

Women Urged to Promote Safe Driving This Summer

Wives should be allowed to spend more time behind the wheel, especially during long vacation trips, according to Mrs. C. D. Finlayson, president of the National Council of Women of Canada.

"Because they are naturally cautious, women motorists are far less accident-prone than men," she explained. "Statistics show that out of 130,000 drivers involved in traffic accidents in Ontario in 1958, only 11,500 were women. That is less than nine per cent."

Women who do not drive but are passengers in cars can help keep the traffic down by acting as "safety engineers". Mrs. Finlayson further suggested to support the summer campaign of the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Here is her advice to mothers and housewives:

- 1 Volunteer as a spare driver when you suspect your husband is getting tired.
- 2 Make sure the whole family goes to bed early the night before starting out on a trip. Leave early and plan to stop driving before sunset.
- 3 Plan on frequent stops for a coffee break. Medical groups and safety officials recommend stopping every two hours to assure staying alert.
- 4 Keep the children occupied with books, games or the scenery. Keep them from diverting the driver's attention, and from playing with the door handles and push buttons.

"5. Take along a thermos of coffee and some food if you expect to go through long stretches of isolated and unpopulated areas.

With the full cooperation of Canadian mothers and housewives, the number of traffic accidents could be cut in half and fatalities reduced even more this summer," Mrs. Finlayson concluded.

Church Groups Have Combination Picnic

A combined picnic of the Sunshine Club, Women's Society and the Mission Circle of First Baptist Church was held at Terra Cotta Playground on Tuesday, July 12th with perfect weather.

The ladies enjoyed a delicious salad supper with apple pie for dessert and several games were conducted by Mrs. K. Pallett, Miss H. Holmes, and Mrs. J. Stopper. Some of the group had a refreshing swim before returning home.

Rhodesia Mission Work Is Discussed by Panel

The closing summer meeting of the WMSA Afternoon Auxiliary of St. John's United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Kintner, R.R. 1.

Mrs. Walter Brownbridge opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer. The worship period was taken by Mrs. Val Stein who chose Romans, Chapter 12 for the scripture reading, what is the meditation on "What is that in thy hand?"

God asked this of Moses, she said when Moses doubted his ability to deliver the Israelites from Egypt. Moses held up a rod which became a serpent, thus demonstrating the power of God in the eyes of the Israelites. She also mentioned how God blessed the five loaves and two fishes in the hand of a lad to feed the multitude.

Mrs. Don Hancock sang two beautiful hymns, "His Eye is on the Sparrow" and "Make Me a Blessing."

An interesting and informative study of the work of missionaries and people of North and South Africa was presented by a panel, with Mrs. Curtis as interviewer and Mrs. Clarence Hayes as Mrs. Clear, a missionary to Rhodesia, and Mrs. C. J. Burk as Miss Johnston, also a Rhodesia missionary.

The study said in part that much of the unrest in the copper belt arises from racial rivalry, politically, economically and socially. White people are inconsistent in their attitudes. They consider the African an inferior, yet fear him as competitor for jobs.

The meeting closed with a hymn and benediction, after which a social hour was enjoyed.

New Picnic Areas Are Planned In Bolton District

A tour of areas now under development by the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority was carried out Thursday by Authority members headed by chairman Dr. G. Ross Lord.

The tour took in the 50-acre Humber Trails located in King Township, 2 miles east of Nibleton, and the Bolton Community conservation area. The latter is being developed by the MTRCA but will be administered by the village.

Humber Trails is in the process of being developed principally as a picnic area on flood plain land and will be completed next year. The land was acquired by the province of Ontario under the Floods, Homes and Assistance Board set up after Hurricane Hazel, and later decided to the Authority.

It's expected that the area's official opening will be held around the end of July. The King Creek section of the Humber River flows through the property. Potential accommodation when completed will be about 500 persons at a time.

Cold Creek which boasts one of the most ideal swamps for nature study in this part of the country consists of 350 acres. It is planned to create a 10 acre pond on the property.

The Bolton community area consisting of 25 acres, will be developed for swimming and picnicking. Several of the buildings which made up Camp Kneale, used as a conservation camp school, will be retained for the new project. There will also be parking facilities for 125 cars.

International President Texan Heads Rotarians

Members of the local Rotary Club are among the many interested in the fact that the parent body now has a new president. In this month's Rotarian magazine, there is a story of the president elect, who becomes head of the world-wide body this month.

J. Edd McLaughlin, of Dallas, Texas, a well known banker and businessman. Born and raised on a Texas ranch, he entered the banking business with his father, still operating his family bank in Dallas. He is a graduate of the State College of West Texas. He has been active in the southern States as a leader in the Chamber of Commerce and is president of the Texas Bankers Association.
