Anniversary, Family Day Special Glen Services

Rev. A. Dohson of Georgetown, in the selection "Drafting," was in charge of both. The sermon was based on morning and evening services three questions: "Whom Am I when Glen Williams Played?" "Who Art Thou?" and "What Church Celebrated Their 125th Anniversary?" Sunday, May 1st.

The choir sang in the morning, bodies and baskets of snapdragons, roses and Phlox, the Anabaptists and mums adorned the gills. Sing, "Awode," and God sanctifies.

Is a Sparrow? Bennett. The sermon was based on Mark 14:27, stressing the necessity to look forward as well as back at the time of an anniversary.

In the evening, the pastor, so lost was Mr. Dohson, who is a Christian Communist. After delighted all with a Marion opening hymn and prayer, Dr. Over the Hilltop, and Mr. and Mrs. Gates read scripture - Ephesians 6:14, and Bobby

Deacon, "The Queen."

Family Day Service was served last Sunday with Associate Minister Rev. A. Dohson in charge and Mrs. H. Ingilby at the organ. The theme of the service was "The Family As A Christian Community." After delighting all with a Marion opening hymn and prayer, Dr. Over the Hilltop, and Mr. and Mrs. Gates read scripture - Ephesians 6:14, and Bobby

Deacon, "The Queen."

Living their respective club flags, the motorcycles formed in a parade and roared off to church. In past years they paraded through the town, and then went to Grace church.

This year the itinerary called for a form-up at the Dundas Market Plaza, proceeding down through the town and out to Stewarttown church. Unfortunately, the heavy rain canceled the parade, and they had to go in cars.

Why is this a noteworthy event? Simply because in more than a few minds leather jacketed motorcycle riders are synonymous with hoodlums and hooligans. This conception may only have been strengthened by Marion Brando portrayals in violent movies.

If it is the black leather jackets people find objectionable, there is a reason for them. Leather is worn because of its slippery surface. If a rider is tossed off a bike, he will stick to the pavement, leatherward. So by sliding, the force of the fall is lessened.

Similarly, concrete abrasions are diminished by leather. It is also the only material capable of cutting the wind, even present on a motorcycle.

The motorcyclist, like the hot-rodder, has become a victim of the "label," and is suffering for the sins of a few.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

George Robertson is New Police Officer

Georgetown had an eighth police officer following Monday's council meeting.

After interviewing five applicants of the 22 who answered an advertisement for the position, George Murray Robertson, 34, was council's choice. He started his new job on Tuesday.

Mr. Robertson recently returned to town after being a member of the Ontario Provincial Police for eight years, latterly in Belleville. Prior to that he had been a Smith & Stone employee, working as a stockkeeper for five years.

He attended Erin High School before enlisting with the Lorne Scots Regiment in 1942. With his wife, the former Jean Wood, and four children, he is living at 52 Queen St.

Music for the evening was supplied by Mr. Roy Cook and his son Christopher, who played several accordion selections. Mr. Cook also played a singing solo while the refreshments were being served.

Motorcycle Clubs Attend Stewarttown Church Service

For some reason most of us would be surprised to see rows of motorcycles parked outside a church Sunday morning, rows of cars we expect, but motorcycles... no! However, this does happen every Mother's Day. The Yellow Jackel Motorcycle Club of Georgetown, together with clubs from surrounding towns attend a service every Mother's Day.

Nominations from the floor were received Tuesday, May 3, at a regular dinner meeting of the Lions in the Legion Hall. Most offices are being contested this year.

Several committee reports were given during the business portion of the meeting. Bob Brick, chairman of the Rodeo Committee, in reviewing plans for the monster western show coming up indicated that this promises to be the most colourful event ever held in town.

President Jim Jones was in charge of the meeting which drew an excellent attendance, including three guests from the Erindale Lions and Tom Lodge of town.
