

LLOYD AND LLOMAR-LEE

LLOMAR-LEE, a yearling stallion foaled by Lloyd D. (Georgetown), was a big winner at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. He is a Chestnut, the Lloamar-Lee's coat awarded to the breeders of the Lloamar-Lee line at the above named fair. Lloyd bred yearlings, progeny of stallions at yearling, foal and colt sales.

New York managed to stay on top in the NHL Saturday. Detroit, Chubby Lewellen, Mouse Nyall and Terry Hancock being the marksmen for New York while L. Stief, Dave Howard and the Mouse again picked up two assists.

Garry Briggs must have had an extra bowl of porridge Saturday as he was moving like a house on fire and picked up all three for Detroit on assists by Keith Hall (2) and Barry Smith.

Montreal finally came through with their first win of the season over the fast stepping Chicago. Goals by D. Johnson from L. Marlett and M. J. Hayner while J. Goringham had a solid effort. Larry Harlowe kept the cage of the score sheet.

Toronto and Boston battled to another 1-1 tie. Jim Engle from Montreal and Richardson for Toronto. Doug MacLean from St. Louis for Boston.

In the Jr. A action Jim Brown's fourth ranked up another win over B. Hooper's Luckless Kats. D. Garthouse and R. Hill being the marksmen in this one while R. Blackwell scored an extra shot.

The Hawks won a full combo game through with a strong 4-0 win over the newly formed Hamilton. Nash scoring twice while Chas. Behm tallied once on assists from D. Long and M. Mayall.

Teles routed the other new one Ottawa to a 4-1 lock-up. D. Whitehead picked up 3. H. Williams 1, while J. Chesterton, J. Eganell, B. Lewis and R. Miller picked up assists.

Wash picked up the single for the hosts.

Dennis Stef from G. Laird gave Jim Blair's Pitts another win in the final game of the morning. The well fought team is showing the extra effort of coach and manager.

Thanks to the good turnout of parents Saturday morning and to the lady who had to leave because wash room facilities were locked, we apologize.

This situation has lost us a few spectators. Parents this season so far and we hope Arena Management will cooperate and rectify this situation in the very near future.

A few pair of rubber boots are mysteriously walking away this year. Now boys you know whether your boots are new or old, some have their names inside them. These boots that were left behind on Saturday have names in, now you fellows must have gone home with the wrong boots, so let's see them back next week so we don't have to press the issue further.

Coach Lee Sparks Team To Fourth Straight Win

Win 7-5 Overtime
Tilt With Oaks

The most concrete argument a hockey coach can produce to support his methods is a glowing record.

That's what Hader coach Elmer Lee has.

And that's probably why Georgetown hockey fans have expressed no more surprise than the occasional raised eyebrow when coach Lee leads a forward line which includes two regular defencemen or throws a pair of indifferent checkers over the boards to kill off a penalty.

What ever combination he comes up with invariably succeeds.

The secret? Probably Elmer Lee himself.

A fiery type coach with short fuse temper, Lee has the ability to instill in his players the desire to extend themselves a rare quality.

That extra desire can make the difference between a win and a loss.

It did last Wednesday night in Oakville when the Hader lineup looked shaky with the absence of Blake Inglis, Doug Richardson and Jamie Cunningham. But despite their weakened condition the Georgetown club outskated and outplayed their southern brothers and at the end of a ten minute overtime, emerged with 7 to 5 win, their 4th straight.

Lee's incessant chatter paced his team out of a hot hole early in the game when Oakville scored three times and led 3-0 before the first period was half over. It was 3-2 at the end of the frame and Hader even overtook the Oaks to lead 4-3 at one point but his rendered the margin and after two periods trailed 5-4.

Georgetown scored the only third period goal. The winner and the insurance goal were both in the Oakville net before the three minute mark of the ten minute overtime.

Bob Bishop from Hader at the 51 second mark, Ford from R. Steven at 1:43 and Dawson from Hader at 1:59 beat Rhodes before the tide started to turn. Bob Demers broke

ELMER LEE

The Haders into the scoring from lower Dan and Tatum Beaumont at 16:37 and Joe Auger scored on a pass from Bill Clark at 19:04 to chop the lead to a single goal.

