

Family Gathers for Birthday Celebration

A happy group of family and friends of Mrs. Sarah Boyd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hillock Saturday evening, March 17th for a surprise party in honour of her 30th birthday.

The party was arranged by her daughter Miss Vera Boyd and Mrs. Hillock and Mrs. Boyd received many beautiful and useful gifts and a sum of money. After an enjoyable evening of reminiscing, a luncheon was served, complete with gaily decorated birthday cake lighted with the traditional candles. The group joined in extending best wishes for many more happy, healthy years, and singing the "happy birthday" song. Mrs. Boyd made a fitting reply and thanked her thanks for the gifts, cards, flowers and best wishes extended.

Those attending the party were four of her daughters and her son, and included Mrs. Floyd Downs, Hensby, Mr. and Mrs. George DeForest, Milton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGilvray, Dunnville; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boyd, Miss Vera Boyd, Mrs. Arville Wright, Mr. Elmer Burt, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hillock, Miss Dianne Hillock, Blayne and Grady Hillock and Mrs. Teresa Harrison.

Council Reiterates Industry, then Houses

A lengthy letter from solicitor Alan Campbell, representing Delrex Developments, and expressing surprise at council's last week decision to refuse an application for release of more Delrex residential building land, drew a reiteration from council of its position in the matter.

"Our motion clearly outlined what would be necessary for negotiation - more industrial assessment" said Mayor Hyde.

Cr. Ian Cass said that, following a meeting with the solicitor and Delrex officials, another committee meeting had been held. The committee recommendation that without more industrial assessment, release of further housing land is not advisable, had been accepted by council and the matter rests there, he said.

"I would never refuse to meet with Delrex to consider any further proposals" he continued. "This was not the rejection of a proposal, so much as the rejection in general terms of any large scale building without more industry."

"I'm tired of hearing 'what council going to do' in this matter" said Cr. Harrison.

"Delrex and the town made an agreement and our auditor has said we would be in a better position if the agreement had been lived up to."

Cr. Cass said that his committee feels that getting industry is the first problem of the town, and release of building land the second problem, and should be kept in that order.

"We're not sitting in an ivory tower and will consider any proposal that Delrex might make" he said.

OUST MILTON

over his shoulder in pulling it away from Melanson's stick.

Voyce converted a Richardson goal-mouth pass at 17:33 and Ron Dixon potted number four at 18:50 from Demers and Vary as the Raiders again wrestled the lead away.

Hannant's tying tally at 20:01 was unique in that it was probably the first goal ever to be scored after the end of a period. The second hand hit the 0 as Hannant battled his way out from the corner - but no buzzer. Hannant continued on in front and popped it in. Smith argued vigorously and got a raw egg in the back for his trouble.

It was Blake Inglis' goal from Dave Voyce at 25:55 of the final that brought an early spring to Milton, and it was justice that Blake Inglis should not the free one at 19:40 with the Milton goalie, Bill Orr, watching from the bench and defenseman Joe McLean's tally trying to hide the pre-arrangement and Irons picked up the assist.

The Georgetown clincher was inevitable to anyone conscious of the Merchant's past attempts at a power play. The Raiders had killed off 11 penalties with little effort to Milton's three, and Thompson-Dixon and company had worried the Merchant power play to ineffectiveness.

Regardless of the Raiders' fate from here on in, anything after the Milton net will seem anticlimactic. The bitterly contested series upheld a pile of theories, including the old adage that silence is golden. For Georgetowners the humble bash in Milton arena after the final buzzer was 14 karat.
