

Sugar and Spice

Dispersed by BILL SMILEY

Well, here we go into another twelve months of that fascinating, irritating, horrible, beautiful, tragic and joyous process known as living. I've seen forty of these boxes of tricks and treats opened, and I hope I see forty more. And the same to you.

I don't remember much about my first New Year's in 1921. It was spent in a small village in Quebec. I was staying with my parents at the time. The Great War had been over for more than two years. The post-war boom was still on, and my Dad had bought his first car, a Chev. with side curtains. He treated that car, and every one after it, like a particularly intractable horse, which would respond only if you yelled at it with enough force to startle it with enough feeling.

Ten years later, we stepped into 1931 with the sentiments of a man about to jump into a barrel of broken glass in his bare feet. The Great Depression had begun. Business was terrible. The mortgage provided, like a great beast, always there, slaving when my Dad looked over his shoulder. My parents held long, late-at-night conversations, and to the small boy, lying half-awake, uneasy, they had sinister undertones.

The hunger of the beast would not be denied, and in the end, the mortgage swallowed everything for which my dad had worked so hard for more than twenty years. What a prospect that must have been! Fifty years old, two children to feed and clothe, home and business lost, and thousands of younger men scrambling for every job in sight.

But the Great Depression had failed to reckon with my mother. She was a bonny fighter, with a tough and cheerful spirit. In the next decade she took on the Great Depression and licked it single-handed. My dad worked at anything he could get. My mother sold home baking, took in boarders, and in the afternoons, trudged the streets, selling a line of cosmetics to her friends. Somehow, we staggered through the depression, kept off the relief rolls, and never missed a meal.

Remember New Year's of 1941? That wasn't exactly an occasion of great rejoicing,

High School Spielers Show Promise in Match

A local rink of High School curlers showed promise and made serious bids to upset their more experienced opponents in a high school bon-pet held in Dixie Friday.

The foursome, which included Sharon Sayers, lead, Bob Bingham, second, Gail Malcolm, vice skip, and Don Curry, skip, lost to their hosts 10-6 in the first game and lost to Weston by an even closer margin, so close in fact that a measure of merit had to be made to see if the Georgetown rink had gained a tie. In a third game, also against Dixie, the GHS rink did tie but in an extra end play-off lost 8 to 5.

Still in their initial season, the GHS rink played against overwhelming odds considering that the two rinks they met had been at the game for up to four years.

Plane Crash Victim Once Herald Employee
A Scarborough man who was killed in a plane crash on December 31st, may be remembered by a few people in town where he was a resident for a few months in 1939.

Donald George Taylor, 50, was employed a sa linotypist at the Herald office at that time, coming here from Branford. He boarded at the home of the late Misses Young on Main St.

A student pilot, he was on a training flight on Saturday when his plane crashed at Goodwood. Daily paper reports said it is believed that he may have suffered a heart attack.

He leaves his wife, Bernice Lewis, four children, Mrs. Clarence Lawson, Mrs. Edward Scott Edward and Brenda, and his father, George Joseph Taylor of Branford.

Funeral service took place on Tuesday in the chapel of St. James the Less in the city.

Local Man Departs For Far East Cruise

An unrealised dream of most of us is being realised by Lt. Col. G. O. Brown.

He left Toronto Sunday night for Vancouver from there he goes to Seattle where he boards a cargo ship to cross the Pacific. From Yokohama, Japan, their first stopover, the ship goes to Korea, Okanawa, Manila, the Philippines, then back up the coast to Hong Kong and back to Japan.

He expects to return about the 15th of March, however, if the idea of March hode no good weather in the east, a fact he will phone to ascertain, he plans to stay in Victoria or Vancouver a little longer.

A coincidence again pointing out "it's a small world" occurred on boarding the train, he discovered his seat mate was the widow of a former Acton high school teacher Mr. A. Ringler.

Brampton Dentist Was Veteran of First War

A dentist in Brampton for 39 years, Dr. T. Albert Robinson, 64, died at Peel Memorial Hospital on December 24th, following a brief illness. He was a brother of Charles Robinson, 32 Main St. S.

Dr. Robinson served overseas with the dental corps during World War I and during his school days at Brampton High School was a star baseball player with the Peel County team.

Born at Coldwater, he moved as a child to Brampton district, where his father farmed near Heart Lake. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson.

He received his public schooling at a country school on No. 15 Sideroad, and attended dental college in Toronto after graduation from high school.

