Hire Toronto Law Firm To Collect Disputed 1958 Payment

Council Takes Action To Fix Roads, Charge Delrex

A letter from Allen Hunter, solicitor for Campbell & Ryan, solicitors 100 from Eason's pits, and to Delrex Developments, was received Monday by the town council, which reiterated the 20,000 cubic yards of gravel firm's stand that an account of $26,857 owed by the firm is more than offset by a contra account.

The disputed payment is contained in a 1958 agreement by which the firm, in consideration of releasing a block of land for residential building, agreed to make up the tax difference if new industry did not come to maintain a 60-40 ratio contained in a 1954 agreement when Delrex first came to town.

The town received $400 last year under this agreement. This year, the Delrex firm submitted a list of public works which it claims it installed above its original agreement and has declined to pay the $26,857 account which was due three months ago.

The letter stated, however, that a 1958 tax bill owing will be paid when the required funds become available and definitely before the end of the year.

Another contentious point, roads in East Delrex, was dealt with in the letter, with Delrex denying responsibility for putting roads in the condition demanded by the Dept. of Highways for subsidy.

The firm claims that the 1954 agreement did not give specifications for grading and graveling, and says that it will seal the roads and topdress them with crushed gravel, but says that the town will have to seal the roads immediately after.

The Toronto law firm of Willis & Dinwiddie will act for the town in demanding collection.

Reeve Sargent, while voting for the motion, said he would prefer first to get advice from the Municipal Board which okayed the Delrex agreement, but his suggestion did not receive majority support. The board, however, will be consulted if any questions arise, the mayor said.

"I don't like the idea of going to court, but sometimes you have to," said Deputy Reeve Gray. "This payment is in lieu of industrial assessment and we either have to have the money or the industry."

Definite action was also taken on roads, with motions passed to purchase up to 20,

Lodge Protest Against Mimico For Signing Of Over-age Players

Community Centre soccer commissioner John Boyd has lodged protest against the Oakville soccer tournament committee following a pair of incidents at the eight team tournament there Saturday that may have cost Georgetown's teams the titles.

The Bantams took on Dixie in the second round and played to a scoreless tie after five minutes of overtime.

The second protest came in the Aoms final, when the Oakville bench at 12 that round and gained the final against another Oakville entry on a bye. The teams played regulation time and five minutes overtime without scoring.

Despite objections by Boyd who favoured leaving the teams play until one side scores, the game was the last scheduled game, and officials called it after five minutes to decide a winner by shots on goal.

Georgetown boys sitting on the Oakville bench at 12 that the team became dejected when notified that the shots on goal in the overtime would make the difference, and were sure that they had lost.

When the announcement was made over the PA in the Oakville hall that the 3-0 loss to 2 Georgetown officials reflected the surprise of the spectators and questioned the decision.

Uncollected Taxes, Contingencies Push Rate Up 4 Mills This Year

The average Georgetown taxpayer will face an extra $15 to $25 dollars in his tax bill this year.

Georgetown's new tax rate, set at Monday's council meeting, is 65 mills for residential properties, 69 mills for industrial and commercial.

Last year's tax rates were 61 and 63 mills.

Translated into money, a house assessed at $4500 paid $274.50 in taxes last year. This year the same assessment would yield $292.50, a tax increase of $18.00.

"We can't blame school boards for the increase as many other towns are doing," remarked Finance Minister Doug Sargent, who presented the budget to council.

Reeve Sargent attributed the increase primarily to a continuing increase in uncollected taxes and a provision for uncollected taxes of $26,000.

While such figures must be included in a realistic budget, he said, there is hope that both figures are high and "I feel there is a good chance we might end the year with a surplus for a change, instead of a deficit."

Mayor Hyde echoed his remarks. The town is forced to budget with a pessimistic view, he said, but he hopes that the year end may see a surplus. There must be a tax collection blitz, he said. Delrex Developments, he said, have a great deal to do with the contingencies when council has had to budget for. He would have to keep a tight rein on spending and said the finance committee would be making frequent checks on the budget.

"One unpaid tax account has cost us some publicity," remarked the mayor. "Perhaps we should consider printing all delinquent taxes in the auditor's report this year as was done last year."

Reeve Sargent said that the budget, road expenditures have been slashed by $15,000, the Cemetery Board grant is down $3,000, and expenditures on new equipment have been reduced $6,000 from last year.

Besides the allowances for contingencies and uncollected taxes, the "up" department includes $20,000 more for public schools and $21,000 for the high schools, $22,000 in delinquent charges, $10,000 county rates, $2500 interest, plus an allowance of $2500 for purchase of a new truck, $3500 for police salaries, which includes adding a man to the force, and $1750 for staff salaries.

In the budget, road expenditures have been slashed by $15,000, the Cemetery Board grant is down $3,000, and expenditures on new equipment have been reduced $6,000 from last year.

Seek Lacrosse Location In The Park or Arena

Assistance in a location for lacrosse, either in the park or arena, was sought by a group of sportsmen when they interviewed council Monday.

Herb Robinson and "Red" Asseltine were spokesmen for the men who last year started a boys league. Mr. Robinson explained that they had operated in the arena, but thought that this year, with council help it might be possible to have a lacrosse box in the park.

Mr. Asseltine said that a total of 22 interested men had devoted their time to teaching lacrosse to the boys, and this year it is hoped to include groups up to 16. The men had chipped in two dollars apiece to get things going, he said, and had paid a $5.00 per night fee at the arena until their funds ran out.

He said the arena is available all summer and that with cooperation from town authorities it could be used and might even bring in some revenue.

He urged council to make some arrangement with the arena board.

"Last year when I was property chairman, I tried to have a $100 skating rink installed in the park, but only two councilors were in favour," said Mr. Robinson. "I'm sure you'll be more favourable this year."

The request was referred to the property committee which will attempt to find a providing facilities.
