School Days End Forever At S.S. 2 Chinguacousy

To Larger Area School Buses Will Take Pupils

One of sixteen one room schools which closed in Chinguacousy township in June never to open again S.S. No. 2 on the corner of the 5th line and 15th street, was the scene of a nostalgic assembly recently when former pupils and teachers held a reunion on the site of the last day of school. In future children from the district will be bused to larger schools.

Those attending registered with Miss Ruth Ismond and during a social hour and buffet supper renewed acquaintances and reminisced about school days. Clure Dolson chaired a program in which former teachers were introduced and in turn spoke briefly about their teaching days.

Mrs. Edna C. Galt, whose husband has been farming on the 4th line, has been the very capable teacher for the past five years and acted as hostess welcoming everyone and thanking the committee for their effort. The feasibility of the move to a central school was a much discussed topic and agreement was general that it was for the better.

The following is a history of the school read by Mrs. James Doane:

The first school was a frame building on Mr. Robert's farm across from the present school house. This old school house was also used as a church on Sundays and was later replaced by a Methodist Church. This was later sold and removed. Part of it is still in use as a garage on the farm of the late Peter Dick, now owned by Robert Leslie.

In 1870, in the old school a meeting was called to order with Mr. Henry Clarridge, as chairman and R. Cooley was secretary. Here it was decided that ratifiers be informed that a special meeting would be called to make arrangements for the building of a new school house. This meeting was held Saturday, April 9th, 1870 with Mr. John Leslie chairman and Mr. R. Cooley, secretary. Mr. Beatty offered half an acre of ground for the school site at $100.00. Mr. Oith offered the same quantity of ground for $80.00. This was the offer accepted, the present site where the school is today. It was decided the school house was to be brick and was to be 24 feet wide, 32 feet long, ceiling 11 feet high, walls 6 inches thick and plastered with columns as a support for the outside carried.

The trustees were to levy $400.00 in 1870 and $400.00 in 1871, and balance later. The size of doors, windows, flooring, board, everything was decided at this meeting. There were to be three rows of desks, nine in each row four feet in length, as to seat two pupils. The building was to be finished by September 1st, 1871. There was only one tender proffered. It was accepted for the sum of $1000.00. A Mr. Thomas Masthead built this school. Mr. James Rowan, the school teacher kept the books, he received in 1871, $280. for teaching. In 1872-73 Robert Beatty, Arch Spellers and John S. Leslie were trustees.

About 1860 the caretaker was paid $35.00 per year. In this year new floors were laid and the seats were changed from double to single. In 1864 the caretaker was to light the

Leonard Reunion Brings Family From U.S. Yoo

The Leonard reunion was held at the Bradley farm on the holiday week end. Some of the clan began arriving Wednesday afternoon and remained until Sunday. Tents were pitched in the backfield near the creek and the weekend was spent in company with relatives gathered from Boston, Kansas, Leamington, Sudbury, Welland, Markham, Fort Erie and St. Catharines. There were fifty nine persons in all at the peak of the reunion. Many happy hours were spent in reminiscing around the camp fires and in sports and meal preparations. Swimming was a big attraction for the children.

On Sunday morning Rev. J. E. Maxwell conducted a church service in the open and remained after for breakfast and church.

Sunday at noon a buffet dinner was held at the house. Mrs. Howard Bradley, daughter and daughter-in-law, as well as friends helped to make the dinner a success.

A presentation was made to Leonard and John Bradley and to Kay and Ralph Leonard who had taken charge of the reunion.

A happy time was had by all. This was the first attempt, but they are talking of having another in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jefferson and family remained with the Bradleys till Monday night and Mrs. Walter Bull and children of Sudbury are staying for a visit.

Our Trip To Midland

by members of Grade Seven Class at Park Public School

It was early Thursday morning that the Grade Seven pupils of Park School shouted excitedly "Here comes the bus!"

A few minutes later, we were on our way to Midland, where missionaries once gave their lives, early in the history of Ontario, to do Christian work among the Huron Indians.