He was a member of the board of managers of Grace United Church, belonged to Brampton Golf Club and was also interested in curling.

He leaves his wife, Miriam Blain, one son, Robert Blain Robinson, a lawyer in Toronto; a sister Mrs. W. G. James and brother Charles of Georgetown.

Funeral service took place at the David A. McClure funeral home, Brampton, on December 27th, conducted by Rev. B. F. Ennals. Pallbearers were all professional friends, Dr. H. R. Bateman, Dr. C. Laidley, Dr. A. W. Mackay, Dr. R. T. Broad, Dr. F. D. McClure and Dr. Lawson Mackie. Interment was in Brampton Cemetery.

Driver education courses for students at Oakville, Trafalgar and Thomas A. Blake high schools will be started after the Christmas holidays. The classes will be on an extra curricular basis.

Thomas Emerson Peart Retired CNR Engineer

A retired Canadian National Railways engineer, Thomas Emerson Peart, 85, died at his home, 166 Grenadier Road, Toronto, on December 28th. He was the father of Mrs. Robert Barber, 50 Market St.

Mr. Peart was born at York, near Caledonia and had lived in Toronto since he joined the railway. He retired twenty years ago after over forty years as an engineer.

He leaves his wife, Emma Lee; five children, Gordon Lee Peart, Islington, Thomas Bertram Peart, Mount Royal, Quebec; Mrs. Jack Hill (Vera) of Detroit; Mrs. B. Vall (Eileen) of Darien, Connecticut and Mrs. Robert Barber (Doris) of Georgetown; twelve grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

He also leaves brothers Bert and Oscar of York, Mungo of Toronto and a sister Mrs. C. LaRue, Toronto.

Funeral service took place on Saturday at the Turner & Porter Funeral Chapel with interment following in Park Lawn Cemetery.

Piano Teacher Holds Party for Her Class

The Monday class of Music Pupils were entertained by their teacher, Dorothy Richardson Scull in her home on Dec. 19th. A short recital preceded the festivities, on which the following pupils performed — Gordon Dawe, Wendy Wood, Linda and Raymond Gilmore, Marilyn Johnson, Anne Short, Ill. Louise Snow and June Given. Duets by Carolyn McEnery and Kathryn Simons, Bonnie Beer and Mrs. Scull, with a final number by Glen Marshall.

After the games had been played, the prizes won, the gifts distributed and lunch consumed, parents arrived to escort the party goes home. Mrs. Scull was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, including a "cyclamen plant."

Dr. J. H. Dampier, along with his daughter, Mrs. Fontaine and children, Buddy and Felicia from Johnson City, Tennessee, visited with his mother, Mrs. Dampier over the holiday at the home of his sister Mrs. Jesse McEnery. They had a family gathering on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLean spent New Years with relatives in Hamilton.

Mrs. M. Lawr from Victoria Harbour visited over the holiday with her family in Georgetown and Ballinafad.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Bliton and family from Beowood were guests of the Smith family for New Year's Day.

Dr. and Mrs. Don Willits and family from Mount Albert were Sunday visitors with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Willits.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Eric Barnes has been seriously ill in a Toronto hospital since before Christmas and we wish him a speedy recovery.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Larkman on the sudden death of her husband, just two days after they had spent Christmas with their family in Toronto.

Funeral service was conducted by Mr. C. Beaton from the Ruzley - Schoemaker Funeral home in Acton on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Smellie visited over the weekend with her

Holstein Breeders to Hear Panel Discussion

J. H. Taylor, Burlington, president of the Halton Holstein Breeders' Club, has announced plans for the 1961 Annual Meeting. Plans for the meeting were made at an executive meeting held at the home of the President, on Tuesday evening, December 27th.

The Holstein annual meeting scheduled for Thursday, January 12th, at Palermo, will feature a panel discussion. The subject of the discussion will be "Artificial Insemination versus Own Herd Sire."

Panel members will include Dr. C. R. Reeves, Manager of the Central Ontario Cattle Breeding Association; Roy Snyder, Manager of the Waterloo Cattle Breeding Association; G. R. Row and J. M. Fraser, well known Holstein breeders. The panel moderator will be Wm. Towell, past-president of the Halton Holstein Breeders' Club.

One of the activities presently planned by the Halton Holstein Club is participation in the recognition day luncheon, honoring Geo. F. Drennan, on Wednesday, January 25th. On this occasion Halton Holstein Breeders will join ten other counties in paying tribute to retiring Holstein Fieldman Geo. Drennan.
