

Esquering Nominations

Mr. Sinclair went on to tell of some of the construction projects undertaken by the County. He mentioned the Drum quinn bridge and creek diversion, and the road widening at Aldershot. The part played by the County in the new highway 407, which will run between Hamilton and Toronto was also briefly touched upon.

He ended his remarks on County business by saying the Centennial Manor was at long last nearly completed, although 1 1/2 years behind schedule. Returning to matters in Esquering, he explained the proposed regulations regarding residential buildings are intended to slow down residential growth in order to let the School Boards catch up with the population growth. The $200 per separation cost, he felt, would help with capital expenditure.

Acclamation for Bird
"This is there for sure any way," quipped Deputy Reeve Bird, looking at the nomination board, "we don't have to say much."

Mr. Bird explained his position on the various County Council Committees. As a member of the Building Committee, he told of the cramped conditions in the present Milton Court House, and of the long search before the acquisition of the site for the new building. The site chosen is a ten acre one on the Base Line just north of Milton.

"I guess I had a part in starting the idea of a County Museum," the deputy reeve admitted, "and I'm glad to say it is catching on."

He advocated one large attempt to attract visitors.

Roads Cost Money
Councillor Walter Linham, who seeking re-election felt his expenditures were a large part of the cost of running the municipality. He pointed out the work done on the roads travelled by the school buses to ensure the children's safety. The new grader cost $19,000, the old grader, he explained, the long talk and no action in a new Esquering Township was simply an attempt to hold the tax line, he added.

"Esquering is free of debt—no debt, except for school buildings," he concluded.

Township Roads Top
"Our township roads are comparable to any in adjacent townships," claimed Councillor George Leslie, "and no other municipality has better equipment to work with."

"He felt the higher mill rate in the Acton High School area should be thoroughly investigated and promised to do this, if re-elected."

Candidate Again
Councillor Wilfrid Leslie said he had enjoyed his first year in council, and thanked the other members for their help.

"I came into council because I thought taxes were too high, but after seeing all the bills to be paid, I'm not at all surprised," he said.

25 Years Service
George Currie, candidate for the reeve's chair felt that after 25 years service in municipal affairs he needed no introduction.

"I'm pleased to know the Manor will be completed shortly," he joked. "I thought it wouldn't be done in time for me to get in."

He concluded by saying he would do the best for the township, as he had in the past.

Seeks Office
Walter Pope, candidate for Council stated that the 1960 council had demonstrated their ability to do an efficient business-like job without seriously increasing taxes, consequently he could not find fault. He offered to continue the present course, using his training and ability.

Another candidate, Jonathan Wingrove, declined to speak.

Urges Legislators to Eliminate Crossings
14 Union Street
Nov. 28, 1960

Sir: The tragic report of another schoolbus-train accident brings to mind the Hillsburg school bus disaster. The loss of life is irreplaceable. The injured sometimes are disfigured for life.

Many of the accidents could have been prevented by the elimination of the level crossings concerned.

It would seem reasonable to expect the good men who represent this county at Toronto and Ottawa to press for acceleration of the present plan to eliminate level crossings at least in this county.

The rapid increase in the number of school children being transported in this county should influence County Council to seriously consider this hazard.

The cost of this program could hardly be classed as extravagant in view of the large outlay we notice on experimental defense missiles.

Yours truly,
E. Forgrave

At any rate the election for 1961 officers will be held this Sunday at 2 p.m. And let's hope that there will be a good crowd on hand for this.

Other years when we have had a little more time, we have always had a summary of the year in our column, but this year we can't do this.

However we would like to say that in our humble opinion, it has been a good year and considerable progress was made. When two men are in office at the head of a group as long as Harvey Garvin and the writer were, there are bound to be certain complaints about stagnation of officers coming up to take over the job, etc., and quite justifiably so. Particularly when two men have held the office for ten years.

This year we think was very good, and saw a fresh view of things, and a fresh approach. We think all officers are to be thanked for their efforts on behalf of the branch.

To Dave Capparaud an extra word should be added. He worked as hard as any man we have known and particularly deserves credit for his attempt to raise funds for the hospital objective. Along with his helpers, he did a terrific job. We think particularly so in this first year in the president's chair in the Legion.

To everyone running for office, we say "go to it." There is nothing we like better than an election with every office contested. That's a very healthy sign for any group. Get out and vote Sunday.

We congratulate Lt. Gen. Graham on his appointment to head the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Just another facet in an amazing career.

Federation Elects Davenport Chairman

The annual meeting of Esquering Federation of Agriculture was held in Stewarttown Hall, Thursday evening, November 24.

The highlight of the evening was an illustrated talk by Dr. John Brown. He was a member of a party who had gone overseas to study marketing situations and endeavour to stimulate trade between the United Kingdom and Canada. It was interesting to see the different methods of packaging, displaying and selling fruits and vegetables.

At Francis, agricultural representative of Halton explained some of the department's plans for 1961. Vocal solos by Audrey Brown and John Wilson were much appreciated.

Officers elected for 1961 were chairman, Ed Davenport, vice chairman, Chester Early, secretary, Mrs. M. J. Brown, auditor, Frank Wilson.

CLUB MIDTOWN

By Steve Like Wow!
Well how's everything? Don't be discouraged if you were at our "Ball" on Friday night, it isn't usually that dead. For example, the Donalows will be up this week. Let's hope they're as good as before (July 1959?).

There will be a dance on the ninth, just in case you heard otherwise. Along with the Dyna tones from Oakville, this week will be announcements of future dance bands and plans for special holiday dances in December to great month's end.

This "Wonderland by Night" should be number 1 next week so... like it! It's good music.

Next week that Red headed character will tell you what you already know about the Dyna tones, with a special interview, Lake Aurevoir!

Tell some people you can't get along without them and before long you can't get along without them.

Profitable Production Theme of Crop Annual

By J. A. F.

Johnston Neelands, president of the Halton Soil & Crop Improvement Association, has announced that Profitable Crop Production in Halton will be the theme of the 1961 annual meeting, scheduled for early January.

The programme will feature a new type of panel. Five specialists in all phases of crop production will face a panel of ten Halton farmers in discussion cropping programmes. Directions of the discussion will be led by J. A. Francis, Agricultural Representative for Halton County.

Plans for the annual meeting of the Association were made at a directors' meeting held in the Extension Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Milton on Monday, November 21st. During the meeting, a progress report and summary of the crop projects conducted by the Association was presented. In cooperation with the Soil and Crop associations in Wentworth and Peel counties, a special report is being prepared on Soils and Crop Demonstrations held in the three counties. This report will be presented, and released for distribution at the annual meeting.
