Silver Academic Award Won by Jane Bradley

Academic honours in the graduating class at Wrigglesworth Public School were won this year by Jane Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Bradley, 15 Jarvisview Blvd. Jane received the Hyman Silver Memorial Award which was presented to her by Principal Willoughby Kinnear during a graduation party prior to school closing. The awards are presented by Sid Silver, local clothing merchant, in memory of his father who founded the business. Turkey dinner was served by members of the class at the party which took place at the school and there was a dance afterwards for the students. A "Home" program was presented by Mrs. Bradley, chairman, and Jane Bradley presented remembrances of the year in school. She was one of a number of pupils who started their schooling the year the school was opened to become Georgetown's second public school. Miss Bradley was introduced by Esma Ritchie and thanked for her lack by John Findlay. He recalled some of his own school days in town and explained to the girls how important it is to continue their education as far as possible. Miss Markham toasted the Queen and then was led by a teacher, Miss A. Toast in the school was presented by Barbara Markham with Mr. Ken trade applying. Miss Edna Moffat replied to a toast to the teachers by Keith Allen. Gifts were presented to Mr. Kinnear and to Mrs. Patsy Leslie who were teachers the year for Grade B. Thanks to the mothers for catering for the dinner was voted by Virginia Leslie.

on holidays from Hamilton, where she is employed with the Bell Telephone Co. Mr. and Mrs. McCausland spent a holiday at their cottage near Severn River recently. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott visited Miss Trudy Scott at the Ontario Athletic Leadership Training Camp at Langford Mills on Sunday.
