time and cheer.

The Tuesday night Senior League have gone into their playoffs with Whitby upsetting Belleville, 3-0, while KW dumped Windsor 6-3. It looks like Kitchener and Whitby will meet in the finals but with all this unpredictable hockey later who knows.

Special Only three pink registration cards are missing in the American League. D. Greygoose, and in the N.H.L. R. Carr and D. Tuck. Let's get them in, fellows.