Upon arrival, the first place visited was the reconstructed Huron Indian village, where Dr. J. R. Wright, University of Western Ontario, spoke to us about the way in which the Hurons lived over three hundred years ago. We then moved about the village climbing to look out along the palisade and exploring the long houses filled with smoke from within.

Later at Huronia Museum, a guide told us the Christmas story as it was told to the Hurons by Father Brecheuf. Here we saw also the actual bones of Indians who had lived about three hundred and fifty years ago.

After eating our lunch at Little Lake Park, we visited the world renowned Martyr's Shrine and Fort Ste. Marie. So magnificent is the scenic and religious beauty surrounding the Shrine that it is indeed marvellous.

From here we travelled to Fort Penetanguishene, once a military and naval base. There we saw what remains of the historic forts Tecumseh and, Tigress.

On our way home we stopped at Springwater Provincial Park and were delighted to see the many animals and birds that are there.

After satisfying our appetites at a restaurant on Highway No. 27, we proceeded on our homeward journey to end a most enjoyable and educational tour.

Former District Resident Barbara Joan Eves Weds

In Fairbank Presbyterian Church, Barbara Joan Eves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hill of Toronto, became the bride of Donald William Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooper, Tottenham. Rev. Kenneth Mathews officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tulle de soie appliqued with roses. A Juliet cap held her chapel train and she carried massive orchids, feathered carnations and white heather.

Her maid of honour was Lynda Clark, and attendants Marilyn Clulley, Dianne Clark, Joan Cooper and flower girl was Nora Cooper, both sisters of the groom. Their gowns were mauve and orchid frosted tulle with matching headpieces. They carried spring bouquets.

Best man was Ronald Sanderson, ushers were Doug Kilner, David Vickers and Luke Ypelar.

A reception at the Wedgewood Restaurant followed the ceremony. The bride's mother received in green floral chiffon with matching accessories while the groom's mother assisted in beige lace with matching accessories.

Out of town guests included residents of Glen Williams, Georgetown and Norval. The bride and her parents were formerly residents of Georgetown and Glen Williams.

After a honeymoon trip to New England the couple plan to live in Toronto.

Chapman-Ingoldsby Vows Brampton St. Mary's Church

White glads, shasta mums, tulips and lilacs decked the altar of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church on May 28th at 11 o'clock and white bouquets on the aisle were touched with mauve to match dresses worn by bridesmaids attending Jean Frances Ingoldsby when she exchanged marriage vows with Joseph Lawrence Chapman.

The bride's uncle, Monsignor Ingoldsby conducted the wedding ceremony and mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Ingoldsby, 85 Chapel Street Brampton and the groom is the son of Mrs. Helen Chapman of Oshawa.

Miss Doris Pawley played the wedding music accompanied by Mrs. Rob Breney as soloist who sang, "On This Day, Ave Marie, Jesus Thou are Coming."

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gardenia white tulle de soie gown. The tightly fitted empire bodice featured a wide portrait neckline and short sleeves, daintily appliqued with a heavy guipure lace scattered with tiny pearls. The princess styled skirt featured a petal shaped front applique with the matching lace. The elbow length veil of pure silk tulle illusion was held by a crown of illusion trimmed with the guipure lace and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchid roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Margaret Ingoldsby, twin sister of the bride, was her maid of honour and Mrs. Charles Armstrong and Mrs. Faith Moffatt were her bridesmaids. They all wore matching gowns of frosted white organza over orchid tulle, with a large orchid bow in front. They wore hats of orchid coloured flowers and a small veil and carried bouquets of white and deep purple lilies.

Mr. John Ingoldsby, brother of the bride was groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Don Par-

Halton is Prizewinner CCF Membership Drive

Iona Samit, National Secretary of the Packinghouse Workers was the charming guest speaker at the Halton CCF Association meeting held in the Ford Union Hall, Oakville on June 20.

Notification was received from the Provincial Office that Halton had won first prize in the membership drive and John Kane and Ron Tribe won the 1st and 2nd prizes in the fund drive to assist the CCF National Convention delegates.

Kay Spies and John Kane were elected to represent Halton at the CCF National Convention in Regina, in August.

A buffet lunch concluded the evening with about 50 people in attendance.
