Six Fire Calls Mar Safety Week Opening

Local firemen are pleading that Fire Prevention Week -- October 9th to 15th -- be observed this year if for no other reason than to allow them to recover from the disastrous Thanksgiving week-end when they answered six fire calls in the area to launch the annual fire safety campaign.

FRIDAY NIGHT - A gas pump at Almst Construction on the 8th line, south of town was damaged extensively when it burst into flames while being refueled. Chief Bob Bonfield said the damage could go as high as $500.

SATURDAY NIGHT — No flames occurred but smoke and soot damage was heavy when an oil furnace in the home of Pete Bradkin, 3 Victoria St., exploded. The furnace converted to oil, apparently flooded itself. The residents were home at the time.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON — Children playing in the area were probably responsible for a fire at The Garnet Building Products dump which resulted in no damage and was soon brought under control by firemen.

MONDAY AFTERNOON — A late season grass fire took firemen to the River Road property of George Leslie south of the Varian Associates plant. Fire chief Bob Bonfield said a pile of burning rubbish nearby possibly ignited the grass. There was no damage.

MONDAY NIGHT An overloaded fuse box was blamed for a fire in the basement apartment of T. Thibeault, Guelph Street, which burnt a wall partition, some flooring and part of a stair well. Both fire and smoke damage were extensive and Chief Bonfield estimated the replacement cost at close to $1500. This one occurred at 8 o'clock.

MONDAY NIGHT — At 10 o'clock the firemen were summoned to the Limehouse home of Robert Holmes where fire, which apparently originated in the bathroom, caused damage placed at close to $2000 by Chief Bonfield. Damaged by the flames were bathroom fixtures, flooring, part of the kitchen including cupboards, and a refrigerator.

Local Accidents Down 42%

What started out as a safety conscious campaign has developed into a highly effective obsession at the local police department where 100 has become a magic number.

A tabulation by traffic safety officer Ted Scott this week disclosed the local accident rate is down 42 from last and may possibly be held to two figures this year. Such an accomplishment would be a local safety record.

The present accident mark stands at 74 compared with 116 at this time last year.

Continuing the campaign the police are warning cyclists to equip their bicycles with lights before riding at night. They will also be cracking down on motorists driving "one eyed" cars which are even more dangerous now the sun is setting early.

Applications Still Being Received

Applications are still being received in most Night School classes including three not mentioned in last week's list.

Among those still to be filled are Jewellery, taught by Mrs. Mitchell; Millinery, Mrs. Black; and Oil Painting, by Dorothy Stone.