Wesley Thompson triggered the comeback after taking a pass from Demers at 5:50 of the middle period but it wasn't until the 14:16 mark that Dave Irons put Georgetown ahead. Goals by Inglis and Demers followed the assists.

Goals by Dawson from Dryden at 15:27 and Baker from Dawson at 17:45 changed the picture in a hurry. Irons, who was packed by the Oakville Record-Star as the game's star, scored his second at 6:25 of the third from Demers, an important one which forced the extra period.

The hero's role was played by Junior Beaumont who banged in a goal mouth pass from Tom Dixon at 1:39 of the overtime and it was on an almost identical play that Auger scored it up about a minute later.

This time with Thompson making the play. Alert forwardcheck the frustrated Oakvillers, at 3:15 of the overtime, shot an almost identical play that Auger scored it up about a minute later.

Georgetown scored the only third period goal. The winner and the insurance goal were both in the Oakville net before the three minute mark of the ten minute overtime.

Bob Bishop from Hader at the 51 second mark, Ford from R. Steven at 1:43 and Dawson from Hader at 1:59 beat Rhodes before the tide started to turn. Bob Demers broke

The explosion came late in the third period when Inglis checked Bishop from behind in the Hader end of the ice. R. B. retained by wounding his stick blade and reduced it to toothpicks over in his own up raised stick and shoulder.

SHORT SHOTS - Oakville's season for dropping from 8-1 to 4-5 after taking a competitive loss Wednesday night. The number of home fans at the game would just about pay the scrapers' wages.

Bud Corbett has replaced former NHL'er Gay Stewart as Oak coach.

SPORTSMEN OUTDOORS

By Fred Darby

Unless you are a diehard fisherman you can oil your reels, wipe off your rods, and park them away until next spring. But if you are a diehard fisherman there are still a few fish in season in the Northern and North-western parts of Ontario. Bass, Pike, Pickerel and Muskogone are a few that are still in season around the St. Clair river, and lake and the Niagara River in certain areas.

Pike (Great Northern or Grass Pike) have no closed season when taken by angling in most areas, but you should check your fishing regulations for the area you intend to fish.

Now that you may be thinking about your first ice fishing trip, you should again check your fishing regulations, referring to the area and time of your trip as Lake trout and Whitefish seasons are closed from two to four weeks in some areas.

Since yours truly began to write this column some three months ago I have received quite a number of hints from local sportsmen that might improve your hunting or fishing. To these sportsmen I would like to say "Thank you very much." And if anyone else has any news, hints, or recipes or something you think might improve or make more interesting this column, I would like to hear from you, by writing to 'Sportsmen Outdoors,' 40 Baylawn Cres., Georgetown, The Georgetown Herald, or phone TR. 7-4857.

Here are some of these hints I have received:

Small-Proof Nets: Freshwater landing nets, as well as salt-water, acquire an unpleasant odour after a few fishing trips. To avoid this as well as help preserve your net, get a pressure can of waterproofing liquid and spray your nets well before each trip.

One way to stop a fish . . . A fish cannot feel a hook; he runs to escape the restraint of the rod. When one is too heavy for your line, you can usually stop him before he empties your reel by letting him run with no drag. Then catch up to him and repeat until he's "run out." This must be done with great care, as the instant the line is tight, your fish will no doubt begin to run again, also keep your rod tip high.

Pitch Catches: In the woods you often see rotted stumps of long dead pines. Kick one apart and you'll find a cache of pitch—a sure campfire starter.

Spincasting light lures—Have you ever tried casting a fly or light lure with a spinning rod and found when you use a split shot it causes the light bait to lag behind, and foul the line? If you use two split-shot a foot apart it will prevent this.

George Hoare, Don Hancock, Art Scott, Eugene Logan, Don Schenk, Bobby Heaton, Bud Vary, Elwood Carney, Roy Wiggins, all took part in a recent deer hunting trip in the Huntville area, hunting was good as was the shooting eye of six out of the nine hunters. The party's reward for their weeks of patience was two spike horns, one large buck, and three does.
