As any fisherman will tell you, the most frustrating type of fish to try and catch, is our famous Muskellunge. This, my friend George Hoare and I found out last week-end to the tune of 11 by hours with no fish as our reward, but when you are rewarded with a jarring strike and a furious battle, all those previous frustrating trips are all forgotten. I did have a small mouth Bass on for a couple of minutes that might have went 4 or 5 lbs., before he threw a natural colour pikie minnow I was using for ball, back at me. That ended our day's fishing for musico at Port Severa.
