Revolution Against Ignorance Says 'Retarded Group' Speaker

Education is Important For Self-Sufficiency

A large audience, many of them representing church and service organizations, came away much better informed about what is being done to educate retarded children in Ontario, when they attended a panel discussion in Wigginsworth school auditorium last Wednesday.

The meeting was arranged by North Halton Association, which serves Georgetown district. The audience first viewed a movie "One on Every Street" which was prepared by the Ontario Department of Health and applied to parents in its description of life at special hospitals at Orillia and Smith Falls where some of the more severely retarded children and adults are given the best possible opportunity to show them to live useful lives.

"It is a revolution," said Gerry Addison, association president, "against ignorance, pity and neglect, which have too long marked our attitude towards retarded children."

He explained that there should be no embarrassment or shame attached to a condition of nature which has to be taken for granted. A limited brain reaction means that some young people cannot completely fend for themselves and it is important that the best methods be found for training this 3% of our population to make them self-sufficient, happy members of society.

Discussion of the panelists and questions from the audience proved a wealth of information for those present to take back to their organizations. One teacher can successfully look after six retarded pupils, it was explained, and the schools are established to help children in the 20 to 50 IQ bracket. There are many others in the 50 to 60 group who are served by public schools, which can set up special classes. A smaller group, 3% of the total, are incapable of help other than in government institutions. The association is presently seeking legislation which would make opportunity classes compulsory in public schools, it was explained.

The government foots 50% of the cost of such schools as the Sunshine School, and the remainder must be made up by assistance from the public. Mrs. Ernest Hall introduced Mr. Addison to the meeting, and Mrs. Max English, who teaches speech at the Sunshine School, expressed thanks to the panel members for the excellent evening.

Eastern Star Members Present Variety Show

Muriel Thompson
A group of ladies who have become very staunch and popular friends of the residents of Halton Centennial Manor on account of their own special qualities of friendliness and generosity, entertained the residents on Wednesday evening, November 2nd. These ladies were members of the Halton Chapter, No. 280 of the Order of the Eastern Star. They were accompanied by a number of gentlemen, all of whom are members of St. Clair Masonic Lodge and some of whom are members of the Order of the Eastern Star also. Mrs. A. H. Coulter, the worthy Matron of the Eastern Star Lodge and Mrs. T. J. McDonough, who was the convener of the entertainment, were present. While the audience was a combination of the ladies, these presenters enjoyed a special musical treat of organ music. The lovely little Baldwin electronic organ that had been loaned by Mr. Paul Barber of Georgetown for the dedication service in the Chapel on the preceding Sunday had been moved into the auditorium and a recital of both sacred and secular music was given by Mr. Barber himself.

Fine Solos
Mr. Maurice Beaudoin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Beaudoin, sang two very fine solos: "Caroline and When Irish Eyes are Smiling." Mrs. A. H. Coulter gave two appropriate readings, one based on the beauty of autumn and the other on the part played in the lives of so many of her listeners by the old schoolhouses that are disappearing so rapidly. Mr. Beaudoin sang two more very enjoyable solos: "In the Garden and May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You." The ladies served a delicious lunch of assorted sandwiches and tea before leaving. The audience each received a Halloween memento from the convener, an orange wrapped in a Halloween wax paper. The hearty round of applause given by the residents for the never-fading hospitality of these gracious ladies and for the kindness of Mr. Powell and the gentlemen of the Masonic Lodge proved how very enjoyable had been this social evening and how eagerly another evening would be anticipated.

Three Films
On Tuesday evening, November 1st, Mr. Allen showed three short moving picture films in the auditorium. Between the showing of the separate films, Mr. Bernard Strubsole played several selections on the Baldwin organ loaned by Mr. Barber.

The first church service to be conducted after the formal dedication of the chapel on Sunday, October 30th, was held on Sunday afternoon, November 6, and was in the hands of two members of the Oakville - Bronte - Milton camp of the Gideons, Mr. Stan Wright and Mr. Andrew Dalby. Mr. Wright offered prayer and read Chapter 3 of Colossians as the Scripture lesson, while Mr. Dalby led the singing and delivered the sermon. Although he spoke without formal preparation of "off the cuff" as he himself humorously

SOEST, West Germany
Canada's war heroes rest in beautifully kept cemeteries in Belgium, Holland, Germany, France and Italy. We have been able to visit the Canadian Military Cemeteries at Adegem, Belgium, and at nearby West Germany. In each we must confess, a lump swelled into our throat and we had to stop quietly in a prayer of thankful tears and humble appreciation.

Guardman J. C. Jensen, Governor General's Lordship, Pte. W. I. Durling and Pte. H. C. Channing, both of the C. H. I. of O. There were of course, but a few of the 1937 men buried in the beautifully kept cemetery. We would like to have visited every one but we wanted to stop that day of visit of the small towns in northern Belgium liberated by our Division in that awful campaign which earned for Third Day the official title of "Water Rats".

Shell-Out Sends $100 To UNICEF

Almost $100 was added to UNICEF funds by two groups of young people who traded their shell-out privileges on Halloween to help children in other lands. The Hi-Ci group of St. Andrew's United Church collected $33.00 and a group directed by Mrs. Percy Szare collected $23.00 all of which has been forwarded to UNICEF headquarters. One cent provides the vaccine to protect a child from tuberculosis, five cents provides penicillin to cure a child from crippling tropical diseases, ten cents provides fifty glasses of milk which is vital for growth. Those who donated on Halloween will be happy to feel that they have played a small part in this fine world effort to raise standards of living in lands not so fortunate as ours.

THE TRUCKS THAT RIDE SMOOTHER, WORK HARDER, LAST LONGER!

Just a year ago, Chevy came up with a torsion bar independent front suspension and has already put some 300,000 Chevrolet trucks with it out on jobs. The ride that results from Chevy's suspension design is making life a lot easier for drivers. (Just ask them!) It's taking better care of loads, the fragile kind that used to cost somebody money if they were bounced around. Chevy's ride also enables truck owners to revise their buying habits and work their trucks longer before they trade. This follows naturally. The trucks take less of a beating. There's less stress on sheet metal. Less abuse to tires. Less pounding to wear out parts before their time. The upshot of it is you either save money or earn more of it, or both. And you couldn't ask a truck to do more than that. See your dealer.

ORDINARY I-BEAM FRONT AXLE. All trucks had it at one time. A stiff beam design that transmits road shock and vibration from one wheel to the other and up to the chassis, cab and the load.
CHEVY'S INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION. Each wheel flexes independently, keeps the truck and the load level with the road; minimizes tire abuse as well as stress and strain on chassis and cab.
