Local Teams Excel Against U.S. Rivals

Mix-ups and mismatches marred Young Buffalo Night in Georgetown.

The tournament billed as a series of exhibitions between local minor hockey teams and teams of comparable strength from Rochester, West Hill and Buffalo fell short of its mark when the local youngsters ran roughshod over all competition and turned it into a rout.

Probably the most surprised people were the local hockey people who did everything they could to prepare the stage for top flight competitive hockey. And they were probably also the most disappointed.

During the afternoon Georgetown Juveniles humbled the Rochester N.Y. team 8 to 0 and the local Minors did the same to the visiting West Hill in a match that was painfully lopsided.

At night it was the same story, but with a twist. Buffalo turned out a Le Fort Kize with only a few players from the N.Y. side on the bench. The Minors crushed their competition 15 to 0. The PeeWees like wise had little trouble with their opponents and the Ham team game was only slightly improved as the Fort Erie Ham team fought admirably despite the fact that they and all the other Fort Erie teams were only regular Saturday morning teams up against allstars.

The mix-up was in the promoting. Fort Erie (or Buffalo) believed they would be playing regular league teams while the local execs expected allstars. Understandably since most in the league are played by each team's best.

The visiting youngsters however, looked every bit in the same league at the buffet punch, supplied by the local mothers and served by the All Star Minor Hockey Support Group W.A. after the tourney.

Weber Drive Residents Injured in Accident
Two Weber Drive residents received injuries which sent them to hospital in a two-car collision on the east Noval Hill Friday afternoon.

Allred Mitchell, 45 Weber Drive, the driver was treated for a lacerated leg and facial lacerations and was able to return home from hospital in time to spend Christmas day with his family. Still in hospital is his brother-in-law William Treash, 40 Weber Drive, who received fractured ribs and facial lacerations.

Returning from work at Canadian Koebel, Toronto, their car was in collision with another. Driver of the other car was not seriously hurt. Both cars were badly wrecked in the accident.

Lions Entertain Children

Children of members of the Lions Club were entertained by their fathers at a Christmas party in the Grand Square Rooms on December 18th.

The party was arranged by Lou Henry Helfant and featured entertainment by Chico the Clown, a singing led by Sandra Sparrow with Mrs. Harold McClure at the piano and the traditional visit of Santa. Each child received a gift and chocolate and sandwiches were also served.

Baptist Choir Presents Cantata

Beginning Christmas week the choir of First Baptist Church presented a Candlelight Service, a cantata by Harold Littell entitled "White Star" by Walter Whitehead.

The professional H. Camm took the Midnight Clear lyrics the service. An alto solo was sung by Mrs. Don Livingston and an alto and soprano duet by Mrs. Roy Buttrey and Mrs. John Stupper. Doug Peck, Graham Porter, Watson Wild and Doug Cole comprised the male quartet. Also in the service was a base solo by Doug Cole and a soprano and tenor duet by Joyce Farley and Doug Peck.

The anthems were "Peace on Earth by Simpson and The First Noel by Atkins, which included a part for mixed quartet which was taken by Mrs. Stupper, Mrs. Buttrey, Doug Peck and Doug Cole. The choir director was Doug Peck and Bill Braam was the organist.
