The Alvin Karna of London visited his brothers here during the week end.

Mr. Bill Bradford was home from Pickering College on Monday.

The Pattersons visited Mrs. Kate McKay and Mr. and Mrs. J. Kirkwood in Georgetown on Sunday.

Miss Joy Patterson spent the weekend with Mrs. Anne Briggs in Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hurd of Weston visited the Pattersons during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Smartill of Russ in Sudbury during the week end.

Gas Company Official Served With 164 Btn.

Grandson of a former Georgetown postmaster, Howard Goodenow Jermyan of 2844 Bloor St. W., Toronto, succumbed to a heart attack on October 21st. He was at work at Consumers Gas Co. where he was paymaster when he suffered the fatal attack. His grandfather, W. Goodenow, was once postmaster in town.

Born at Caledonia in 1865, Mr. Jermyan was a youngster when his parents moved to Georgetown. He attended public and high school here, then joined the Bank of Hamilton and when the first war broke out he joined the 164th Battalion. He later transferred to the Colours Artillery and went overseas with that unit.

He joined Consumers Gas in 1918.

A Baptist Mr. Jermyan was a gifted singer and had been a soloist at Farmer Memorial Baptist Church and Erskine United Church in the city.

He leaves his wife, Florence Harvey and two sisters, Kath Ivin, Mr. H. Slater of Toronto and Ruth, Mrs. C. Moffatt of Arizona.

Funeral service took place on Monday at the Turner and Porter Funeral Chapel, and interment was made later that day in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of North Bay spent a day recently with Mrs. Una Wheeler, Glen Williams.
